Maple Shade High School opened its doors on September 11, 1972, after eight years of planning and anticipation.

Prior to 1972, students were transported to and from neighboring high schools such as Moorestown and Merchantville. This was extremely costly as well as unnecessary since Maple Shade had a population large enough to support its own high school. Fortunately, the idea became a reality as the result of dedication and cooperation among all the facets of the populace of Maple Shade.

Twelve teachers have been here since the school's opening. They are Mr. Bianco, Mr. Bussard, Mr. DiMarzio, Mr. Douglass, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Gerson, Mr. Harkins, Mr. Ninerell, Mrs. Pdan, Mr. Riesman, and Mrs. Stern. The dedication of these teachers, of the many others who have come to Maple Shade over the years make a truly great institution to attend.

The Final year for Seniors meant much excitement, especially when it came to the homecoming Pep Rally. Once again the Yearbook is dedicated to them and all of their cherished memories.

There are many factors that contribute to a smooth-running, well-executed school. Because these years are so important in shaping the students' lives, caring, understanding people are involved in its maintenance. From the secretaries to the janitors to the administrators and teachers, and back to the students, a healthy, happy environment is created. Out of the efforts of many comes one-one terrific school.

SUMMER FUN

Waxing down his surfboard, John Murtaugh gets ready to hit the waves. Surfing is an exciting pastime during the summer.

Strolling down Main Street, Mike Gangloff and Amy White absorb the sights of the sidewalk sale. Many Shaders attended the sidewalk sale this summer.

The summer of '85 has come and gone. For the Seniors it was their last summer as high school students. For the freshmen it was one of many to come. However, it was a memorable one for all.

The majority of the students spent their summer down the shore soaking up the sun and taking in the views. Places such as Ocean City and Wildwood drew the largest crowds while others sought fun at one of the many other beaches in New Jersey.

While these Shaders were having fun, others found themselves working. For them, the summer was not quite as exciting, but everyone found plenty of things to do.

The return of Bruce Springsteen was a highlight for many. His last concerts in Pennsylvania and New Jersey drew in hundreds of thousands of people, and the Shaders were among those who went to see the Boss for one more time.

For some, the summer was a time to sit back, relax, and forget about school. For others, it was time to make some money. But for all, it was a summer that they will always remember.

Gazing out at the ocean, Marc Pasciullo and Laurie Paulus relax at the shore. Shaders spend as much spare time as they can at the shore.

Always crowded, the Cherry Hill Mall is a favorite hangout over the summer.

Not wishing to be forgotten, Rich Moffa and Chris McConville sign yearbooks for their friends. For some, getting yearbooks marks the beginning of summer vacation.

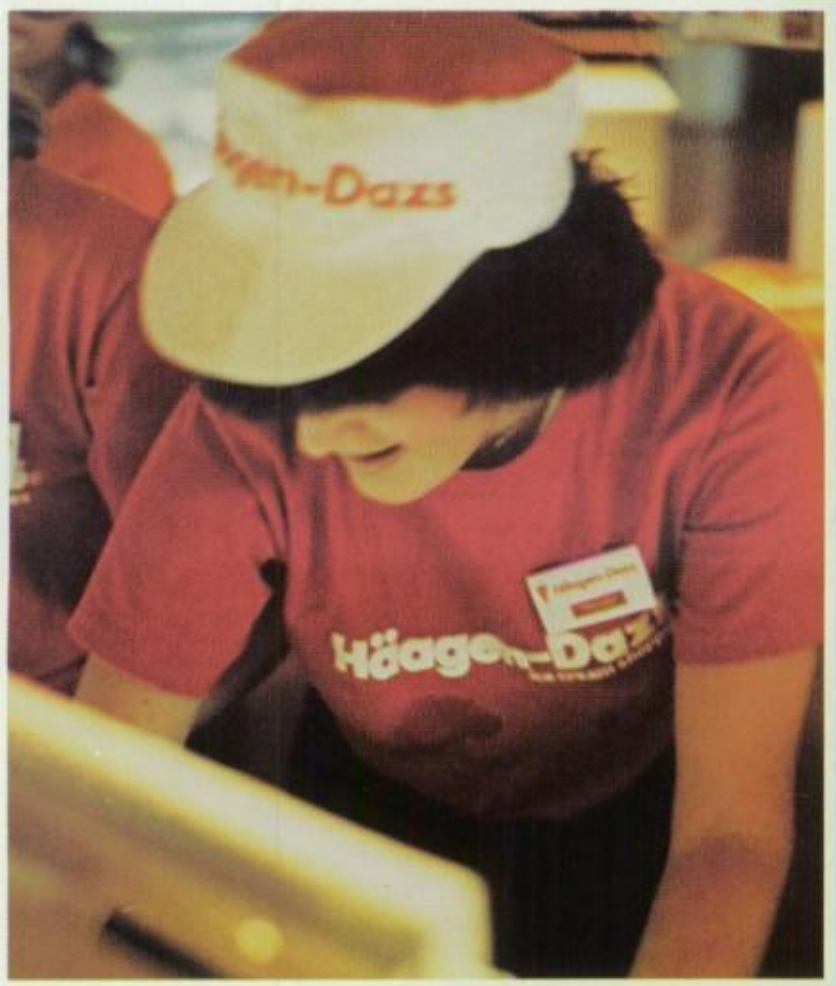

NEW BEGINNINGS

Trying to get back in the groove, Marc Pasciullo and Meri Nester work in the library. Lots of kids spend their studyhalls in the library.

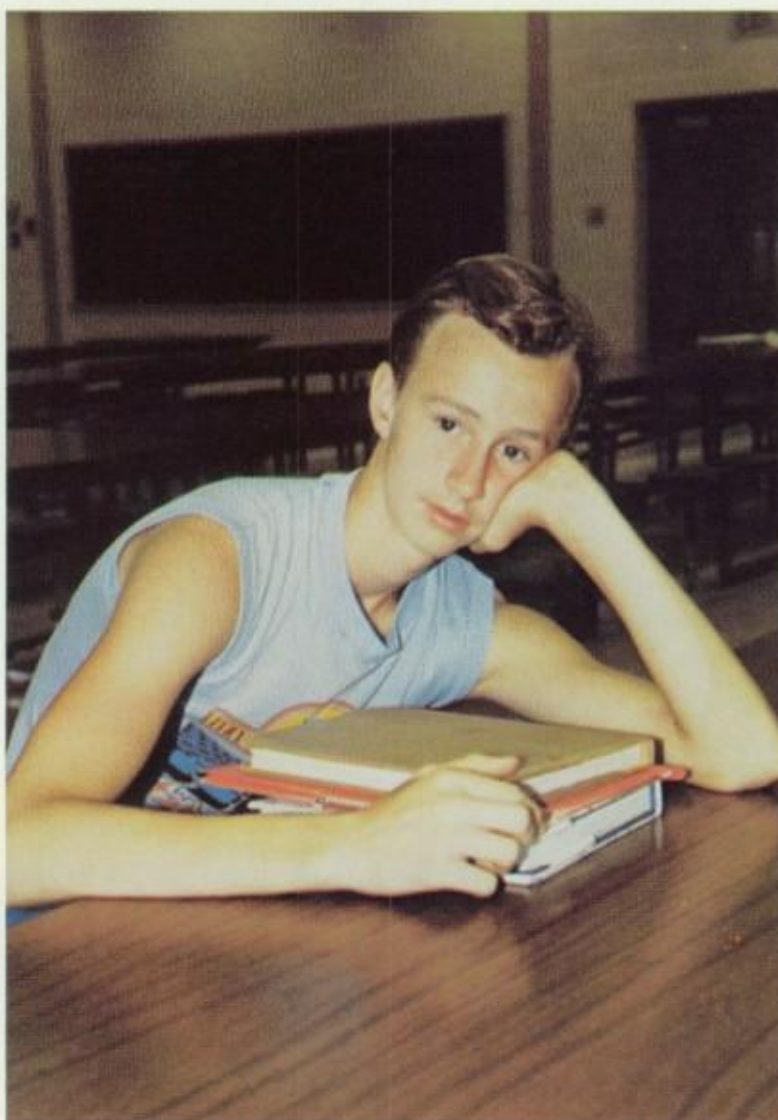

Scooping ice cream, Tracey Johnson shows she enjoys her work. Haagen-Dazs has employed many MSHS students.

Growing Up

Did you ever notice that towards the end of another school year everybody thinks back to the best times they had that year? Everyone remembers the first day, with the freshmen running frantically around their new territory desperately trying to find their classes. And of course last year's freshmen who are this year's sophomores that can only look at the new freshmen and wonder, were we that way? Did we look as confused as they do? But let's not forget the juniors and seniors that can only shake their heads and laugh to themselves and remember how they felt when they were in the other shoes. All this is a part of growing older. More and more experiences help us grow and to learn. Just a few years ago we were the freshmen or sophomores and even juniors. This last year Seniors will now go on out to the working world, or they might even become a freshman again. Now another school year is finished, and for most of us, another one is coming fast. As we look back and see how we grew, we can't help but to think, what's in the future for us, only time can tell, but one thing for sure, we will still probably be growing, because that's one thing we will never stop doing!

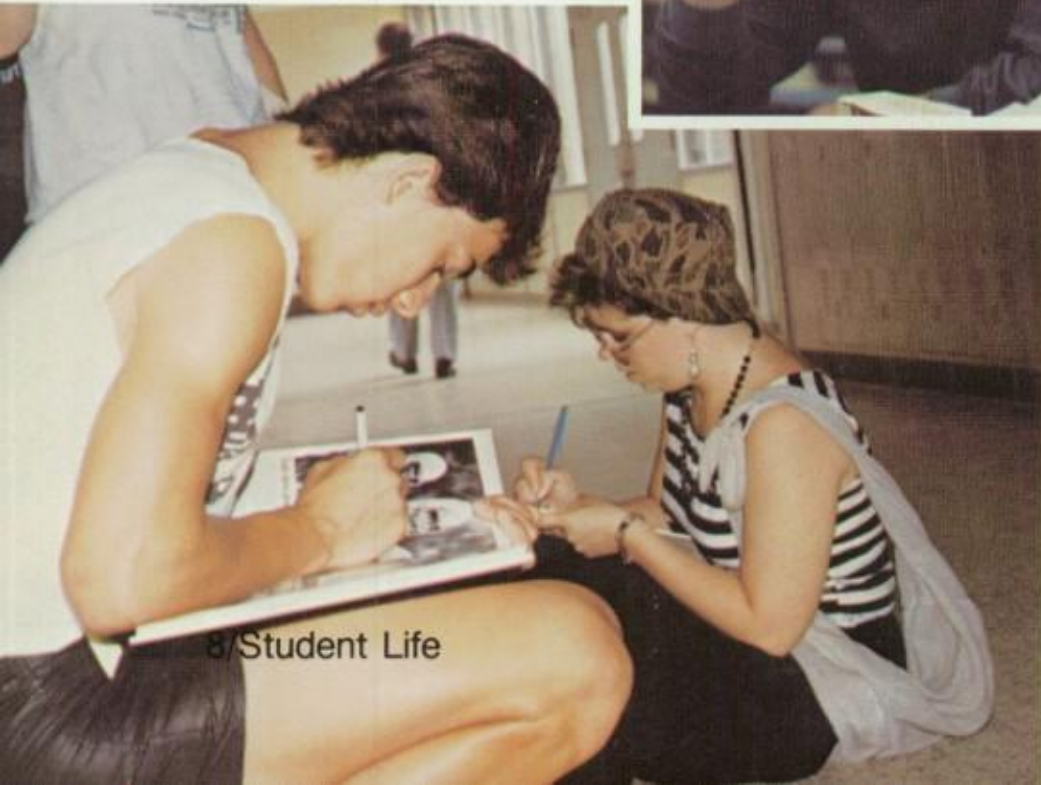

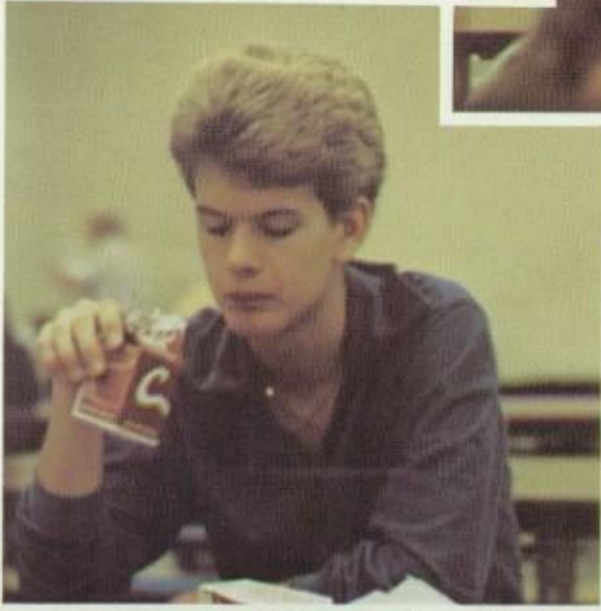

After the opening of the Food Court in the Cherry Hill Mall, many students found employment close to home.

Hopelessly trying to move a safe from Joe Walter's lawn, Mark Olesky, Rich Moffa, Pat Delany, and, of course, Joe, show their muscles.

Providing service with a smile, Eileen Giannini serves a customer.

Tired after a long morning, Steve Wilson relaxes during study hall.

OUT OF MARCH

Student Life Divider

The pulse of the student body comes from what the students take interest in and enjoy. Student life is shaped by jobs, homecoming excitement, attendance at athletic events and other school functions, and just basically "hanging-out." The lives of the Maple Shade High School students outside of school are interesting and varied. Out of many different backgrounds and interests comes one — one spirited student body.

ONE

A Different Year

Spirit Week once again rolled around. This year it was much different; Spirit week was split up because of Teacher's Convention. Spirit Week started on a Thursday and ended on Wednesday.

Among the spirit days there were some new and some old. The first two days were new — Color Day and Gonzo Friday. For color day each class had a different color, and each student was to wear as much of this class color as possible.

"Color day was the best because it showed the class spirit clearly," said Kelly Oliver.

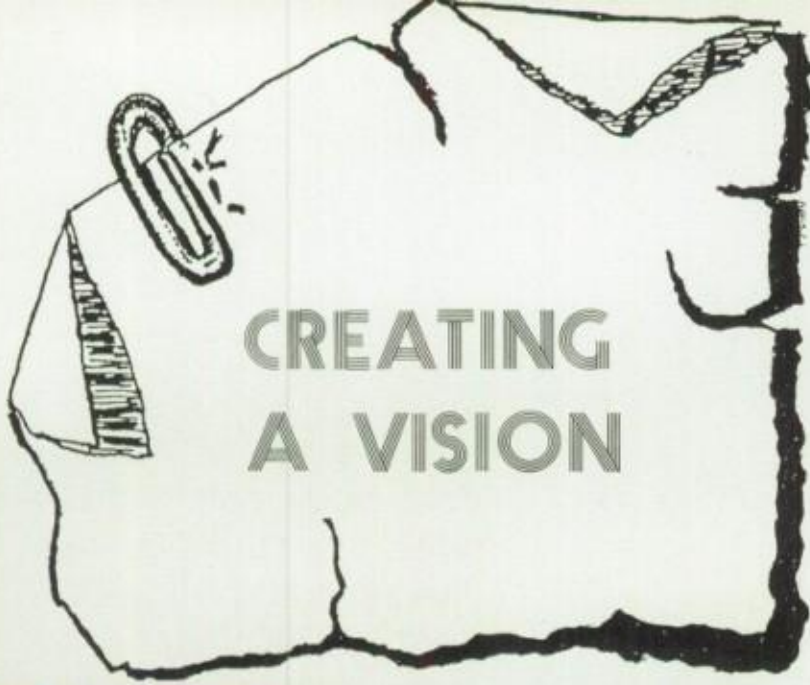

"Gonzo Friday was especially fun because all the summery outfits and colors brought back all the memories. Also, there was a lot of spirit, enthusiasm, and a bright feeling throughout the school," said Kristen Lind.

Spirit Week was interrupted by the weekend, but there still was excitement around because of the chance of earning extra points for your class by attending the dance. This year's theme was a Halloween Costume dance, and if you dressed up, an additional point was issued. There also were many contests to create more competition between the classes.

The next two days were oldies, but goodies: sunglasses and rock T-shirt day. The last and traditional day followed — Blue and Gold Day.

Among all the spirit days, there were also hall decorations and many lunchtime activities. This year's lunchtime activities consisted of the balloon break — where 4 students from each class hopped around trying to break each other's balloon, the orange relay — where each class passed an orange under the neck down the line, the baby bottle drinking contest, the jello eating contest, and everyday there was a collection for the Student Council State Charity, Epilepsy.

All the efforts exerted would soon come to a climax with the pep rally finding out which class had the most spirit.

Counting down the new year, the sophomores' hallway display its theme.

Bright and colorful, the theme of Christmas is represented. Christmas balls with teachers' names were placed on the Christmas tree.

Hopping down the bunny trail, the juniors designed the school store's display window.

While one person tapes, another person holds the paper. Cooperation is shown here by Meri Nester.

To welcome students to the sophomore hall, a decoration is placed over the entrance. The sophomores' holiday was New Year's Eve.

Working diligently to put their halls up in time, Gary Graves and Greg Rehyer tape a poster.

Reaching above the lockers, Cheryl Cornett fastens a poster. All of their hard work paid off when the seniors won the halls.

A terrific hall takes a lot of hard work and a personal touch. The Twelve Days of Christmas was a great asset to the Senior Hallway.

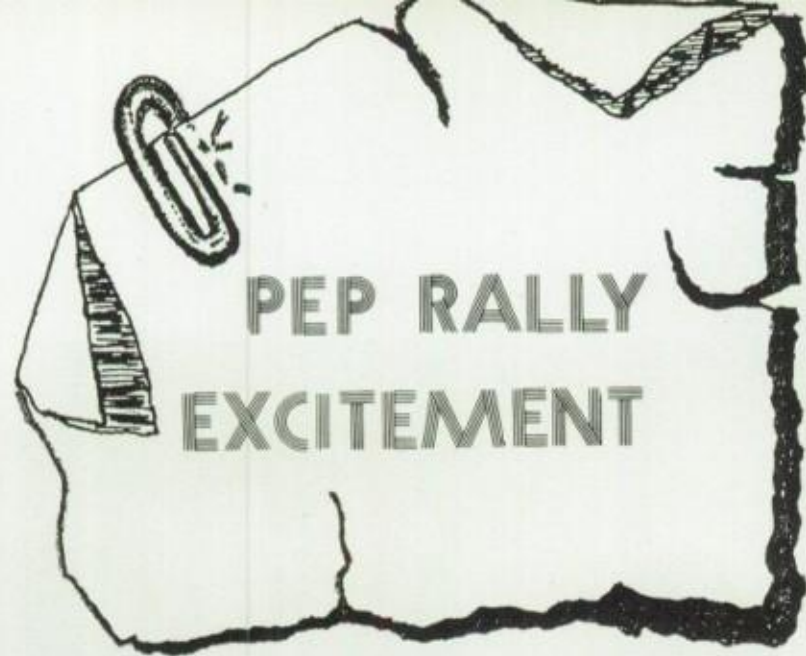

A little glitter is sometimes needed to attract the judges' attention. Here Gina Santore and Michelle Hartery work on the sophomore hall.

Decorating the ceilings, Rachel Theibault hangs balloons. Rachel was the star of the winning freshman skit.

The Homecoming Pep Rally answered many of the questions aroused during the week.

The Pep Rally started off with the Varsity Cheerleaders enthusing the crowd with the incorporation of cheers, stunts, and pom routines, trying to get everyone riled up for the upcoming events.

The newest event taking place in the pep rally was the class skits. Hats off to the Freshmen with their performance of "The Homecoming Queen Has a Gun", which won the applause of the whole gym.

The excitement of the crowd grew with the crowning of the Homecoming King. Everyone cheered when Gary Emenecker was called to the throne.

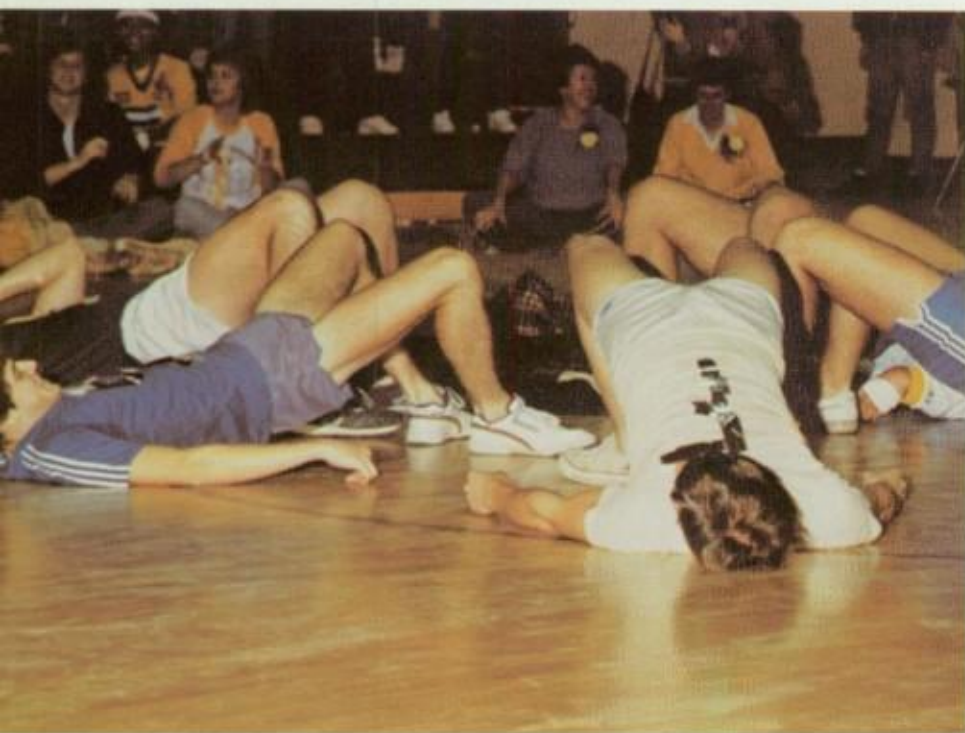

Among all the announcements, there was a trick played on the Senior football players. When they thought they were going to get a kiss from their secret cheerleaders, it was actually from their mother. They were even more surprised by this when they took off their blindfolds. Most were glad that they scored their moms high, and others were ashamed when they gave low scores.

The next award to be announced was Best Hallway Decoration, which went to the Seniors with their theme of Christmas.

"I was so glad when they announced us, because we all put a lot of work into the hallway," Margie Wesolowski said.

The last announcement for the day was the winner of the Spirit Stick. The Stick was once again given to the Class of 87, which also won the Stick last year.

"I'm glad we won the Spirit Stick because it shows involvement of the entire class instead of just a select few, like the hallways and field display," said Joe Walters.

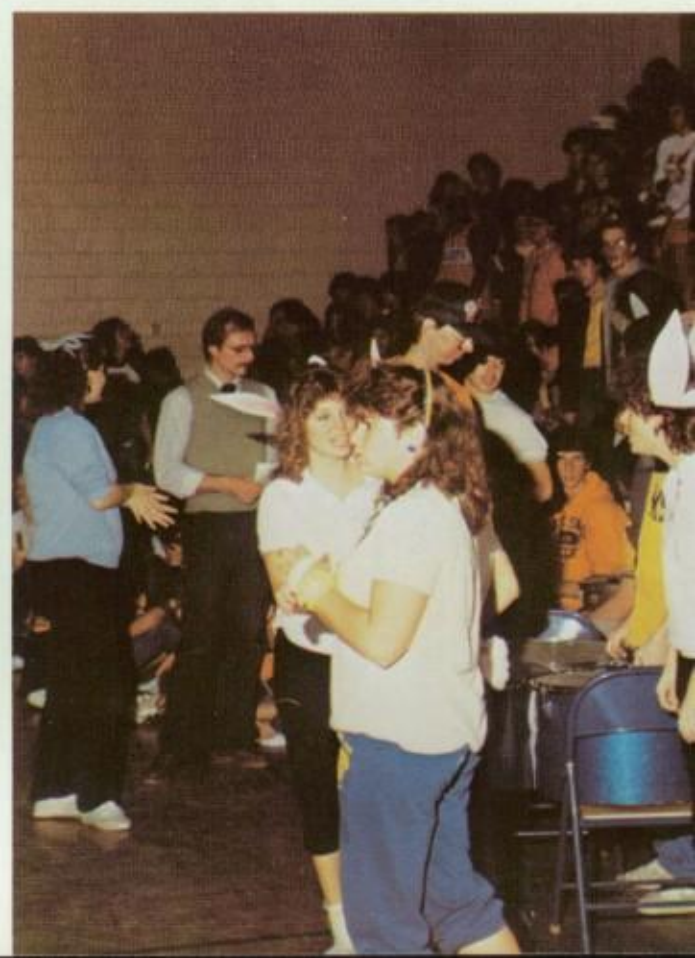

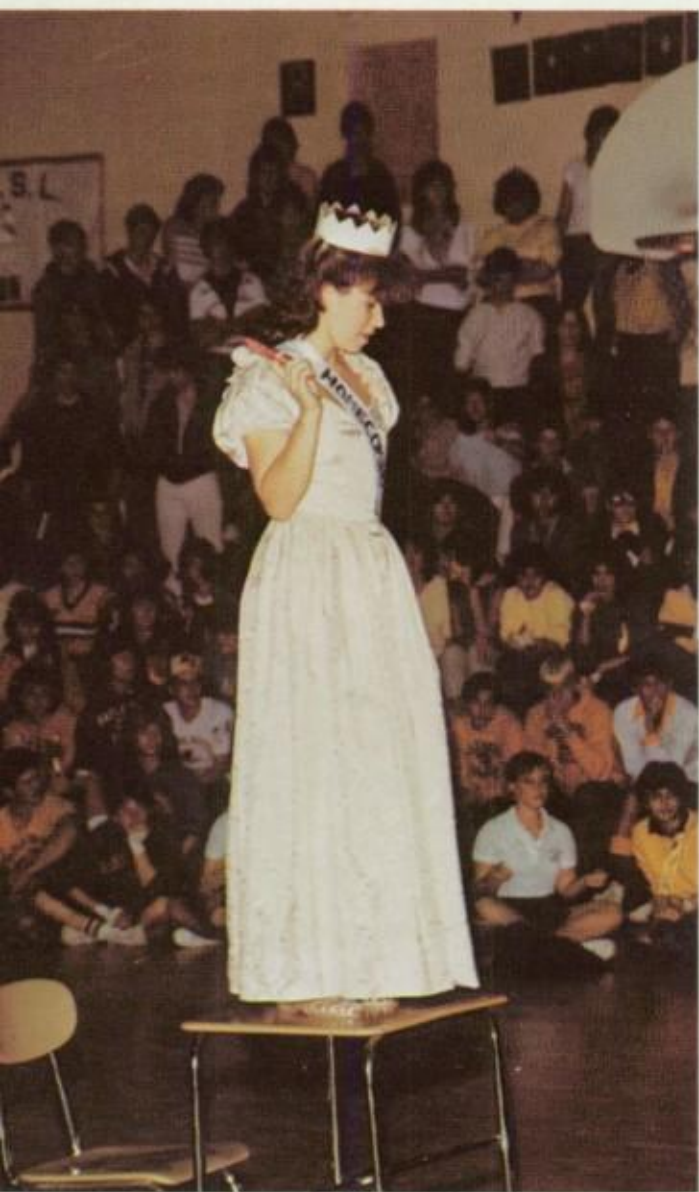

Showing their stuff, the senior boys perform their skit. Even though they didn't win, they had fun performing for everyone.

Doing the bunny hop, the junior girls hopped around the gym. The bunnies are Leslie Sciamana, Kerry Volpe, Tina Smith, Valerie Tallerida, and Marissa Pacola.

Getting ready to do the bunny hop, the junior girls are announced.

Pulling with all their might, the junior girls participated in the tug-of-war. However, the senior girls were the victors.

Wheeling their way to the finish line, the freshman boys really showed their spirit.

Stealing a kiss from his mom, Bill Hensign is a football player who was surprised at the discovery.

This Is It

This was the day the Wildcats met up with the undefeated Flashes and battled it out til the end. On the field wasn't the only competition. Still to be announced was the winning field display and Homecoming Queen.

This year once again there were field displays, and this year the Seniors took the victory.

"Last year I was devastated after losing to the seniors, when ours was so much better. This year's race was a lot tougher and I'm glad the seniors came out on top," stated Steve Chranowski.

The last question to be answered that November 9th was who was Homecoming Queen? After the crowd grew quiet with suspense, Margie Wesolowski was crowned.

Also at Halftime, the winning skit, "The Homecoming Queen Has a Gun" was performed by the freshmen.

It was a close race this year.

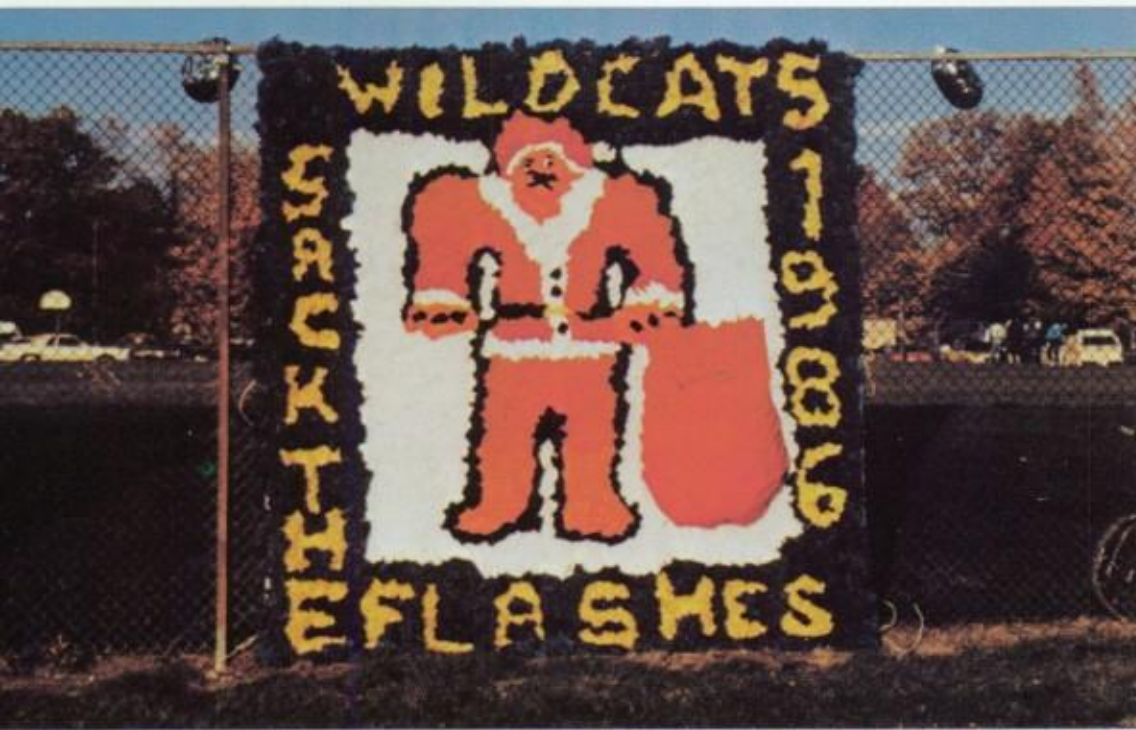

Leading the homecoming court parade is former homecoming queen Michele Nelson with escorts. Michele's job was to crown the new Queen, Margie Wesolowski.

"Block that point," shouted the cheerleaders from the sidelines. Although spirits were high, the game was lost.

Anxiously awaiting the announcement of the homecoming queen are the fine nominees. Margie Wesolowski was crowned the new queen.

A New Year for the Sophomores meant success. Although they didn't win any events their overwhelming spirit proved victorious.

A season of victory, Christmas proved to be a most rewarding holiday for the Senior class. December 25th was the theme that the Seniors based their winning hallway and field display on..

Joining together at the Homecoming game were the Maple Shade students of both the past and present. The crowd was very enthusiastic considering the game was lost at a score of 27 to 12.

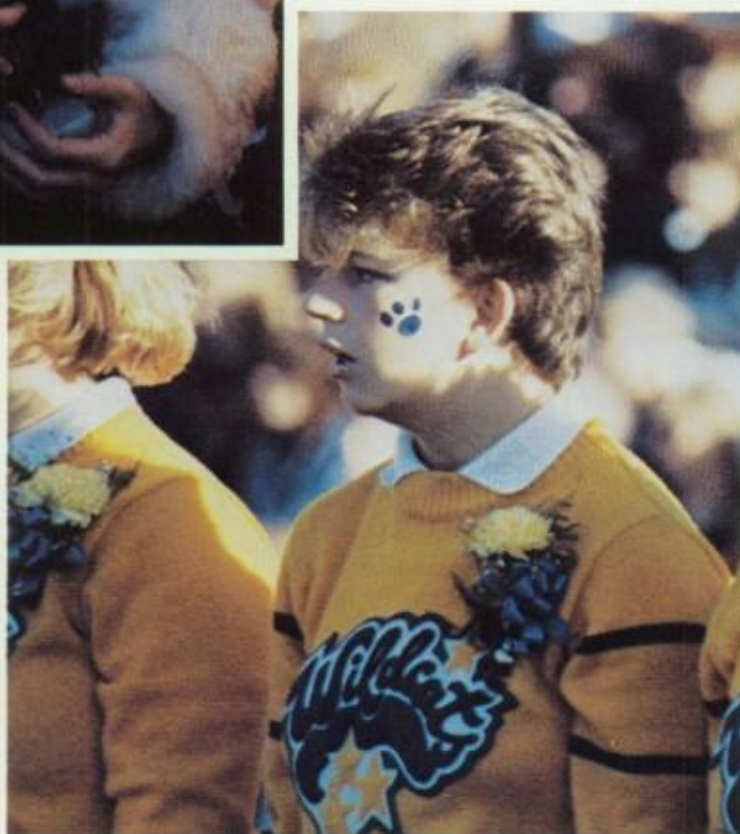

A picture of royalty, Margie Wesolowski was announced Homecoming Queen at Saturday's game. Margie, along with Tracy McCracken, Barb Shelmerdine, Charlene Canale, and Sue Cote were nominated by the Senior class in homeroom.

Hopping to victory was the theme of the Junior field display. It was announced at the Pep Rally that Juniors won the spirit stick.

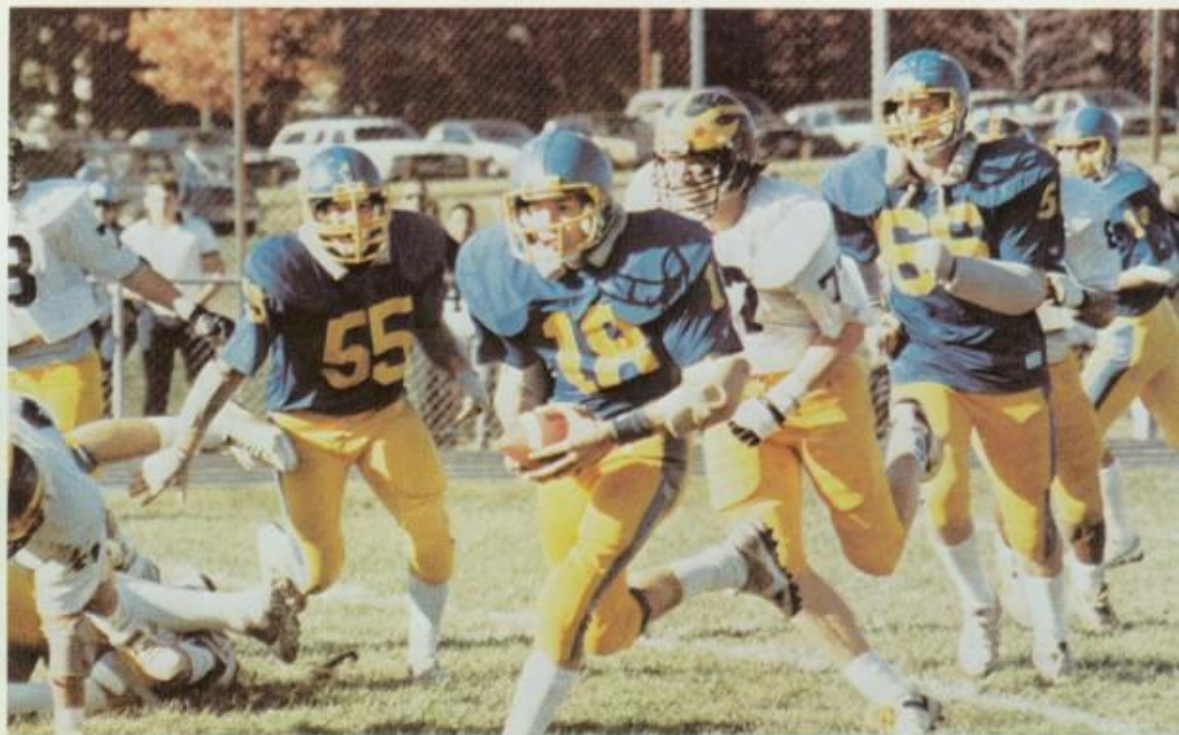

An exaggerated performance by Rachel Theibat made for an amusing Freshman skit. Skits were also performed at the pep rally.

In sign of spirit, Cheerleaders wore paw prints to display their salute to the Maple Shade Wildcats. The cheerleaders helped get the crowd going at the game.

Strategic plans are important to the game of football as Mr. Betterly proved by trying to explain a new play. Talks like this could be seen steadily throughout the game.

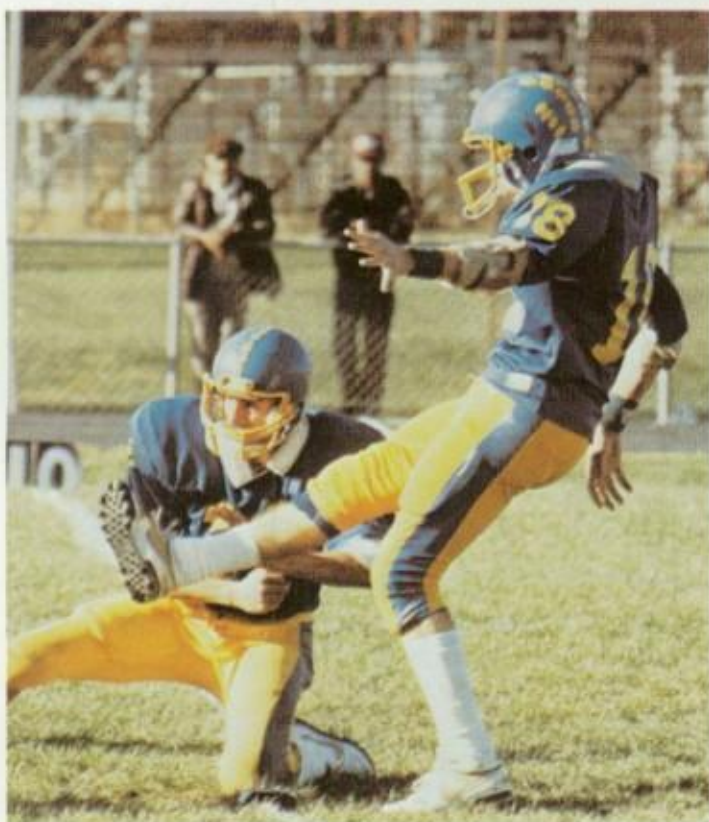

With a touchdown in mind, Kevin Vallen rushes toward the end zone. Kevin was also named member of the homecoming court.

Determination can be seen in the eyes of both teams. The Wildcats were psyched for a win, but unfortunately that was not the outcome.

Kicking off to the opponents is Senior Kevin Vallen. Kevin was a very beneficial player to this year's team.

Overjoyed by the touchdown are both the team and the coaches. This season proved to be much better than last years.

It's a rough job, but somebody has to tackle the opponent, as shown by two Maple Shade football players. For most team members tackling is what they like best.

Christmas

Going for the big jump, this unfortunate beginner found out the hard way that skiing isn't all it's cracked up to be. Many skiers found skiing a terrific pastime during the winter months.

Everlasting Memories

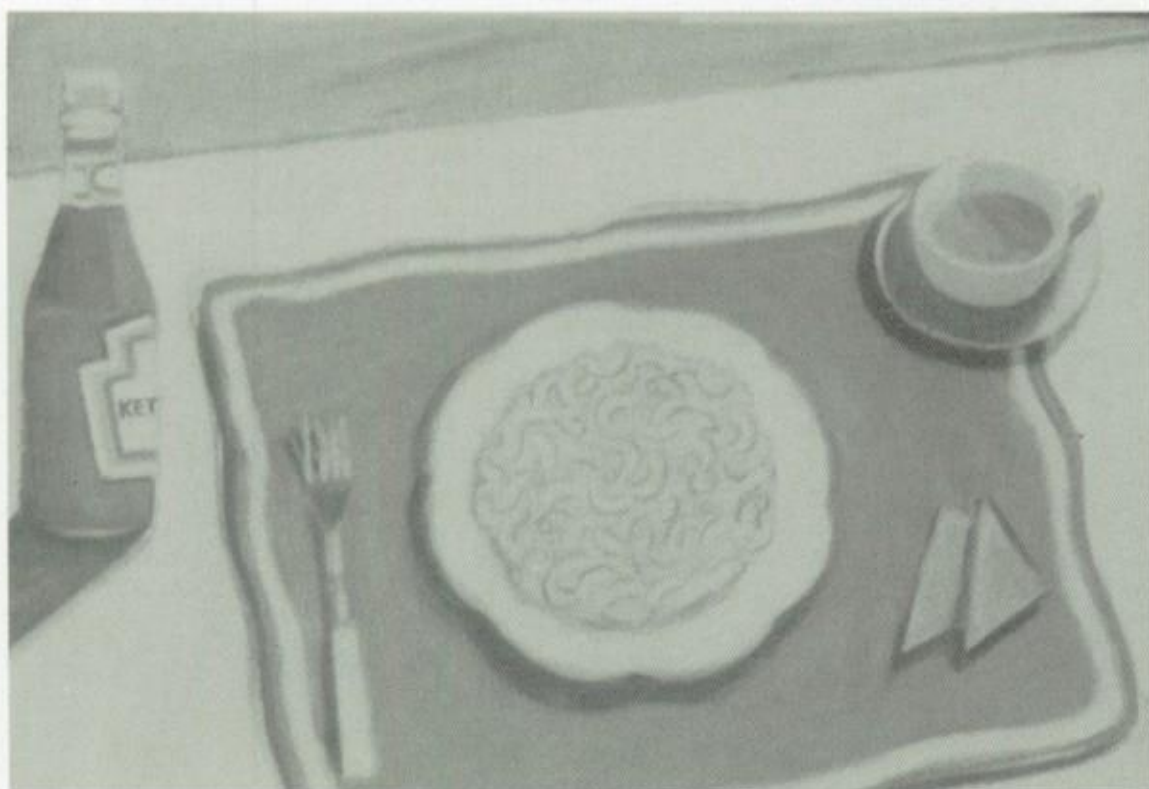

Christmas is a joyous occasion to express and share your happiness with others. Christmas is giving and receiving, not of presents, but of good wishes to come. Christmas is the lingering aroma of freshly baked cookies.

Christmas is lights twinkling, and music playing throughout the world. Christmas is the best time to show your love for others and make that special wish upon that Christmas tree star.

It's a time of year that is an everlasting memory which remains in everyone's mind.

Everyday Life

Does this look familiar? An everyday lunch consists of a hot plate or soup and a sandwich or just plain junk.

In typing class, most people don't appear this happy. They're usually struggling slowly to keep up and break 25 wpm.

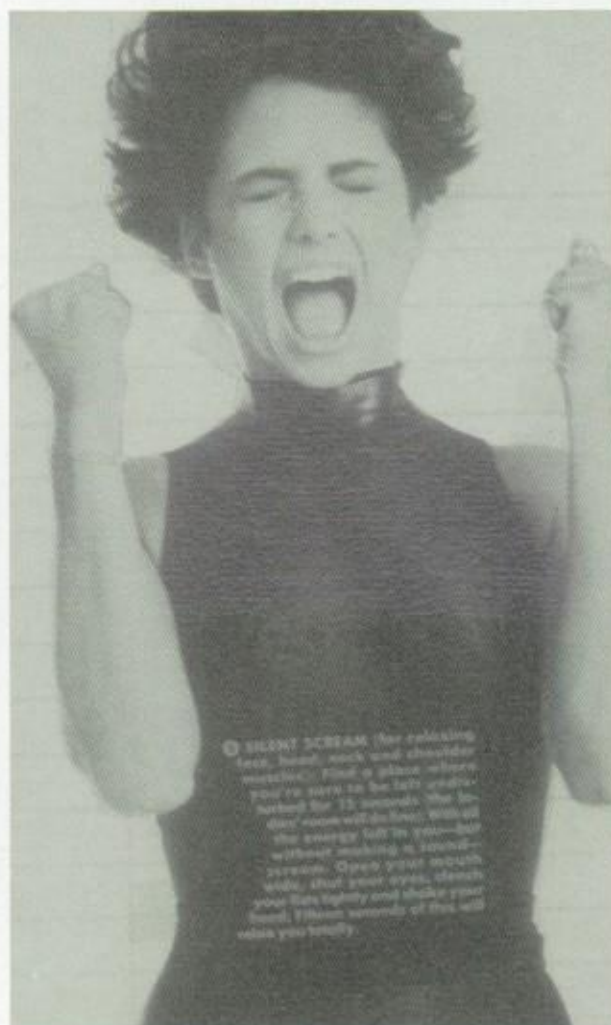

An Average Class!!

As each period's class begins, most of the students are hanging around the door, while the rest are sleeping or rushing to copy a friend's homework. The teacher then enters the room and starts taking roll as the few late comers rush into the room.

Next, the teacher comes around to inspect last night's homework. Soon after, the class begins their 40 minute sleeping session while the teacher babbles on.

Most teachers can be distracted from the topic rather easily. This in turn makes the 45 minute class go extremely fast. However if a student is caught making a heckling comment, the teacher could become disillusioned. This seriousness can make the class period drag on.

Then, just in time for the bell, the teacher slips in that night's homework assignment. A sigh of relief goes out from the students because the class is over. Now they have to shuffle off to their next designation.

Did you ever feel like this on an average day? For those that have, we've included a helpful hint for curing that stress.

An Average Class??

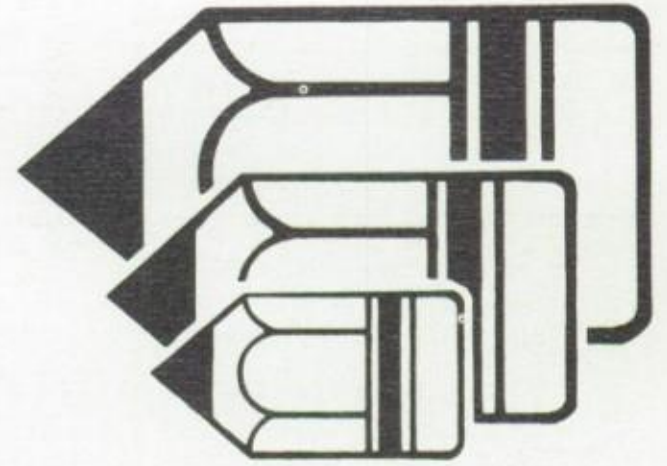

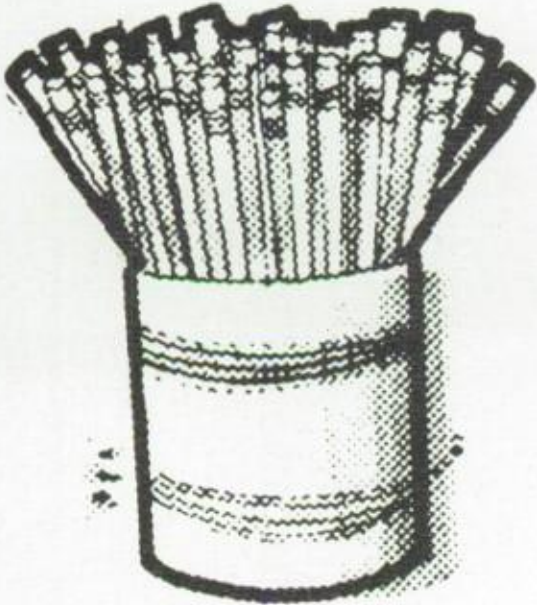

The teacher enters the classroom as the students jockey to their seats. For some, it is a time to work. For others, it is a time to relax and perhaps catch up on some new gossip. The teacher takes roll and starts reciting notes to the class. One can hear the rough sound of lead on paper. It is a busy time, for those who pay attention, will keep up and make the grade. Those who slack off, will see it on their report card. Furthermore, the people who do pay attention are startled as the bell rings. Time flies when one is busy. Soon, everyone is off to his next class. They again have the chance to talk to friends and find out what's going on during the weekend.

Second Place Winners

These are the second place winners of the senior class of '86

Class Flirts	Charlene Costa	Bob Harris

Class Partiers	Renee Nehring	Ed Carr
Most Likely To Succeed	Bridget Wells	Kevin Arthur

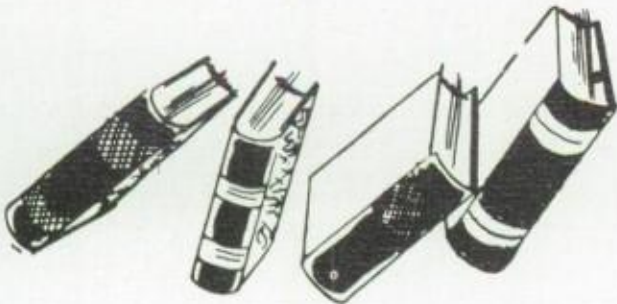

For the everyday people, we've included the second place results of the Class of '86 Who's Who. In many cases, it was very close between first and second place. Sometimes even a matter of one vote!

The look of the 80's is reflected here with sharp lines and irregular lengths. On an average day, many girls are seen with this cut.

For someone to look well in today's fashion, prints and wild colors are the hottest thing. But for someone who wears these clothes, an average day consists of many people making fun of their style.

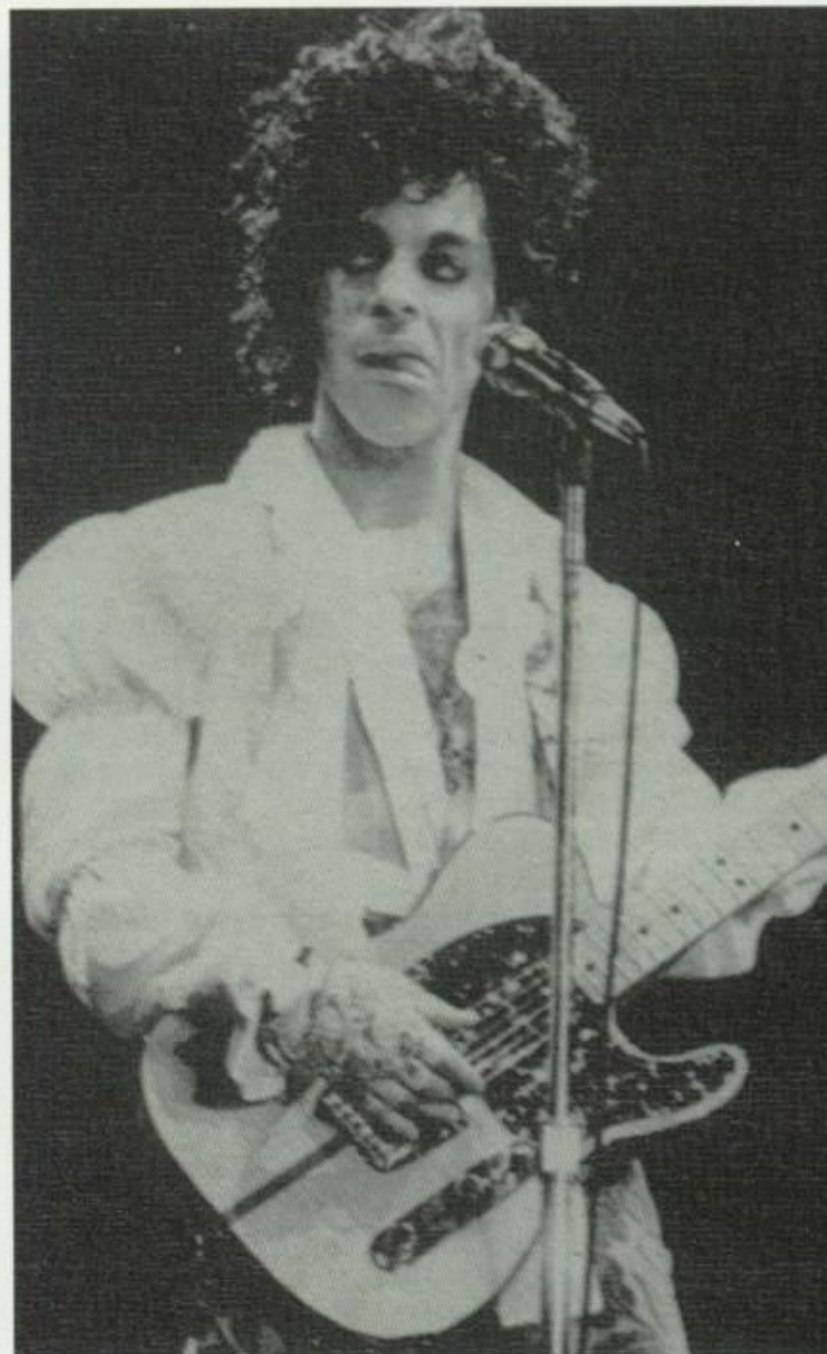

Everyday life for many students is just to look good or make a good appearance in the latest styles. For example, hairstyles set the trend for many students today, like this style which always complements a pretty face.

The newest idea in stereo equipment is almost too futuristic for 1986. The compact disc player is an audio set up in which a disc, with the song, is read by a laser system. It is said to provide better sound quality with no hassles of needles or fingerprints, and is used most widely by radio stations.

The attractive, yet sleazy, multi-talented Prince has changed his image this year. Marked by his video "Kiss" and his American Music Award appearance wearing a black tux and Rudolf Valentino hairstyle, the new Prince is looking good. His newest movie Under The Cheery Moon, filmed in Paris, is due out in June.

As a newcomer, Madonna really topped the charts. Her recent wedding to Sean Penn and weird boat ceremony were also in the news.

After receiving three Grammy Awards in 1985, how could Turner ever live up to them? Well, she has, and although it's only three, Tina won the 1985 Grammy Award for best female rock performance for "One of the Living" from the soundtrack "Mad Max: Beyond Thunderdome" which was also her movie appearance.

Screaming the feelings of many, Maple Shaders, John Cougar Mellencamp sings "I was born in a small town." "R-O-C-K in the USA" was also popular.

Bruce Springsteen proved that when he reaches the top, he plans to stay there. The years 1985 and 1986 marked two good years for this veteran singer who had another hit album with "Born in the U.S.A.". This past year, America's most eligible rocker was wed to a model in Seattle, Washington. Recently, he also received a Grammy nomination for best male vocal performance.

Review

What was your favorite movie of the year? Back to the Future seemed to be at the top of many people's lists. This exciting tale of time travel occurred in the past but gave us a sneak preview of what the future might possibly hold. In fact, as you're sitting there reading this at your 25th High School Reunion, time travel might just be a commonplace thing. A mad scientist just like the one in the movie might emerge from Maple Shade High School's Class of '86. Take a look around you!!

The space shuttle Challenger soars through the air moments before its tragic end.

Members of the crew anxiously leave to board the shuttle knowing little of what the future held for them.

“They slipped the surly bonds of earth to touch the face of God”

After 24 liftoffs, the space shuttle has become a normality of life. It lost its magnificence and wonderment as the public turned its interest elsewhere. There was always a chance that disaster could occur and everyone involved knew that, but when it happened on the 25th mission, the government, NASA and the public were stunned. The question was how could this unbelievable technology cause such a tragedy. As this flight was special, Krista McAuliffe, a civilian teacher, was in the shuttle to teach children and the general public about space, the shuttle, and modern technology. Everything seemed normal at 11:39 on January 28, 1986, when Challenger took off towards space. Even at one minute into the flight there were no signs of equipment failure. Suddenly, a small flame was seen on the right rocket booster and then, an explosion occurred which destroyed several lives, billions of dollars worth of equipment, and a perfect record along with dreams and aspirations of the public. Immediately, searches began for equipment and bodies as clues were needed so that another mission could be planned. A panel has been set up to investigate the tragedy and at first glance, the cause is suspected to be a leak in the right rocket booster which ignited the liquid hydrogen and oxygen in the main tank. America and the world suffered, but we must go on and develop our technology to the fullest.

Current Events

World Affairs

When world affairs are thought of, South Africa is near the top of the list. In 1964 the African National Congress guerrilla organization was formed to topple the white-led apartheid government. In 1985, the battle peaked between the black majority and white apartheid government as thousands were killed and injured in riots that tore apart the country. Because of this, a media clampdown and state of emergency were introduced to seclude the evils of their government. Crime, poverty, and personal rights are causing the problems which must be solved.

Also of major importance, terrorist attacks have become part of everyday life. It's no longer safe to eat at restaurants, travel by bus, ship or plane as terrorist groups are striking democratic nations and their people abroad. The Mideast is the center of action as Khadafy and Abu Nidal are radical leaders involved in terrorism. Recently, Rome and Vienna airports were bombed as eighteen people were killed, five of them Americans. Because of this, the American government enforced economic sanctions and has threatened military action. It is time for the super powers to join together and defeat the barbaric act of terrorism.

Finally, the Geneva conference between Reagan and Gorbachev about nuclear arms was the most important development. With a friendly alliance between the U.S. and Russia, world peace is assured. In Geneva, the only thing the two leaders agreed on was further talks, but it is a good beginning. The talking started with a New Year's wish from each leader to the other's country. A nuclear war can't be won and should not be fought.

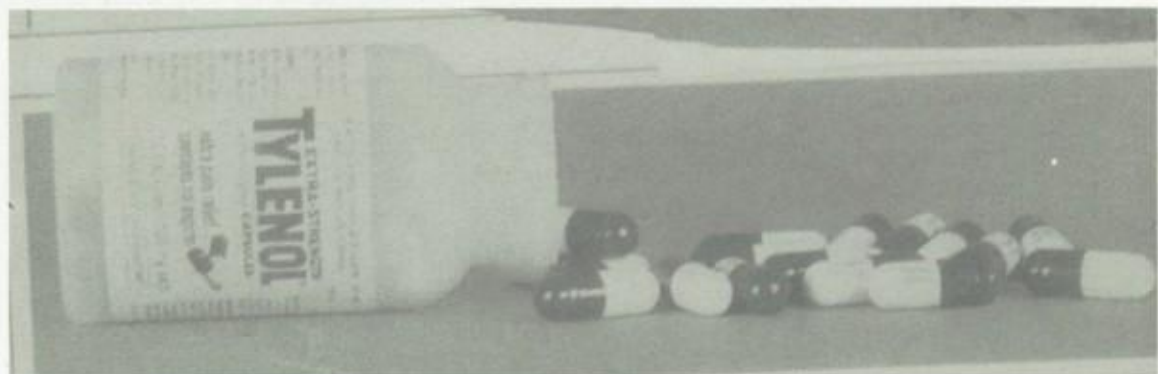

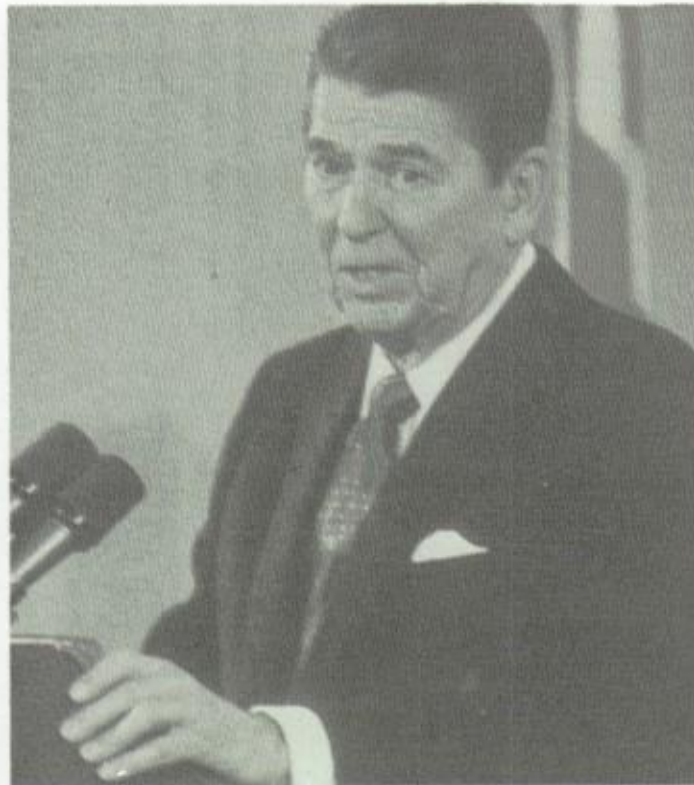

An armoured tank roars down a seemingly once peaceful street. Much rioting and fighting has occurred in South Africa this past year.

At a press conference President Reagan answers a question from the member of the press.

Hazardous to our Health

Our auditorium has contained asbestos which is a known carcinogen. It was to be removed by a contractor during Thanksgiving vacation, but the funds were not available to pay for the job. The work was postponed until Christmas vacation. The area had to be sealed off and all the seats removed so that contamination of the school was impossible. Athletes were not allowed in the school causing inconveniences in practice and game schedules. As the Boy's Basketball Tournament was moved from Maple Shade to Audabon, the senior players were extremely disappointed that they were unable to play before their home crowd. Also, the girl's and boy's basketball teams had to practice in the tiny, freezing Steinhauer gym. Furthermore, the wrestlers practiced at Forkland School to get ready for the tournament. These distractions hurt the team's preparations for play.

As vacation was ending, many students thought the work would be extended and vacation would be extended. These were only rumors as school started on time. Things were back to normal at Maple Shade High School.

Once again Extra-Strength Tylenol had to be recalled from store shelves as a result of cyanide poisoning causing more deaths.

Fashions

Believe it or not, the sixties are back with an 80's twist! Blunt cuts, bobs, and short styles with wispy bangs and sides are the newest hair fashions along with the help of mousses and gels.

Reeboks, flower prints, flashy mini-skirts, scarves, cross earrings, pearl necklaces, bangles, stirrup pants, and paisley prints are just a few of the many new fashion trends set in 1986.

Whether it be Guess or Levi, jeans were still a top fashion in '86 with printed flowers, paisley or other designs winning top priority, followed by jean mini-skirts, jackets, and vests.

Diana, Princess of Wales is not only a respectable royal figure but also a new fashion setter. Her most impressionable styles in wide popularity are the many styles of hats including pillbox, netted, and plumed, low shoes, dress suits, sequin gowns, and taffeta.

In early summer, Swiss watches called Swatches were introduced to America. Not only are they a good Quartz water resistant watch but are also a very hot fashion item. Now, we have Swatch watches, guards, umbrellas, sweatshirts, and carry bags. Where will it stop!

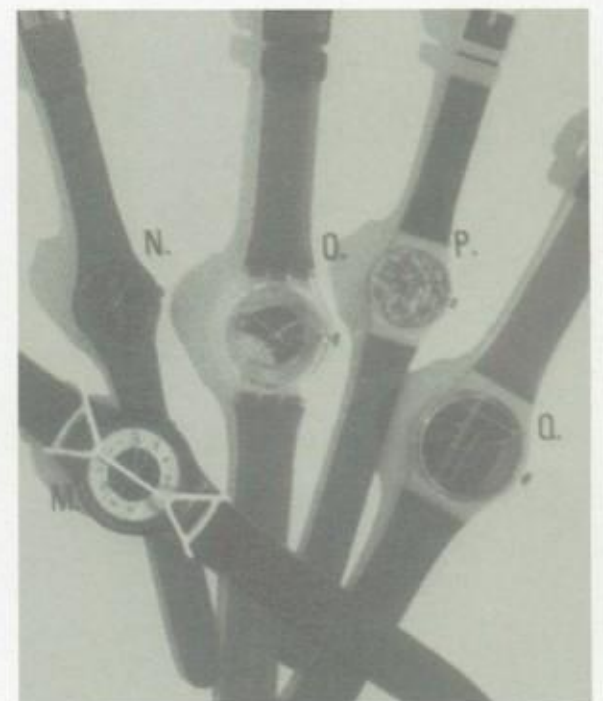

Swatches, Swatches, Swatches! For just thirty dollars, one can buy a water resistant watch in red, green, white, purple, black, paisley or any design thinkable. There are also Swatch guards, in assorted colors, to protect the plastic item and which sometimes prohibits the owner from reading the time.

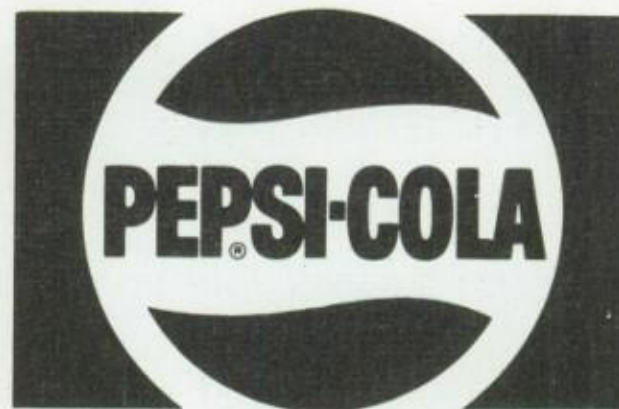

What's "in" in '86

This year's fashions are a reflection of the 1960's with paisley prints, microscopic miniskirts and blunt hairstyles back in style. Since fashions fade and change, most Shaders create their own style and use it throughout their four years spent in high school. A certain few Shaders do tend to keep up with the newest fashions. This "trendy" group—you know, the ones considered "social outcasts" by the other several hundred students, deserves a lot of credit for putting up with cruel comments and humiliation. If you should happen to see a peculiar look on a student's face, chances are that a "trendy" has just passed them in the hallway!

The Swatch watch — sounds familiar, huh? This Swatch Company has stopped industry in every other watch company. For a mere thirty dollars, a person can buy a simply fabulous watch with more prints, colors and designs than one person can handle. But beware! An accessory to the swatch, the famous, world-renowned "swatch guard", limits the wearer in determining the time of day. Ask a swatch owner the time—if it's either twelve or six o'clock, the owner may seem confused because this "guard" is covering the hands. Now, to be totally awesome, you musn't just wear one (Gasp! How drab), you must wear at least two.

Quick service without having to leave your house is the trademark of Domino's Pizza. Their symbol was a familiar sight at late night meetings and Homecoming preparations.

Just for the taste of it, enjoy a delicious scoop of ice cream from Haagen-Dazs. Opening two new locations in the Cherry Hill Mall, the ice cream store provided jobs for many Shaders.

Physical!

In such a weight and fitness conscious world like today, the dilemma of shedding those extra pounds is intensified by the new wave of fast food options. For example, one can go to either the Moorestown or Cherry Hill Mall and find a "food court." These courts provide a diverse mixture of different types of foods. Different cultures, such as Chinese, Italian and Mexican are expressed in the courts as well as the still thriving McDonalds and Burger Kings. The food court provides any shopper with his choice of food to satisfy his every needy taste buds. For those who wish to remain in the privacy of their own home, they can pick up the phone and get a pizza from Domino's in thirty minutes or less. The availability and diversity of fast food is evidenced as new places are built every day.

After all the fast food eating in high school, you need a good workout to get back in shape. Joining a health spa is one way to do it.

Mall/Food

Life in the Fast Lane

If you asked any common teenager today what hangout is most frequented, he or she would most likely answer, "The mall, of course." The mall can be called a mecca for America's teenagers providing an array of various types of stores. One can find almost anything he or she needs in a mall, ranging from food to clothes to hardware to entertainment. It also provides an excellent, as well as convenient, meeting place.

Local teenagers visit the nearby Cherry Hill Mall in which one can always find at least three different groups of kids, each with different interests. Often enough, one can spy punk rockers horsing around in McDonald's, or a preppy or two debating on whether or not to go into Benelton's first or into The Limited. On the other side of the mall, one can find the rougher types just hanging around looking mean and hard. The mall is also a great place to meet new people or to see friends on weekends when they can't be seen during the week. Most of the kids live far from each other and go to different schools, so they tend to make the mall their meeting place.

Although they aren't the only ones to frequent the mall—there are parents with their children and senior citizens sitting around the fountain—teenagers make up the majority causing it to be said that they "practically live there. Also, one may get the idea that there is no shopping going on, but those parents and senior citizens do quite a bit of shopping along with other adults. The slew of teenagers just seems to overpower everyone else.

Did this ever happen to you at the mall? Persuasive salespeople are the trademark of the fast-paced malls.

With the coming of food courts to both the Moorestown and Cherry Hill Malls, students like Dana Durso find employment. These food courts are fun and exciting places to work.

Hangin' Out

Hot Spots

Maple Shade is one of the best towns for kids to hang out. There is never a dull moment. Each group has its different spots, but over all everyone is everywhere.

In the spring, on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, people from Shade can always be found at Strawbridge Lake lying in the sun or playing frisbee. Other spring hangouts include Babe Ruth or the "stones", where older people park their cars and the police can't bother them if there is a game going on. The "River" has also been a popular spot during the summer. It is somewhere out in the fresh air where you can see the lights of the city across the river.

The hangouts for all time of the year, even though they come in and out like a fad, are Nichols, uptown, "Brooksies", Happy Hour, Trans Axle, and of course, the mall. Also, peoples' houses are a possibility if the parents aren't home.

Most of all, there is the all-time hangout that never fails no matter when you ride by, because there is bound to be someone at WAWA.

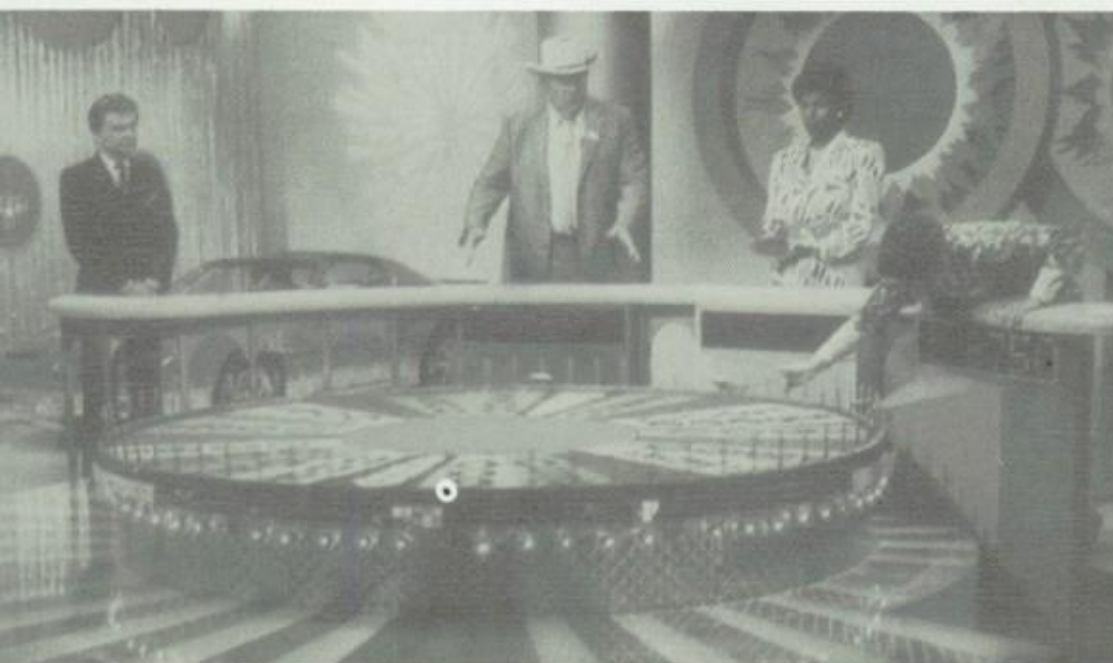

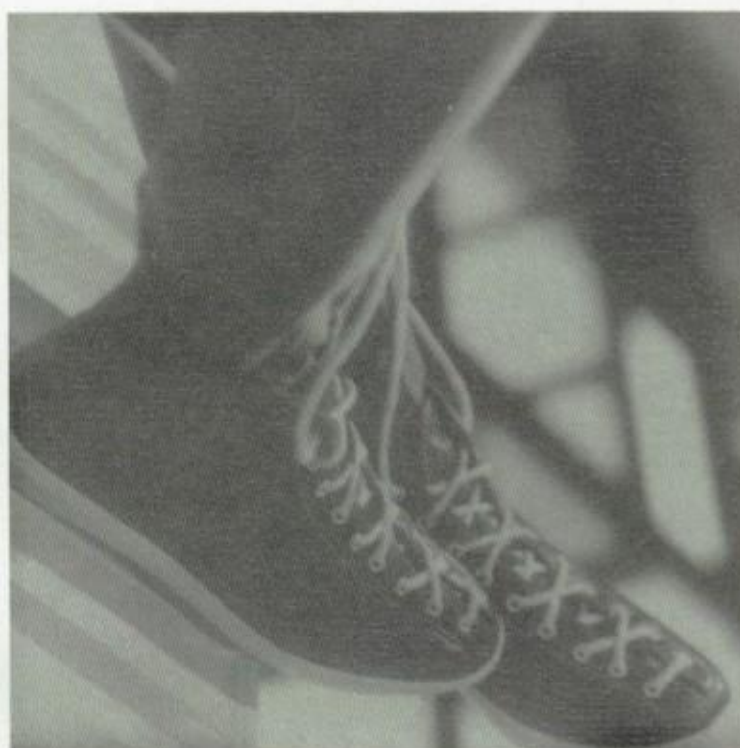

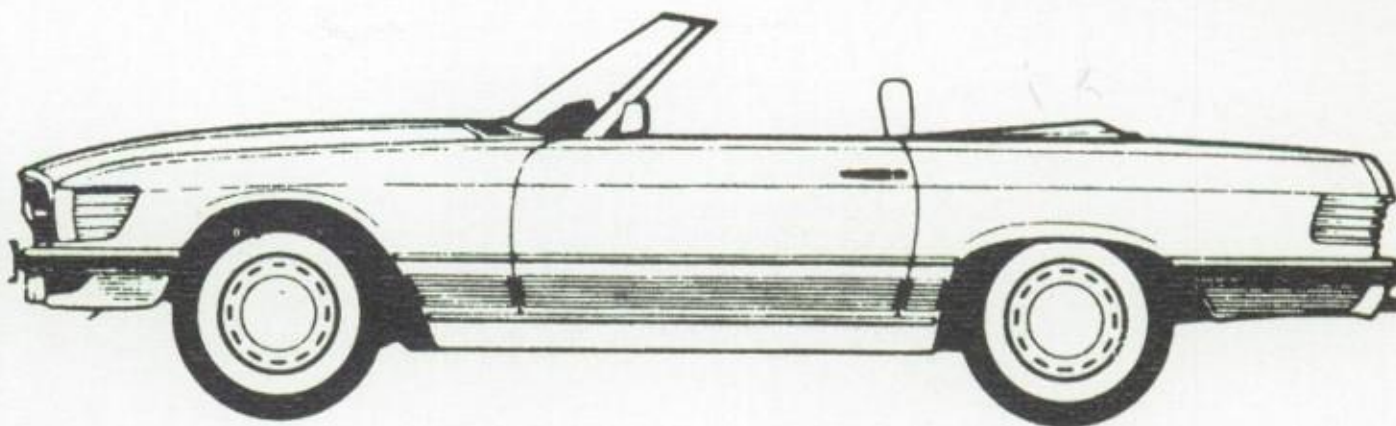

Weekends

A weekend in the "Shade" is a special occasion. After a long week in school, people look forward to a couple days off. Weekends can be the greatest thing since sliced bread, or the worst thing since Power99. It all depends on what one makes of them.

For the limited person, weekends are boring. These same people can be spotted uptown every Friday and Saturday night, complaining about the town, the police, and every other thing under the sun. Once again, these people will never try anything else. Driving isn't even an issue here. Anybody can hitch a ride from Mom or Dad. The malls are each within a thirty-minute walk from town. For these select few, weekends will never mean anything.

On the other hand, weekends could be extremely exciting. Maple Shade is in the middle of a "happening scene". All around us we have the shores, the mountains, and good ol' Philadelphia. A weekend on the beach, or a weekend on the slopes can highlight a person's life. Some kids still enjoy cruising the streets, hitting the nearest park or lake, or getting their spirits up any way they know how. For people who can make the most of a situation, weekends are a fine remembrance of a high school career.

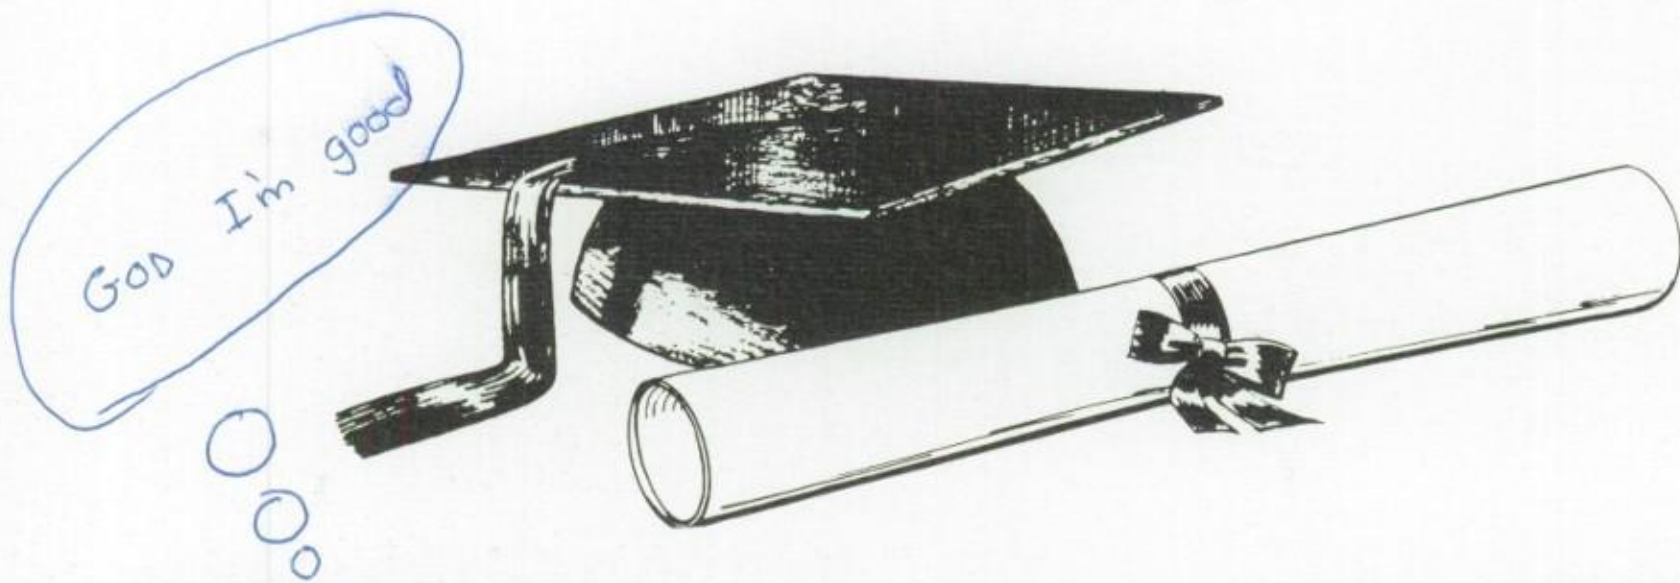

Hanging out with the T.V. has become a popular thing again especially with such popular game shows as Jeopardy and Wheel of Fortune.

One "fad" that will never go out of style is gossiping. Though certain types of clothes will come and go gossiping will always be here to stay because people will always need something to talk about.

Whether it be walking or riding, teenagers always need a place to go to hang out. As Junior and Senior years approach, many students are found riding in cars since a driver's license becomes available to them and gives them the opportunity to drive.

Memories

Mrs. Poinsett

Pomp and circumstance echoes through the air, the hot sun beats down on heavy gowns of blue and white, and much anticipation is felt throughout the field where Kevin Vallen once made a dynamic interception. The ceremony is over, the once crowded bleachers are now barren, and the only sound heard is a gentle breeze rustling through papers left by the no longer residing occupants of the football field. Graduation is over, four years of many lives are now only fading memories, tears have been shed, and another milestone has passed. The future is all that is left.

Freshmen year, Sophomore year, and Junior year were very different from our Senior year in many ways. The most noticeable change was the absence of Ms. Poinsett. For three years she put up with all the aggravation, excitement, and pressure of being a class advisor, but when it came to our Senior year new advisors took over.

Ms. Poinsett led us to our very first homecoming victory in "1984", when as sophomores we won the hallway competition. Junior year she saw to it that her class won the parade competition and who can forget our non-victorious but gorgeous field display. Without her help we would have never made such accomplishments.

It's true that Ms. Poinsett did not have the honor of being our advisor when we accepted our diplomas and became graduates of Maple Shade High School, but she did have a great impact on our high school careers.

Showing Pride

Pride is shown in many ways in Maple Shade High School. The display cases are examples of the numerous accomplishments of our students. By the gym, a display case shows athletic awards from past years. By the cafeteria, 2 trophy cases display the pride of past classes. In B-wing, there are always impressive art creations exhibited in the cases. These display cases not only keep up the morale of the students but also serve to beautify our school.

Displaying awards from our first year to the present, this case shows off the pride we gain from our athletes.

Besides awards, Shaders proudly display their creativity through their artwork in the B-wing.

Numerous trophies and awards fill this case from the Class of 1980. This class set an example for future classes of Maple Shade High School.

Through the Years

In the midst of baseball, lacrosse, the Florida trip, and Senioritis, another excitement was building up. For some, it was their first trip; for others, it could have been their fourth prom; however, all felt the impulsive energy which arose during the month of April.

Tickets, costing sixty dollars a couple, went on sale in March. The annual fashion show given by D.E.C.A. MEMBERS made it easier for some girls and guys to find just the right tux or gown. As the final choices of gowns and tuxes were made, flowers were ordered and cars washed, the big day finally arrived.

The 1985 Junior-Senior Prom was held at Merion Caterers on April 26. Most couples arrived around 7:30. After having pictures taken, the couples then entered the main banquet room where they were served a dinner consisting of a fruit cup, chicken soup, salad, baked potato, string beans, prime rib, and cream. Each girl received a champagne glass while the guys were given mugs. From there, the couples mingled, danced, and took pictures. Around midnight, the Prom Court, elected by the senior class, was announced. Candidates for King were: Frank Turso, Sean Schofield, Alfonso Lopez, Cliff Furmeister, and John Palese. Candidates for Queen were: Anne Kassekert, Michelle Nelson, Jenny Gill, Sue McCloskey, and Jennie Godwin. Anne Kassekert and Frank Turso were crowned Queen and King. The 1985 Class Advisor Mr. Foulkes.

As the prom came to a close at 1:00 with the theme song "Through the Years", some couples headed back to the school cafeteria for a breakfast while others continued the excitement of the night at parties. The following day, most couples to spend the day or weekend at the shore of Great Adventure.

Being greeted by the 1985 Senior Class Officers, Rita Moule accepts a rose which was given to each girl at the prom.

A Worthy Cause

It was around 7:30 am, and already there was a lot of commotion in the gym. Before entering the gym you could see the American Red Cross truck unloading material. Not too many seventh through ninth graders realized what was going on, but for the Health Careers Club, American Red Cross, and many teachers, it was a day of helping a worthy cause: the 1985 Blood Drive.

The Health Careers Club, along with the help of the American Red Cross, were setting up tables and different kinds of equipment for the day in front of them. While they have the setting up on their minds, some students were worrying about the new experience they will be faced with today. Some were wondering whether or not it would hurt; will I feel sick; will I pass out? The teachers who gave before and were used to it tried to assure the students that everything would be just fine.

This year's goal was 100 pints of blood, set by the Health Careers Club who sponsored the Blood Drive. Although 130 people signed up, a few were turned down because of their age or because they didn't feel very well that day. But none the less they still reached their goal and passed it. There were 117 pints donated all together. Mrs. Thomas, the school nurse, said "This was the most successful blood drive ever in the history of Maple Shade High School."

It is said that a major amount of blood is donated by high school students, as we can see by the amount of blood donated by the students who gave at the Blood Drive.

To all those in the Health Careers Club, American Red Cross, and of course, all those students who gave blood, "thank you" for all your help.

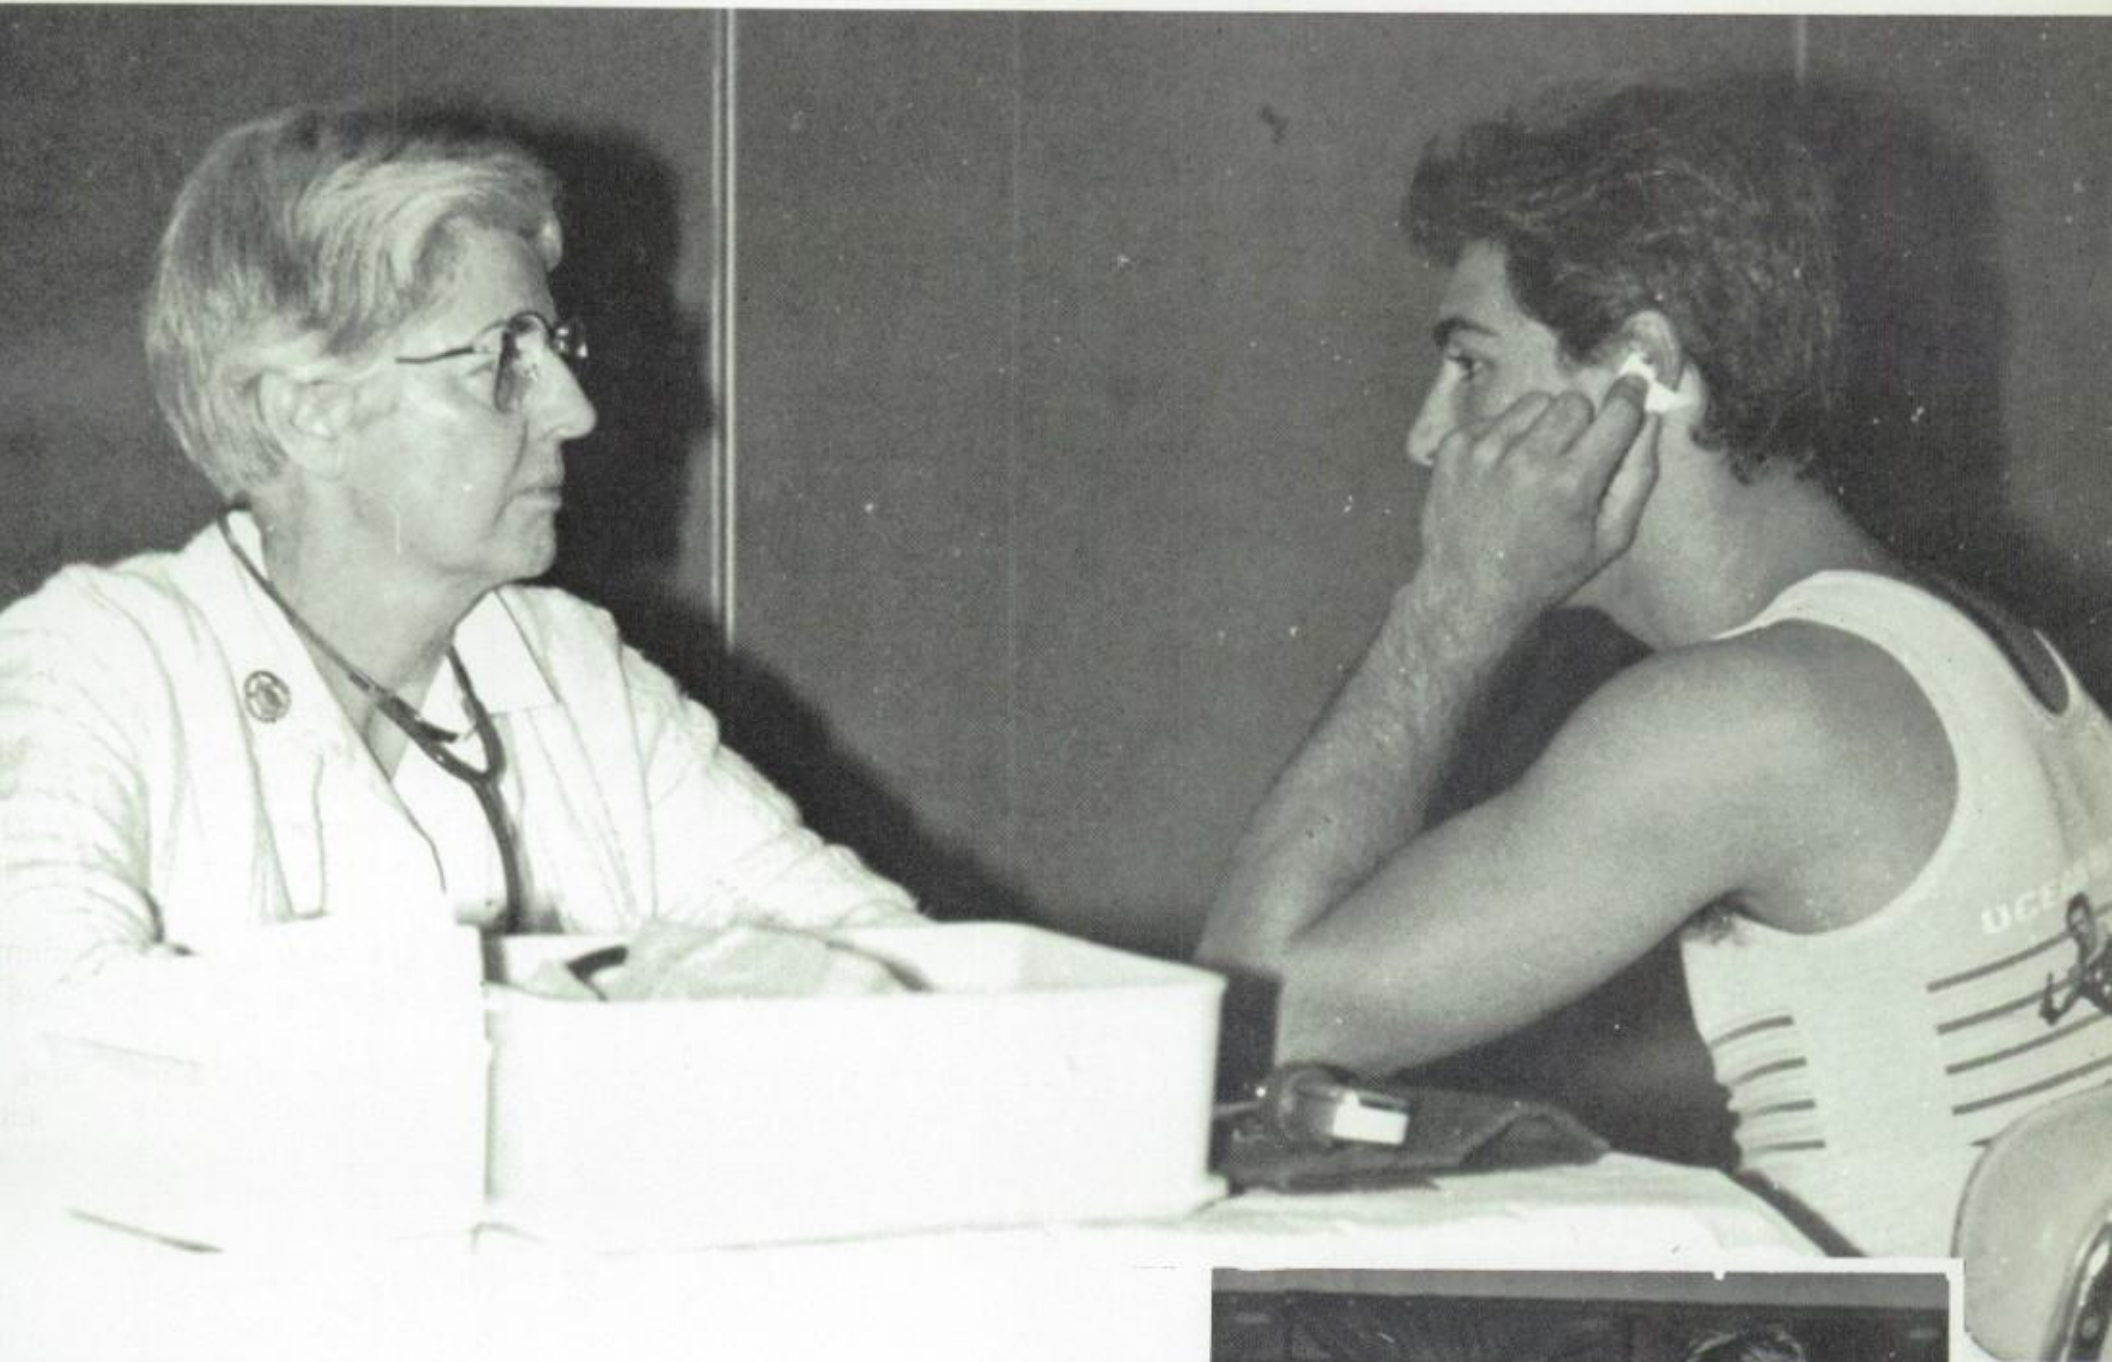

Laying down, Jim Landolf prepares to give blood. Now a graduate, Jim was on the Varsity football team last year.

Busy as beavers, the nurses kindly take all the blood they can. Thanks to M.S.H.S. students and faculty, the blood drive was a complete success.

TALENT SHOW

Special

After several weeks of rehearsal, the Maple Shade High School Student Council presented the 1985 Talent Show on Wednesday and Thursday, April 3 and 4. Serving as Masters of Ceremonies were Student Council Officers Sandra Botting and Lori Burris.

Performers were judged by faculty members, with trophies presented in four areas: Best Band ("Monsoon"), Best Group Performance ("Breaders and Rappers"), Best Comedy Routine (Mike Goll, Jim Rolke, Tom Goll, and Vince DeLuccia), and Best Musical Performance (Sue Favatella).

A special award was presented to school matron, Mrs. Catherine Kain, in recognition of her service and dedication to the students of Maple Shade High School.

As a favorite sub, Jim Roulke gets lots of laughs. Jim and his friends won "Best Comedy Act."

Captivating the audience, Laurie Paulus sang "Against All Odds." Debbie Fatula accompanied her on piano.

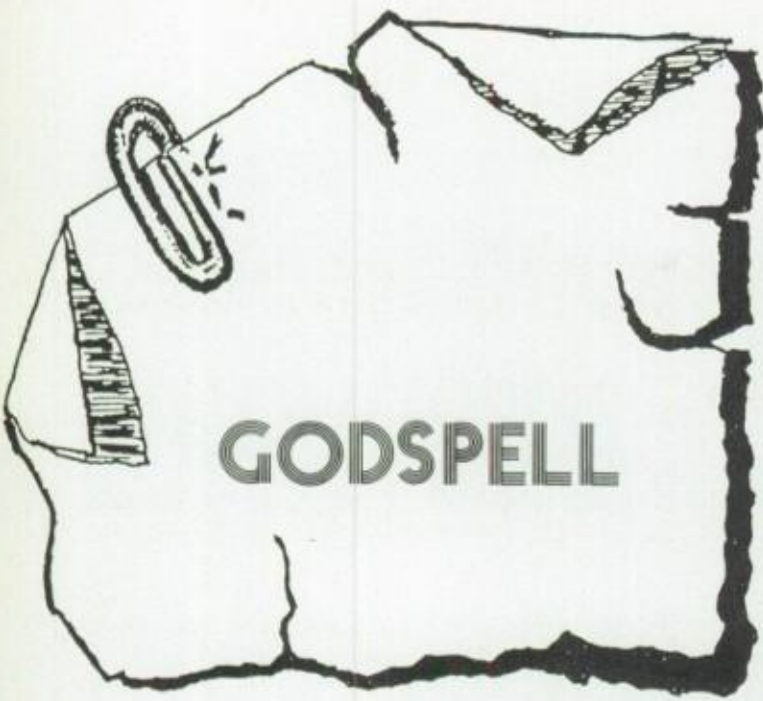

Singing and playing his guitar, Bob Andreano was the lead guitarist for the Freshman group "The Press." The group sang "Sunday Bloody Sunday" by U2 and "Living After Midnight" by the Heavy Metal group Judas Priest.

Imitating a Heavy Metal group, Brian Curren and Jim Cippola played guitar and bass, while Jack Price handled the vocal department. They were part of the group known as "The Press."

Softly strumming his guitar, Rodger Delany captures the audience with his rendition of "American Pie."

A Smash

On May 16, 17, and 18 a phenomenal event came to Maple Shade. Godspell was performed very professionally by a group of M.S.H.S. students. The cast put on a very exciting show which ended dramatically. Both the audience and the actors were left deeply touched by the outcome of the play.

Godspell had many unusual events which added to its success. Because the theme of the play dealt with people, the audience was deeply involved. If the performers weren't dancing in the aisles, they were directing some of their lines toward the viewers. Even more unique was intermission. Instead of reporting to the hall to receive the refreshments, the audience was invited on stage to share both drink and conversation with the cast.

Many of the students involved worked long and hard to try and perfect every scene.

The most memorable performance was by Tony DeStefanis. In Godspell, Tony took his final bow in the M.S.H.S. stage before graduation in June.

With many newcomers in the play, Godspell was a highlight of what is here to come. Congratulations to the cast of Godspell for a complete success.

In a serious mood, Anthony DeStafanis begins to sing. Anthony was the Cowardly Lion in the Wizard of Oz. He was also Igor in Frankenstein.

Singing of love and loss are Tricia Fegley, Lynn Kerr, and the rest of the cast.

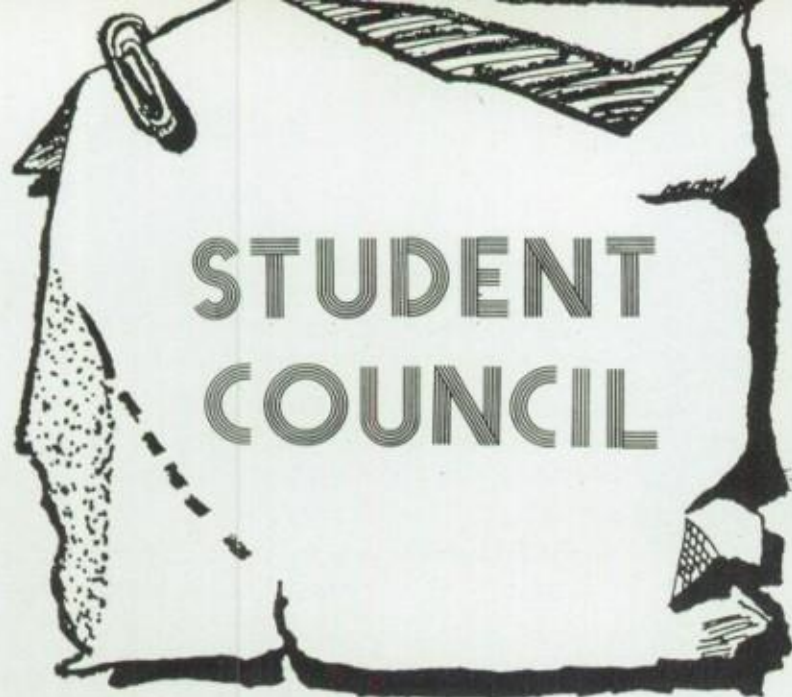

Wiggling her hips, Laurie Paulus catches Bob Lamb's eye. This is the first of Bob's performances.

In an upbeat tempo Mike Sole sings as John the Baptist in the play Godspell.

In a touching scene, Trish Fegley sings "By My Side" to Jesus. Trish is a veteran of the MSHS stage.

Playing charades with the audience, the cast of Godspell gives the people a musical sermon.

Gina for Secretary

Gina Santore's reign as Secretary of New Jersey Association of Student Councils was short lived. For months Gina had prepared for her election which was held on January 7, 1986, at Trenton State College. Meetings were attended, registration cards and fees were sent, and essays explaining why she wanted the position were also sent out. All in hopes that Gina would be able to achieve this honorable position so that she could better serve her school and all of New Jersey's schools.

As January 7th neared, campaign posters and stickers were made to support Gina while at Trenton State.

On the big day, fourteen people, including Student Council's advisor, Beauregard, traveled to Trenton State College. Gina gave her speech, determined if she was to become Secretary or not. While we attended the meeting, the presidents of all New Jersey Student Councils chose the N.J.A.S.C. members. Unfortunately, Gina was not chosen and understandably she was upset. "It took much time and preparation, but it was worth it. It was an experience that I'm glad I got a chance to experience," says Gina. "There's always next year, and I'm looking forward to many prosperous years to come in Student Council."

Gina plans to keep very busy with her Student Council activities. Hopefully, in 1987, she will be elected to represent all of N.J.'s Student Councils and make us all proud of her and Maple Shade High school.

Lucky Bear's first trip to college was a fun, exciting, non-stop day with best friends Amy Wolfe and Gina Santore. Amy and Gina's sister, Maria, were also Gina's campaign aids for the day.

A SMILING CANDIDATE, Gina Santore reads her agenda for the busy day ahead of her as she runs for N.J.A.S.C. Secretary.

A FULL HOUSE of over 2000 N.J. students filled Trenton State's gymnasium as they watched Gina receiving her cupcake symbolizing 1986 as the 60th anniversary of the N.J.A.S.C. "Did you know N.J. has the oldest state Student Council in the U.S.?"

A Better School

Once a month four people from each class, Ms. Beauregard, and Mr. Harmon meet in the conference room to discuss school issues. The discussions are led by Mr. Harmon, who often talks about current issues such as m terms, sports, or possibly a new program being introduced to the school. gives his viewpoints and explains the procedures for events in the near future. Once he is finished he asks if anyone has any questions or comments. At t time each member of the S.A.C. gets a chance to voice his or her opinion suggestions, or complaints. As each member presents a new topic, th discuss the pros and cons of the topic, make any needed decisions and th come to a conclusion for the topic of discussion.

In order to have a better Student Council, these members have to really their jobs. They have to fight to get the best for our school. The better Student Advisory Council can be, the better our entire school can be.

After a long meeting in the conference room, Mr. Harmon, along with members of Student Advisory, pose to smile for the camera.

Sorting through candy in Ms. Beauregard's room, Barb Smith, a senior, makes sure everything is in order.

OUT OF MARCH

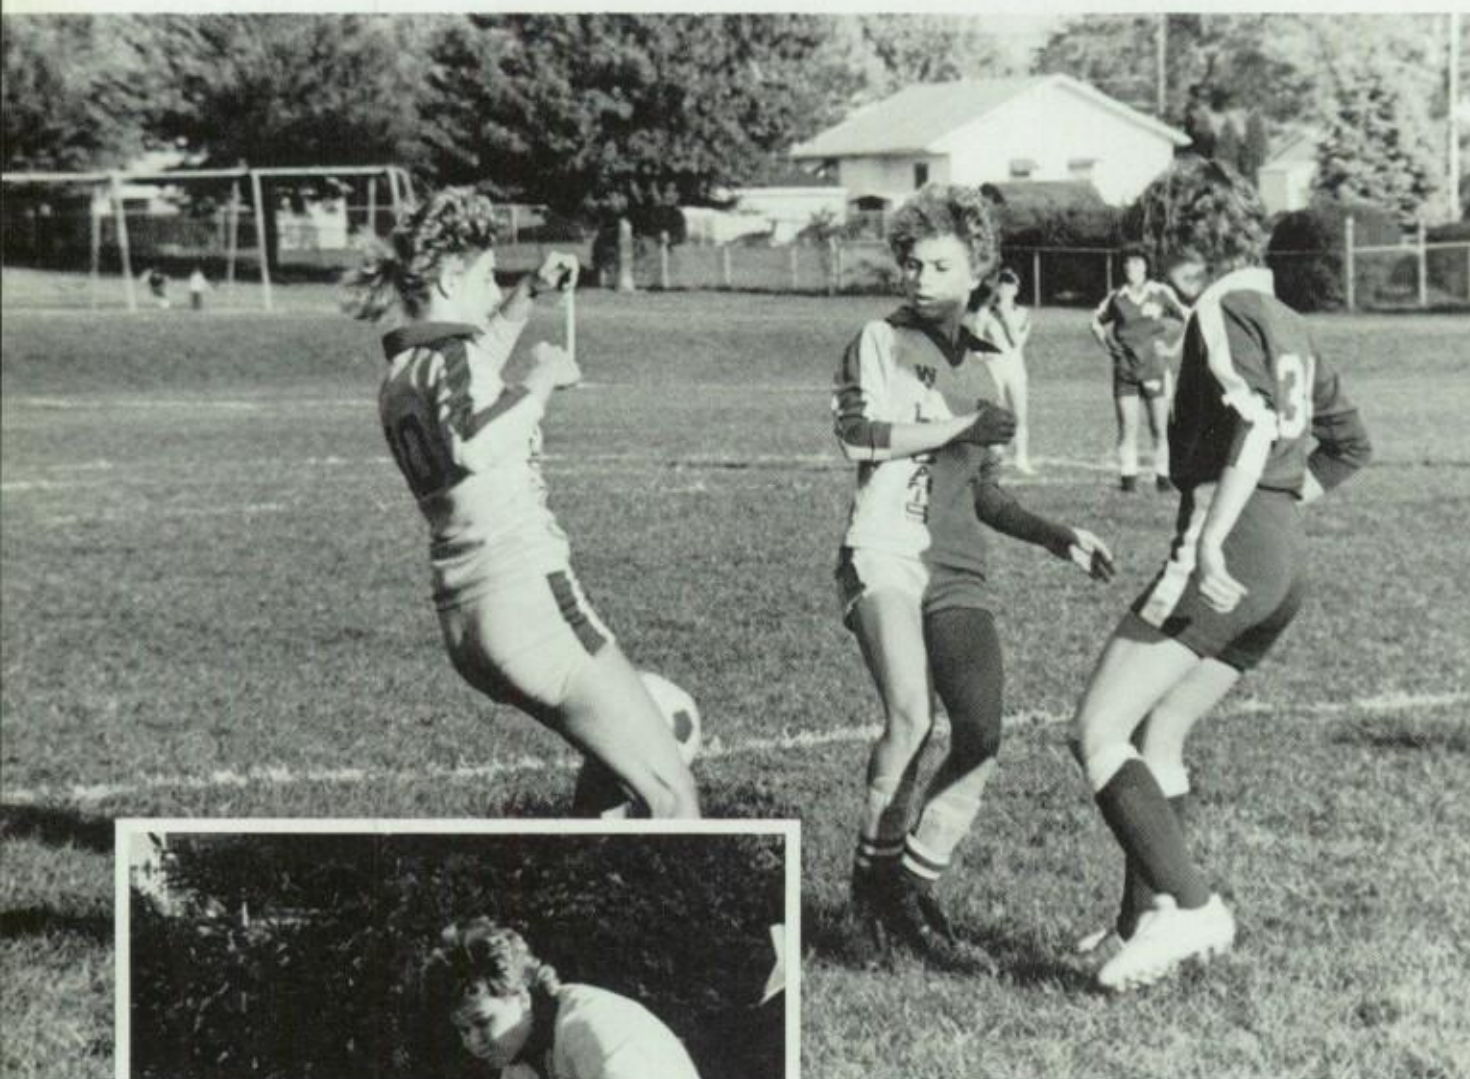

Sports Divider

Building unity is the major goal of sports. Every person is a very important part of the whole. Alone, he would be nothing. Together, they are a team: enduring practice everyday, the ups and downs, the exhilaration and the injuries, the wins and the losses. In unity there is strength and out of many diverse talents, one successful sports program results.

... ONE

Stealing the ball from the opponent, Sherry Milas plays an excellent game of soccer. Sherry is a senior and is saying goodbye to four years of great soccer.

Kicking and keeping the ball in, Dawn Ruff, a sophomore, plays an accurate attentive game. She will return next year as a fullback.

Showing excellent teamwork, Linda Milas and Jeanne Keefer pass and steal the ball from the opponent. Linda is a junior and Jeanne is a freshman. Both will return next year.

Girls' soccer has really come through Maple Shade athletics. In the 1985 fall season the Grande Girls took all South Jersey champs! They've come a long way, but Girls' soccer was introduced to Maple Shade just four short years ago. Their first season the varsity team was made up mostly of freshmen. But this year the freshmen were seniors, and they've fulfilled their dreams of becoming champions. There were a lot of rough times. They only won about four games in a three year period, but they still had heart.

This was the year the girls had been waiting for. They came out of the season with a 6-5-4 record and a championship. This was also the year for Coach Grande. His first year coaching varsity, all he went through the whole season was, "I want a jacket!" Well, he got it, and no one deserves it more. Mr. Grande was a very inspiring coach who wouldn't let his girls settle for anything less than South Jersey champs.

Also inspiring to the team were seniors Cindy Tull, Sherry Milas, and Charlene Canale. Cindy led the defense using strategy to protect the goal. Sherry led the offense with her aggressive, go-get-it attitude, and Charlene was just all over her, inspiring everyone.

The seniors who are leaving this year are Cindy Tull, Sherry Milas, Charlene Canale, Maria Bush, Barb Shelmer, and Gwenn Farr. Congratulations!

SPORTS FEATURE

AMONG THE BEST IN THE STATE

This year the cross country team entered uncharted waters when it competed in the state All Meet of Champions for the first time in the school's history. They were also the only team from Burlington County and one of the five teams from South Jersey to compete in this elite race.

The team which also placed second in the S.J. Group 1 Championship, qualified for the all-Group meet by placing second in the State Group 1 Championship. South Jersey's standout, Kevin Artur paced the Freedom Division Champs to their best finish ever in the meets.

Once again, Kevin led the way and was Striding along agilely, Dave Marshall outdistances his opponent. Dave is a junior and will be returning next year.

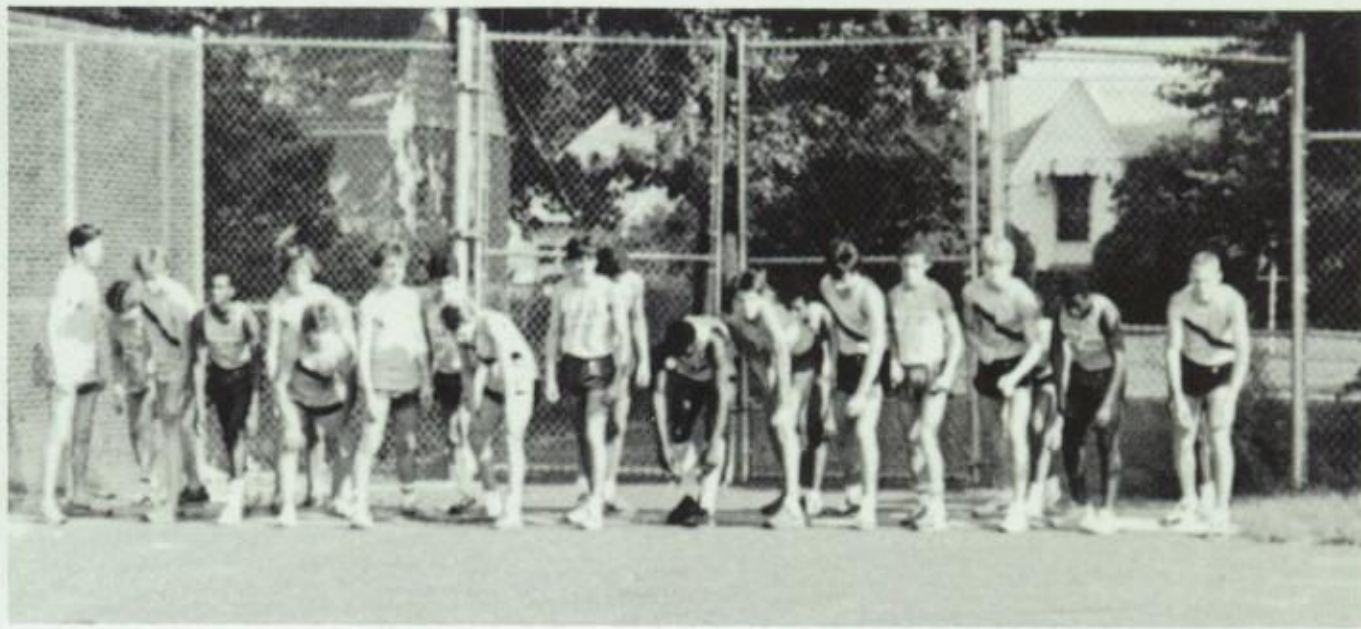

Gaining with an even stride, Joe Petrochako continues to improve. Joe is only a sophomore and will be an asset next year.

Maintaining an even pace, Jim Nolte led the pack for Maple Shade. Jim is also a wrestler.

followed by teammates, Jim Nolte, Bob Martin, Trevis Brooks, Dave Waite, Frank DiPatri, and Jeff Havers as the cross country team placed 16th overall in the state.

"We've never gone this far," stated Coach John Mitchel. "This is like icing on the cake for us."

Prepared for the hit, Cherie Haines tenses and stays alert. Cherie played third base.

Ready and willing at the plate, Denyse Jacobs prepares to hit a home run. This is Denyse's second year on the team.

With all her might, Kristin Martino hits the ball to the outfield. Kristin was a valuable player to the team.

Awesome!

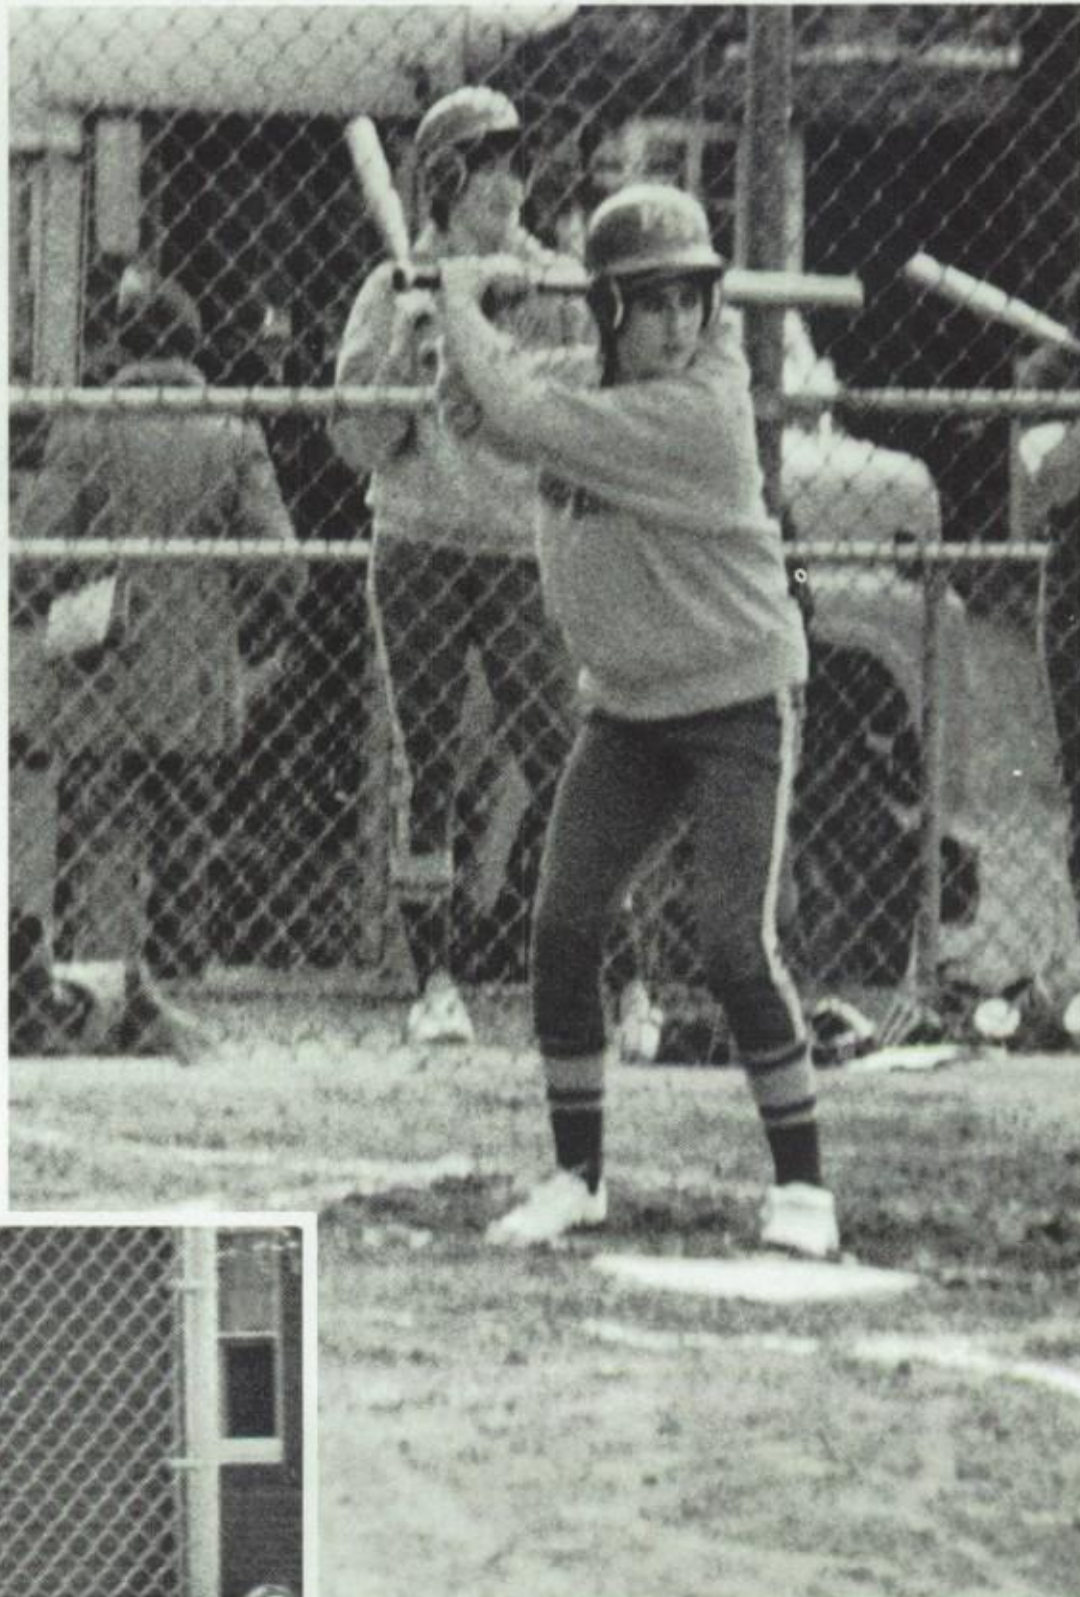

Our Maple Shade Girl's softball team is definitely a team to be proud of. Their record in the league has qualified them for the state tournament.

The two team members who provide leadership for the girls are captains Anne Kassekert and Sue Holloway.

The Wildcats have plenty of talent on their team. Dawn Ruff was a big surprise for Maple Shade with her excellent pitching. Combined with the pitching of Cheryl Myers, they make up the best pitching staff in the Freedom Division. Sue Holloway was the steadiest player on the team. Offensively, Maria Bush was batting over .400.

A couple of outstanding events this year have been Cheryl Myers' hitting a grand slam homerun against Northern Burlington and nine double plays by the Wildcat infield consisting of Anne Kassekert, Kristen Martinovich, and Sue Holloway.

Maple Shade has been picked by four coaches from other teams in the Freedom Division to win the division this year.

Tagging the base, Tracy Brown gets the opposing player out. Tracy is also a soccer player.

Tense and ready to run, Pat Nolan anticipates the steal. Pat was one of the juniors on varsity baseball.

Determined to win, Bob Harwalks off the field after what appears to have been a good inni. Bob is the man for the Maple Sha Wildcats.

Eagerly anticipating the pitch, Jeff Brown is ready to hit a home run. Jeff was a great asset to the team.

With a mighty swing, the ball cruises past the outfielders' heads. It was hits like this that made the Wildcats so successful.

Tough

Keeping up the good work, the Varsity baseball team at M.S.H.S. had a good season. With 11 wins and only 7 losses their tough practices paid off. Although the team was made up mostly of seniors, the underclassmen contributed just as much effort. Gary Emenecker and Joe Cerasi had a spectacular offensive attack. Steve Charnowski and Joe Palermo also had the right swings to help the team.

Thanks to Coach Varsaci, the Varsity team had a successful year. Good luck to the Seniors in their future years and congratulations on a great year.

Practicing the proper position for the javelin, Craig Kreisworth shows excellent form. Craig was also on the football team.

In The Hunt

It was a year to gain experience. "With the losses of athletes like Ken Karcher, Jackson, and Ted Taylor, we knew we would have to rebuild. However, we didn't have as good of a turnout as expected, and it made it a tough season," stated Coach Mitchell.

Except for Rich Reese, the team consisted of all underclassmen. With this being the case, most of the athletes found themselves participating in events that they were never in before. Rich Reese was one of these athletes. A high jumper last year, Rich found himself in running events as well this year.

There were a few individuals who pulled the team along through this tough season. They included, Rob Bennett and Craig Kreisner in the weights, Frank DiPatri in the 3200m and Devin Arthur in the 1600m.

Kevin, the captain of the team, had an outstanding season finishing fourth in South Jersey (Group I) and eleventh in the state in the 600m. He was named to the Freedom Division All-Star Third Team in that event and was also chosen as the team's Most Valuable Player.

This small team pulled together and worked hard to gain experience. With the entire team, except Rich Reese, back next year, the track team should be in the hunt for its first Freedom Division Championship.

Going for the longest jump, Eric Jordan was an asset to the team.

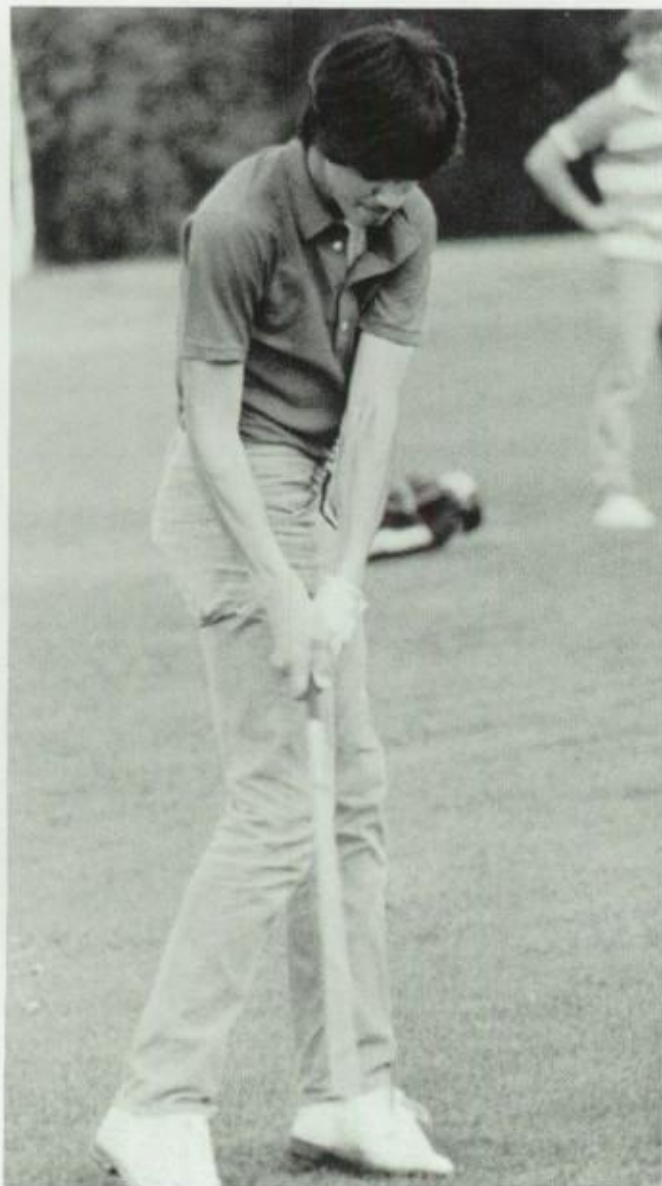

Attempting an extremely high jump, Richard Reese was outstanding on the track team.

Approaching the pole vaulting position, Fritz Ottaviano concentrates intensely. Fritz is also on the football and wrestling teams.

Joe Hahn is back this year to improve his game. Most of the team returned that played in previous years and are improving. They are playing consistently this year and plan to do better.

FOOTBALL

Running as fast as he can, Kevin Vallen beats out his opponent. Kevin is a senior, so this is his last year.

The "Cats" came on strong at the beginning of the season. They won their first two home games. Bill Ensign had the right moves to help the Wild Cats. The Cats were slipping as the season progressed. However, the last game against Burlington Twp. had all Maple Shade fans on the edge of their seats. Maple Shade tied Burlington Twp., one of the best teams, and left the season ready for the next year with their heads held high. Kevin Vallen, a senior, made the tying touchdown for M.S. with the great assistance of a new student to Maple Shade, Duke Newsom and his wonderful quarterbacking abilities. Duke was transferred from Pennsauken one month before the game and learned the plays quickly and used them accurately to help the Cats. Duke is a junior and will probably lead the Cats to a great season next year. Good luck in the future, Cats! Congratulations to the seniors on a good season.

Ed Read goes for the ball hoping to recover while John Colbert tries to help.

About to call "Hike," Roco Prate has a great p mind. This is Roco's third year in football.

Giving it their all, the Wildcat team goes for it!!!!

Looking for a touchdown, Kevin Vallen makes a great play.

Looking pert and attentive, Andrea Yocum and Heather DiLenge participated in the competition at Moorestown Mall.

CHEER- LEADING

"Winning isn't always everything." After many hard practices, the moment everyone was awaiting had finally come.

On Oct. 13, 1985 the Varsity football team Cheerleaders entered competition at the Moorestown Mall. That was a big day for the cheerleaders. The top five squads would proceed to California for further competition. The girls were not in the competition for their own glamour and fame but to present Maple Shade High School and Maple Shade Twp. in a positive way.

Although they didn't win the trip to California, they did win a better prize, the best prize of all. They were left with a good feeling of friendship, unity, and a feeling of accomplishment.

Congratulations on your excellent performance and better luck in the future years.

Enthusiastically rooting for the football team, Amy White is very precise in her motions.

Exhibiting cat claws as a sign of their spirit, Judy Zak and Kris Lind take time out for a soda.

BOYS' SOCCER

When the 1985 Varsity Soccer season opened, there were high hopes as Glenn Cladeck, the new head coach, managed to get the Wildcats through the pre-season undefeated. After this, there were only a few bright spots for the coach and his players. Many of the seniors had to suffer through their third disappointing season in a row as once again "the soccer program was in another building year."

A major reason why this promising team never became a winner was because of a large number of injuries. There were so many problems in this area that the starting line-up never appeared the same as in the opening game. According to Joe Hahn, "The team lacked a cohesive bond since the line-up was never the same. As a player you did not know what to expect."

In co-captains, Mike Barrett and Steve Charnowski's point of view, "The soccer program has lacked stability as Maple Shade has had five coaches in three years. With each coach, a new system is adopted, and coaches and players must adapt. In order to turn the program into a winner, it is important to have a coach who has worked with the players from their freshmen year."

Although the seniors were experienced, the team was young and easily frustrated. Half of the starters were either freshmen or sophomores and many of the others were moved to new positions. With the start of the season, there were new players at the wings, outside half-backs, and side full-backs, which left the Wildcats with inexperience in many areas.

However, there were some bright spots which cause optimism for the future. The Wildcats were able to hang tough in every game and were not embarrassed as they never gave up. Also, they knocked out ranked Northern Burlington out of the playoffs by handing them a 2-1 defeat. In addition to this the Cats ended up the season with a 5-2 win over Burlington Township. Finally, the J.V. team had a very successful season in which they finished just under .500 percent.

With a returning coach and promising players, many feel next year is the year to turn everything around. According to senior winger Billy Wells, "Next year's team will win at least ten games as many of the younger players are playing on a team in a winter league to further develop their skills; most feel the future is bright for the soccer program as the players have learned from their difficulties."

FIELD HOCKEY

ing for the pass from Lisa Douglas, Diane Hirsh ts with anticipation.

Although the Varsity Field Hockey Team was only able to accomplish a 3-8-5 record, dedication and devotion reigned throughout the season. The team's desire was sparked by a combination of Coach Terry Knowles' enthusiasm and the players eagerness.

"Even though we didn't win as much as we'd have liked to, the team's cooperation and spirit kept us optimistic at each game," remarked Kimberly Oliver.

Coach Knowles always told her players to be aggressive and to communicate on the field at all times. "Everyone on the team got along very well. We became like a family which made it easier to handle the losses," exclaimed Christine English.

Next year the Varsity Team will be marked by many new faces, due to the fact that almost the entire squad will have graduated. The varsity seniors are hopeful that they've left the remaining players with experience equal to the great times the underclassmen provided them with.

Penny Tavormina, one of the tri-captains summed it up when she said, "I'm certain the team will be successful next year because they'll be able to learn from this past year's mistakes. I know I'm speaking for all the seniors when I say there's never a way we can thank our coach and the underclassmen enough for all the terrific times we had this season. We'll miss them all!"

Exhausted after a hard game, the girls relax. Their record this year was good.

CROSS COUNTRY

It was another glorious year for the Cross Country Team. The team, which has not lost a division meet in the past three years, not only ran away with their fourth straight Freedom Division Championship, but they also had one of the best teams in the past few years.

This year's team was different, however. Not only was it the first year they were picked to win the division, but there was no one great runner who always finished first. Instead, there were five runners who always ran as a pack all year long. This pack became known as "The Big Five," and it posed a threat to every team in the division.

Senior Captain Kevin Arthur, Junior Captain Jim Nolte, Seniors Trevis Brooks and Frank DiPatri, along with Sophomore Bob Martin made up the "Big Five." Junior Dave Marshall also ran along with these individuals on a constant basis until stricken by injury during mid-season.

Other players were Seniors Brian Weaver and Tim Taylor, Juniors Dave Connelly and John Wise, Sophomores Jeff Havers and Joe Petrochko, and Freshmen Jim Bogart, Dave Waite, and Chuck Colbert.

WRESTLING

Experienced New Coach

This year's wrestling team again had another coach change, this time for the better. Mike Shuld, a very experienced wrestling coach, will eventually guide these Wildcats to a championship season.

"Although this year's record didn't reflect the wrestling of the team itself, we were in just about every match," states Coach Shuld. A few kids, have had a very successful season such as Rob Bennett and Fritz Ottaviano. Bennett finished the regular season undefeated (18-0), the first ever to do so from Maple Shade. Each of the two should do well in the post-season tournaments.

The line-up included freshman Chris Ormsby at 101 lbs., at 108 lbs. Joe Castellani, and at 129 lbs., Scott "the shot" Worthington and at 158 lbs., Marc Pasciullo. Juniors included at 141 lbs. John Murtaugh and at 135 lbs. Fritz "all world" Ottaviano. The seniors are at 188 lbs. Breden Beeham Smith III, at 148 lbs. Bobby Ray "untie the shoe and stall" Harris, at 170 lbs. Ed "Troll" Felix and at Heavyweight Rob "Stretch" Bennett.

"It takes a special kind of person to be a wrestler. The mental discipline a wrestler must have is probably the most important part in wrestling", says Rob Bennett.

The youngness of the team is good for the future with seven Varsity lettermen returning. Other future prospects to look forward to are Anthony Moffa, Charlie Doyle, Chuck Colbert, Rob Perkins, Bubba Ziner, and P.J. Ackerman.

Freshman Chris Ormsby proved to be a Wildcat the mat as he wrestled 101 Varsity.

At 6' 8", senior, Rob Bennett, is having the season of his life as he is attempting to go undefeated. He is also active in football and track.

BOWLING

Lots of Fun

Every year the JV and Varsity bowling teams have become better. Bowling is also fun. It is not just a game to win; it is a way to meet more and more people. It is a way to be with your friends after school hours.

Everyone on the team is very supportive, especially the coach Mr. John Foulkes, also a guidance counselor for MSHS. He helps everyone improve her game, shows what people are doing wrong, and makes them practice it the right way.

It is very enjoyable to be on the bowling team. Come out and join us.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Lady Wildcats

The Lady Wildcats may be "ladies", but they are "wildcats: on the court. The game of basketball at Maple Shade High is full of excitement and intensity. Even though they did not make the tournament, the team still plays to win.

Coached by Don Bianco and Ted Marshall, Assistant Coach, they have guided the Lady Wildcats to a very satisfying season. Also, the game of basketball does not just involve dribbling and passing, it involves responsibilities and pride. Every day the girls must be ready to practice at 5:00 sharp. They give their most, so that it will reflect while playing an important game. At each game they play their hardest to gain respect and keep their pride, so no other team will be superior to the Lady Wildcats.

This year may not be the most successful win wise, but the Lady Wildcats have established that they are still a team to be reckoned with.

Catching a pass in the air, senior Charlene Carr attempts to evade the guard and score a basket. Charlene also played lacrosse.

Giving the junior varsity some strategy tips, Coach Marshall has done a fine job in readying the underclassmen for varsity play.

Gracefully anticipating a pass, senior Eileen Hewlett was an asset to the team.

BOYS'

BASKETBALL

Inconsistency with a capital "I"

The boys basketball team did improve in many ways this year, but the win/loss record doesn't tell the story. The word on all the player's lips was "inconsistency" as it seemed Maple Shade played well enough to lose by a few points to the good teams as well as the bad.

Coach Ranshaw agreed with this as he commented, "Last year the team lost many games by twenty points or more, but this year, we were very competitive although the record is similar."

On the positive side, the players constantly showed outstanding effort and determination as they never gave up throughout the season. Through their hard work, the team earned the respect of the competition and the referees. In attesting to this, Coach Ranshaw remarked, "I received compliments after many of the games for the opposing coaches. It's nice to know that others have noticed an improvement over last year."

Also, the team enjoyed the practices and games as this year the Wildcats possessed spirit and a good attitude. In agreement, Joe Hahn, a two-year starter, stated, "This year there was a team attitude that resulted in concern for our teammates on and off the courts."

The players greatly appreciated the support of the cheerleaders, classmates, and parents. Co-captain Steve Charnowsli backed this up by stating, "The cheerleaders and crowd give the team a lift when we're on the court."

The seniors Rob White, Rob Vitale, Greg Reyher, Joe Hahn, Rich Jastremski, and Steve Charnowski give a special thanks to Coaches Ranshaw and Bruce Krout wishing them and the underclassmen luck in next year's season.

CHEERLEADING

A Trying Season

This year's winter cheerleading squad underwent several changes. Not only was the squad cut from eighteen (the amount during football season) to twelve, but the advisor was also switched. However, through the support of Miss Pazdan, the squad's new advisor, they managed to pull through a trying season.

As in the past, the seniors who had made the squad during the fall were guaranteed their spot on the squad. This year's seniors were Margie Wesolowski, captain, Charlene Costa, co-captain, Tracy McCracken, and Andrea Yocum. This left only eight spots open during tryouts. The rest of the squad consists of juniors Valerie Tallarida, Leslie Sciamanna, and Kristen Lind; and sophomores Heather DiLenge, Kristen Schofield, Amy White, Marie Scott, and Michaela Hartery.

With the squad cut, the potential capabilities were not as unique as before. Many of the cheerleaders felt a squad of eighteen was much more beneficial. Stated junior Valerie Tallarida, "It limited us a lot. We had to adjust to things we otherwise took for granted." Agreeing, Charlene Costa said, "Our stunts and pyramids had to be cut which didn't give the full effect we were used to." However, the squad worked out their problems and completed their season successfully!

Clubs Divider

Many different clubs comprise the extracurricular activities at Maple Shade High School. Regardless of interest, there is a club designed to fill it. From the Computer Club to the Drama Club, if there is an area a student wishes to pursue, there is an opportunity in a club. Of all the many clubs, their emphasis is on one goal — the interests of the students.

One thing that unites all clubs is the need for money. A popular fundraiser was the candy sale.

SPANISH CLUB

Hola amigos! This year's Spanish Club did very well. The officers for 1985-86 are President, Michele Pasciullo, Vice-President, Gina Santore, secretary, Amy Wolfe, and treasurer, Lara Diamond. Together Spanish and French Club have had their first fund raiser by selling freshly baked cakes. The sale of flowers for Valentine's Day began in January, and the club wished to earn as much money as possible so that it could grant a scholarship as it has for so many previous years.

Spanish Club's main goal is to get people involved. A goal of $500 was set to be used as a scholarship.

Spanish Club also attended Chi Chi's on December 21, 1985. It's an annual event, it's fun and it's a good way to get a taste of Spanish culture. There will be another meeting during the summer.

School Unity

Each year in August, the yearbook staff gets together to plan the next year's book. A theme must be thought of, the plan is planned out, and editorial positions are assigned. This year's theme, Out of Many, One, was meant to reflect school unity and togetherness. To develop this theme, the staff created a cover to show Marjorie Shade's originality out of all the schools in the world.

Although the staff was small, it continued to produce a quality book. A welcome new addition to the staff was the advisor, Mrs. Sandy Fingerman. Because of her experience with yearbooks, she was able to motivate the staff to its fullest potential.

In January, a major deadline was met, proving the book would come out on time. With a lot of dedication and hard work, the yearbook staff turned out a book that they can truly be proud of.

Typing his "Brahuman" heart out, John Capers gives up some time after school. John plans to join the Marines next year.

Sacrificing some precious moments, Michele Pasciullo and Kelly Urban stay after school to work on the yearbook. Michele succeeded Rodger De... as editor of the "Retrospect".

Deciding what pictures should go in the yearbook, Jennifer Krug and Anita McGann muse themselves. This was each one's first year in the yearbook staff.

Yearbook Business Staff — the backbone of the scenes yearbook people.

The Yearbook begins with posters. Hundreds of colorful signs announcing the yearbook, always popular memory book. Preparations are then made for the high school yearbook meeting. This is the time for ordering yearbook and giving out patron books.

Collecting all the money comes next. It's hard, but a very tedious job. It takes countless hours to check off those people who have purchased a yearbook. The final phase of this job is to send letters home to the parents of those people that have not purchased a yearbook. Hopefully, some of these parents will decide to order a yearbook. Mr. Rutan tells the parents in his letters to consider the yearbook a Christmas present given in June.

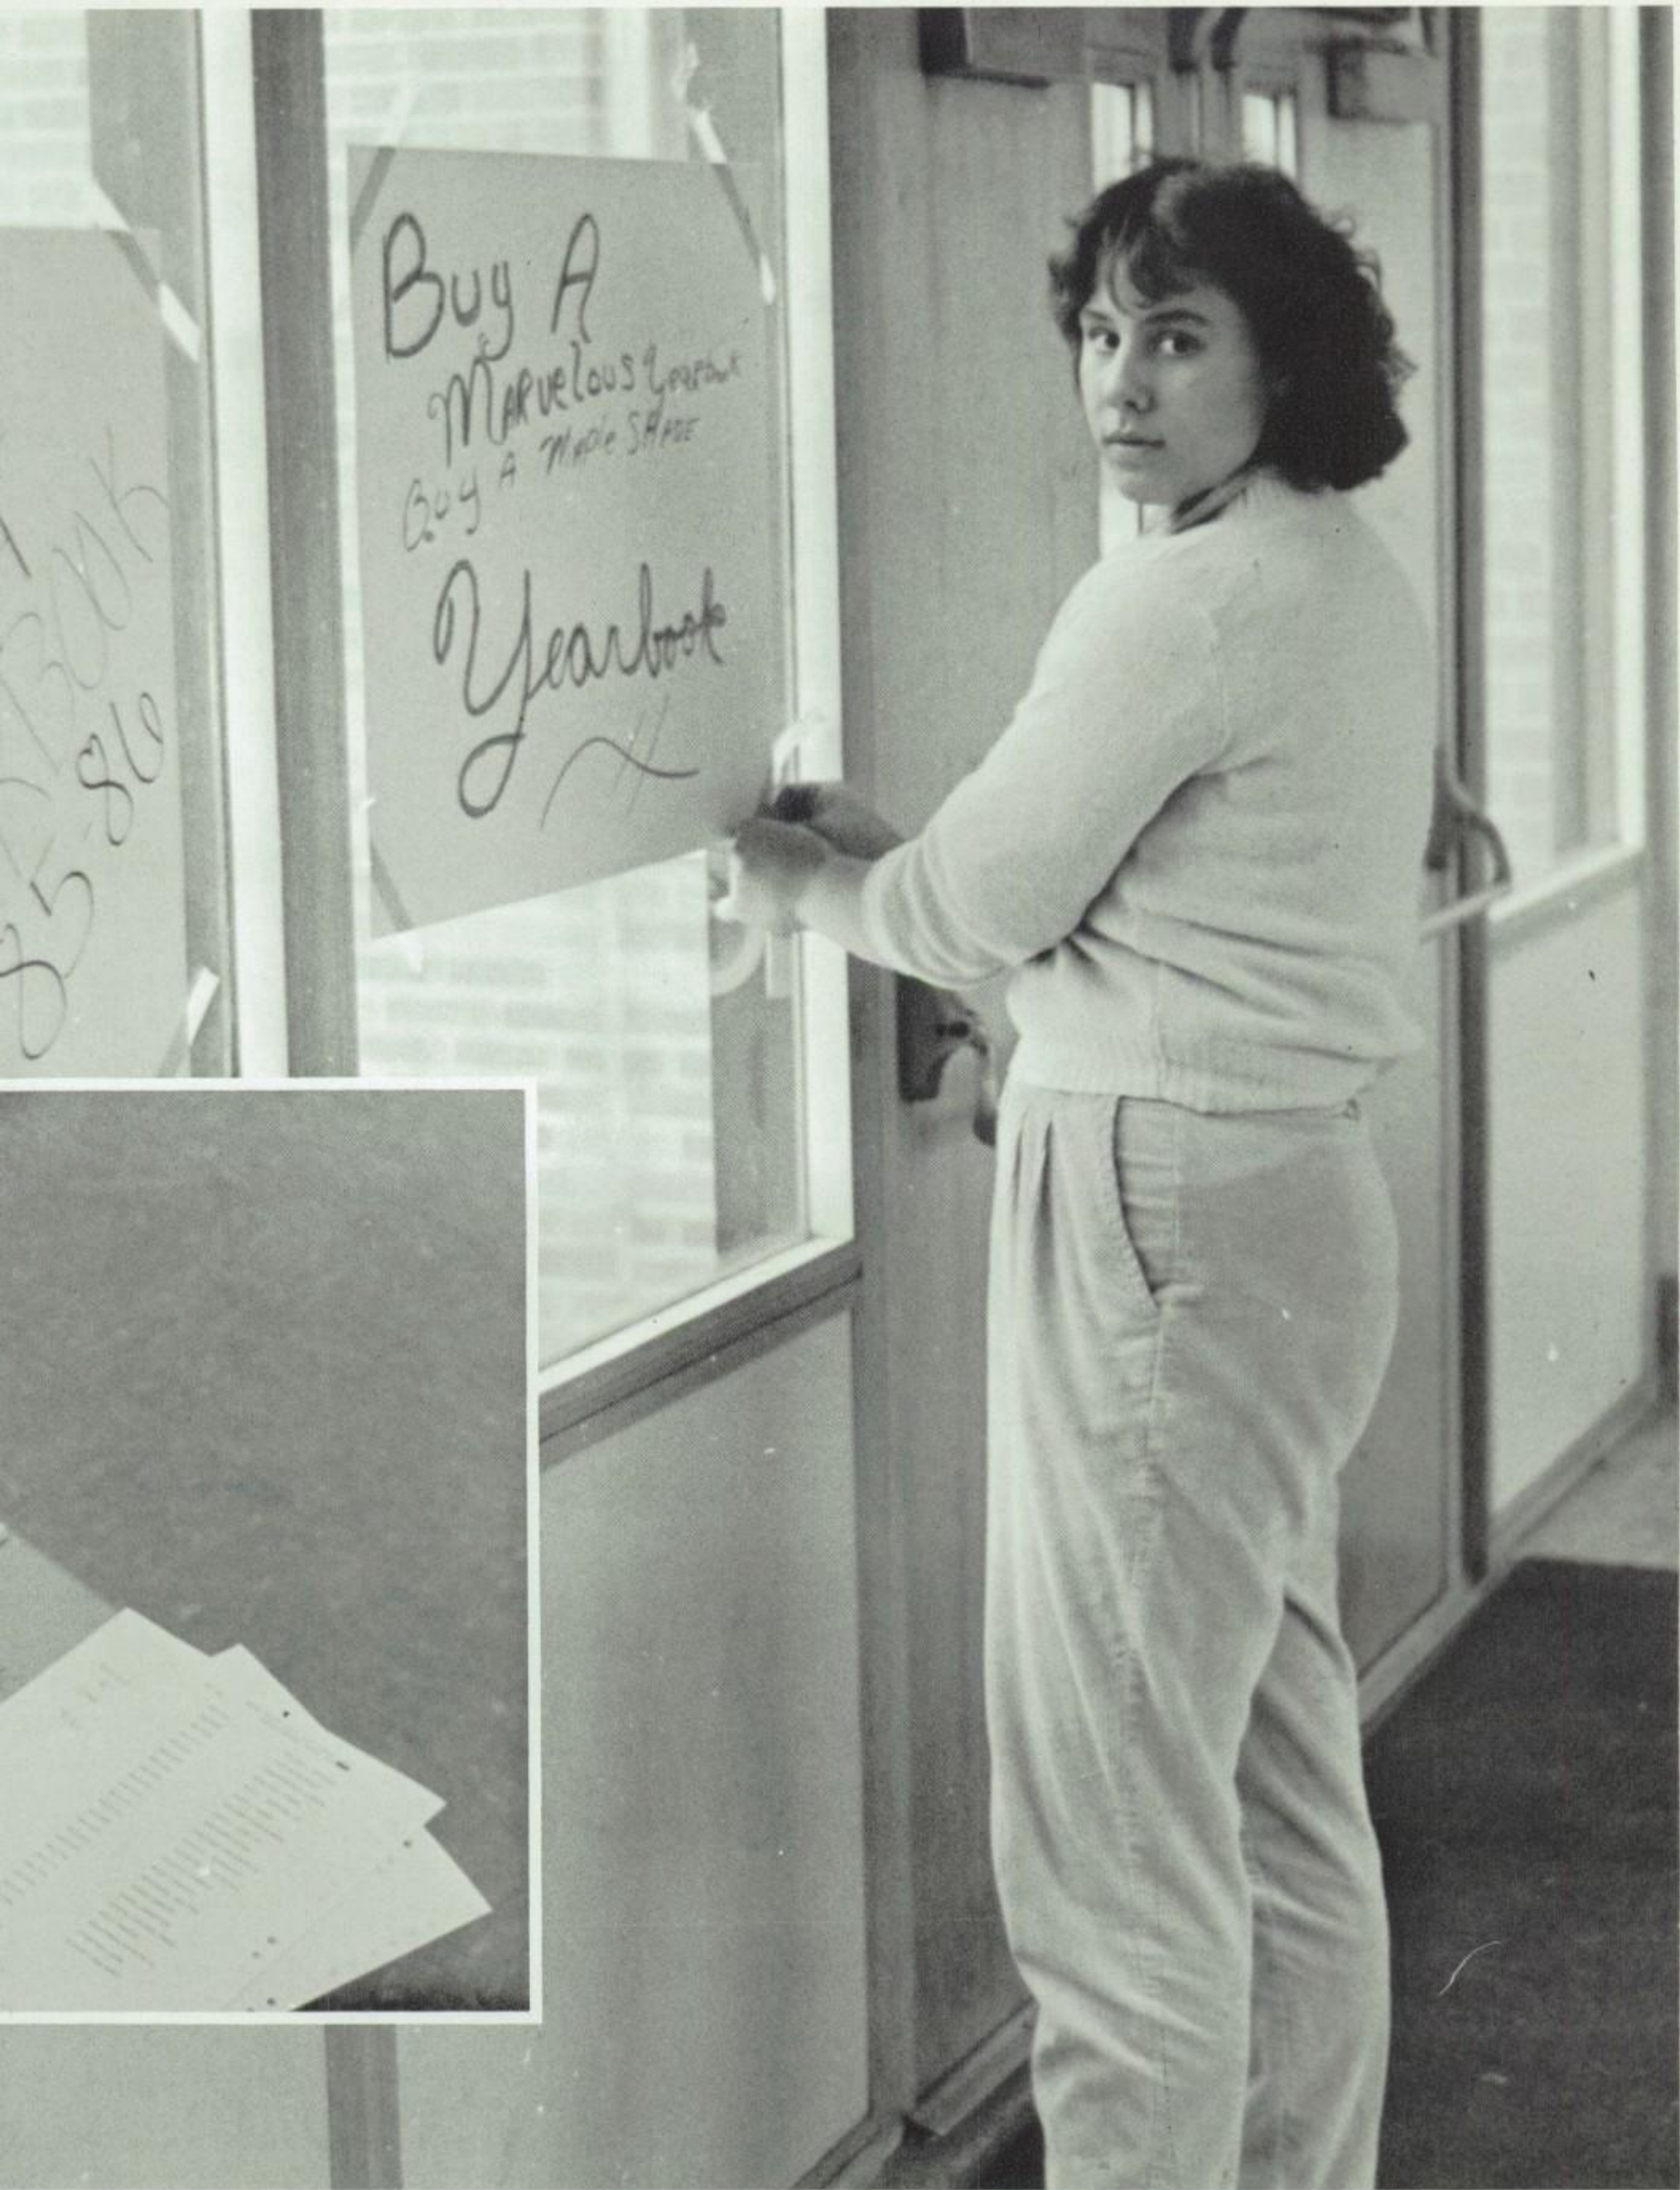

Finally, the day comes which makes everyone proud; the look on the students' faces when they receive the book.

Working very intently, Bob D'Angelo helps to complete the necessary paper work crucial to the organization.

A diligent worker for both the business and literary staff, Kelly Urban is an asset to both parts of the yearbook.

Hanging signs portraying positive publicity is an important function of the yearbook business staff. McGann aids the process.

Help in the working world

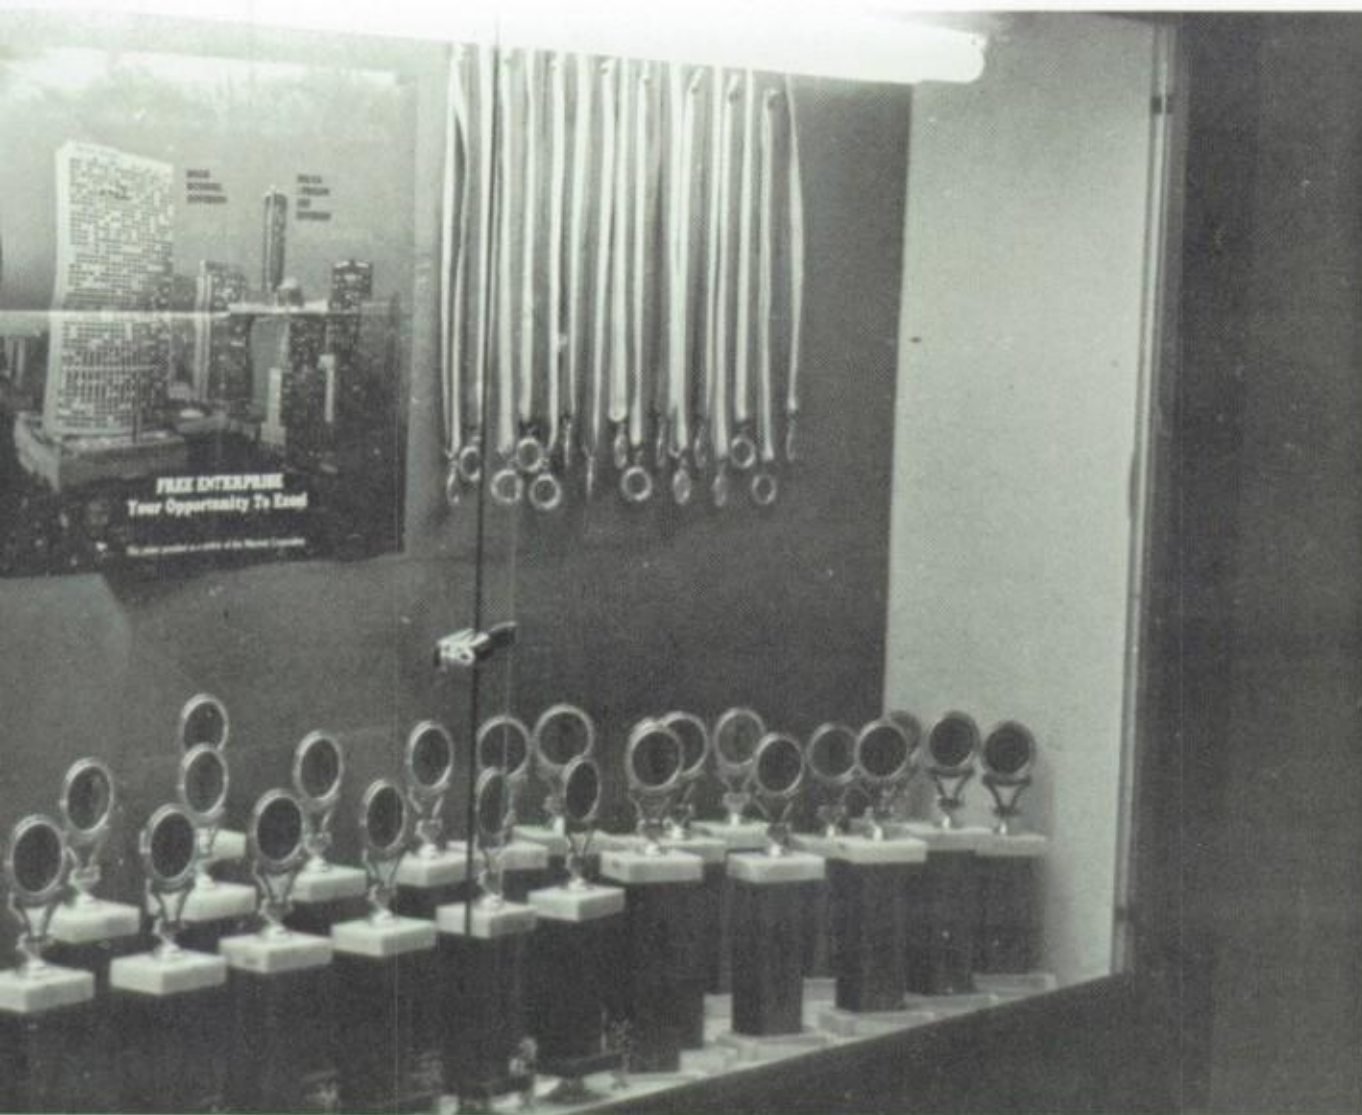

D.E.C.A. is a club aimed towards helping today's juniors and seniors in the working world. It starts out with classroom instruction from an experienced DECA teacher, Mr. Lupini, who teaches the goals of the working world.

The next goal is to go to Regional Competition where they compete with other area schools in written tests and role playing that show what may happen in a real business situation. If they pass this part, they go off to STATES where more competition with all the schools in the state, trying for the chance to go to Nationals in beautiful Atlanta, Georgia.

After all the classroom instruction and the competition has died down, the D.E.C.A. students are ready to go out and get a job. Employers usually find that D.E.C.A. students are better because they seem to know more about business than other students their age.

Although most students at Maple Shade High School tend to mock chorus, they should realize the caliber of talent involved here. This year's senior high chorus comprised of approximately 15 female students ranging from freshmen to seniors. Every day chorus class meets just as any other class, and the girls warm up and sing their hearts out! At Christmastime the chorus performed various Christmas songs at the Winter Concert and also gave an over-whelming performance in the Spring Concert along with several solos by the senior chorus members.

Although not that many students are recognized for the time and effort they put into Chorus, the chorus will continue to do what they do best. Keep on singing!

Singing their hearts out, Trish Fegley and Lauren Paulus practice for chorus. Trish and Lauren will be graduating this year, and will be missed in chorus.

New Club Comes to MSHS

DRAMA CLUB

After the drama class was dropped several years ago, there has been new interest in theatre. This interest culminated on the night of the auditions for the fall drama. The potential actors and actresses asked vice principal Ninerell why there wasn't an organization for the theatre people. Mr. Ninerell replied, "O.K. we'll start a drama club tomorrow morning".

The following Wednesday, the meeting was held to elect officers. John "Brahuma" Capers won the office of president on the slogan "Brahuma for Drama". The other officers are as follows: vice-president — Sharon Gill; secretary — Lauren Paulus; treasurer — Sue Favatella.

"The purpose of the elite Drama Club is to promote drama throughout the school and in the community," quoted John Capers. The members will be going on several field trips throughout the year to various colleges and shows. There will be one-act festivals several times after school to raise money for the new club. These festivals will be judged by Mr. Luni, Mrs. Poinsett and Ms. Priest.

Playing Simon Says, Kathy and Carmella Tartaglia concentrate on winning. Both sisters are in the Drama Club.

Staring in space, Judy Badame plans to win a game of Simon Says at play rehearsal. Judy is a veteran of several plays.

Serving the Community

Working diligently, Miss Encandela tries to get her grades in on time. This was Miss Encandela's first year as Key Club advisor.

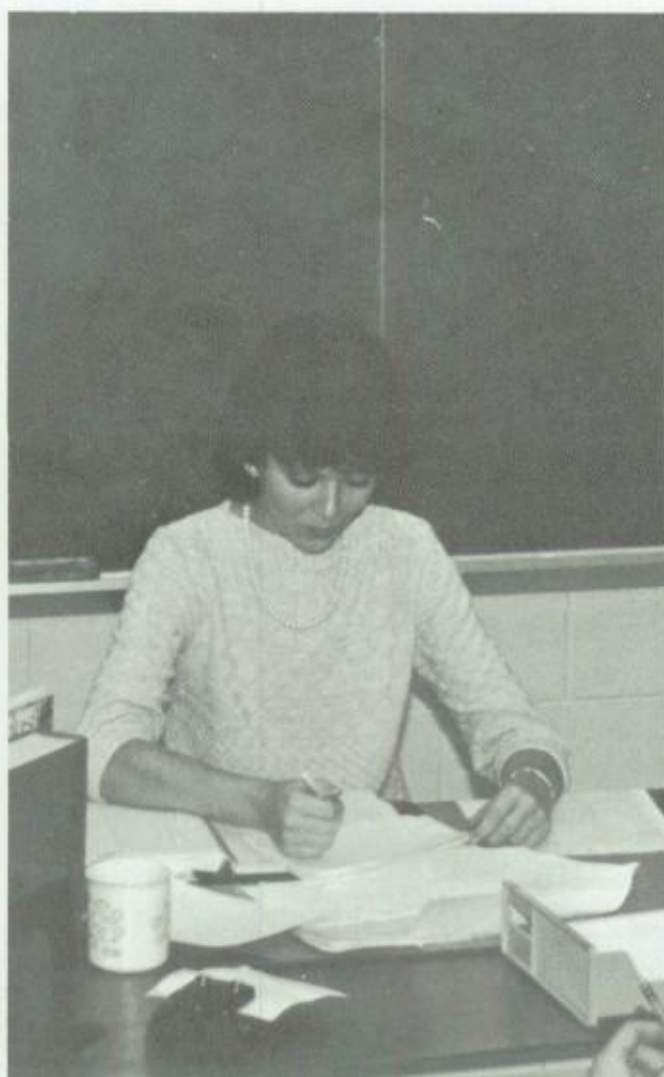

Teamwork is always a must in Computer Science. Mike Tucci and Chris Diebert were partners, as they took on the challenge of computers.

The Key Club is an organization which serves the community and the school.

The year began with the beautifying of the school's courtyard. Tulip and Crocus bulbs were planted in the flower beds to liven the courtyard's appearance during the spring.

During the month of November a canned food drive took place and in December Project Santa. The two fund raisers collected money for the needy of the community and were very helpful.

Other projects the club has worked on have been Pennies for UNICEF and Save The Children; both were very successful National Club projects.

Learning the BASICS

COMPUTER SOCIETY

Computers are constantly changing the world. Everyday more and more jobs are being taken over by computers.

Through the Computer Society, the students at Maple Shade have been able to keep up with these changes. Anyone in Computer Science 1 and 2 is eligible to join.

Both of these courses give an in depth look into the world of computer programming. Computer Sciences 1 starts out with BASIC commands which leads into BASIC-PLUS in the demanding Computer Science 2 class.

The officers heading this club are elected from both courses. Anyone was eligible to run, but in the end, President Steve Charnowski, Vice-President Chris English, Treasurer Kevin Arthur, and Secretary Kim Olivier were elected.

As long as there is an output from the Computer Society, Maple Shade students will be able to keep up with the changing world of computers.

Spending some time after school, Nat Baker learns how to use a computer. The library has offered this privilege for two years now.

Listening to their advisor, Key Club members laugh and have a good time. Key Club's function is to help the community.

A New Half-time Show

No one saw the bandfront or heard the marchers begin to put together a new half-time show. The band this year began on the 50 yard line and marched towards the homestands. The previous two years the band began on the opponent's goal line. The show began with the band's new cadence and opening song "Sierra"

In the middle of the program, the band split into two giant pinwheels while junior John Carr played his solo. The next number was "American Made", by the Oak Ridge Boys. The third number was "I'm So Excited", by the Pointer Sisters. The band's finale was a slow version of "America the Beautiful".

The band added some new bandstand music for the fans and cheerleaders, but they kept the old favorites "Coke Is It," "Zorro" and "The Stripper."

During the homecoming game, the band waits in the stands for the half to be over, ready to regale the fans.

Hard at work getting ready for the football season, the marching band proudly represents Maple Shade both at home and away games.

HONOR

A Competitive Battle

The National Honor Society is a small but select group. These members have shown their services, character, leadership, citizenship, and scholarship for which this club stands. Being highly active in sports, clubs, and government, they must be able to maintain a 3.25 grade point average at the same time.

A major undertaking of the National Honor Society was competing in a College Bowl at Rutgers University. With the help of Mrs. Smith, the team of five prepared for a month before their appearance. They practiced by going over trivia questions from Time, Newsweek, and Trivial Pursuit. The team consisted of Captain, Steve Charnowski, Penny Tavormina, Michele Pasciullo, and Dan Avallone and alternate Kevin Arthur. A cheering section of thirteen highly motivated individuals went with them. In the competitive battle with Toms River, the final score was Tom River 160, MS 130.

Caught by surprise by the camera, Kevin Arthur rests on the bus to the competition. Kevin was also involved in Cross Country.

Posing for the camera, Penny Tavormina, Steve Charnowski, Michele Pasciullo, and Donald Avallone show they were having fun.

ing before the competition, Steve Charnowski

SOCIETY

Showing they're not nervous, the group relaxes on Maple Shade High School wall. They played against Toms River in the College Bowl.

Showing nervous smiles, our Honor Society team is waiting to start the game. Though we held the lead for the first half of the game, Toms River still stole the victory from us.

MEDIA CLUB

Helpful to Library

Media club is a combination of students that volunteered for AVA and Library help. Together this club files books, delivers movies and delivers the infinite late book forms. They help take the workload off Mrs. Alfano and Mr. Huff, so they can do more important things like filing new books and finding out that Johnny has returned his overdue book yet. So the volunteers seem to help keep the library in good shape so when you have to go in to find a book on Ronald Reagan or Richard Nixon you know it's going to be there before someone hasn't beaten you to it!

Preparing for another day's workload, Judy Sano prepares a film projector. Judy is also an active member in the new Drama Club.

MEDIA CLUB Front: Bucky Baker, Dolores Stuart, Hee Sook Kang, Andrew Proctor, Stephanie Hansel, Rebecca Markaward, Nickole Benjamin, Renee Weston, Middle: David Borginis, Angela Dean, Young Ju, Nick Sano, Monique Artwell, Tracy Russo, Pauline Coleman, Eun Sook Kang, Laura Beebee, Oriana M., Back: John Capers, Renee Miller, Dennis Yates, Tammy Theil, Lisa Newman, Pat String, Kim Whibby, Rob Lafferty, Bob Andreano, Richard Piccola, Kathy Tartaglia, Judy Sano, Rob Wells

Stamping papers, Dennis Pilaro works alone in the AVA room. This is Dennis' second year in AVA.

NEWSPAPER

The Shade Informer is the school newspaper for Maple Shade High School. It usually consists of four pages with sections on music, gossip, and sports along with current events. Each year the paper is put out about four times. Mrs. Ferguson runs the whole show and puts a lot of time and energy into it. The writers consist of students from grades 7-12. Each member writes one or more stories, then they are proofread by Mrs. Ferguson. Next, the stories are individually printed; then the staff members get together and lay the whole paper out. Finally, it is sent to the printers and then distributed throughout the school. The co-editors for this year's Shade Informer are Barb Belmerdine and Sharon Gill.

Reading their finished product, John Capers, Rita Badame, and John Leahy look pleased. All are seniors, so this is their last year on the Newspaper Staff.

Discussing an article in the paper, Mike Barrett and Pat Delany work on the Newspaper Staff. They are both experienced at working on the Staff.

Something New

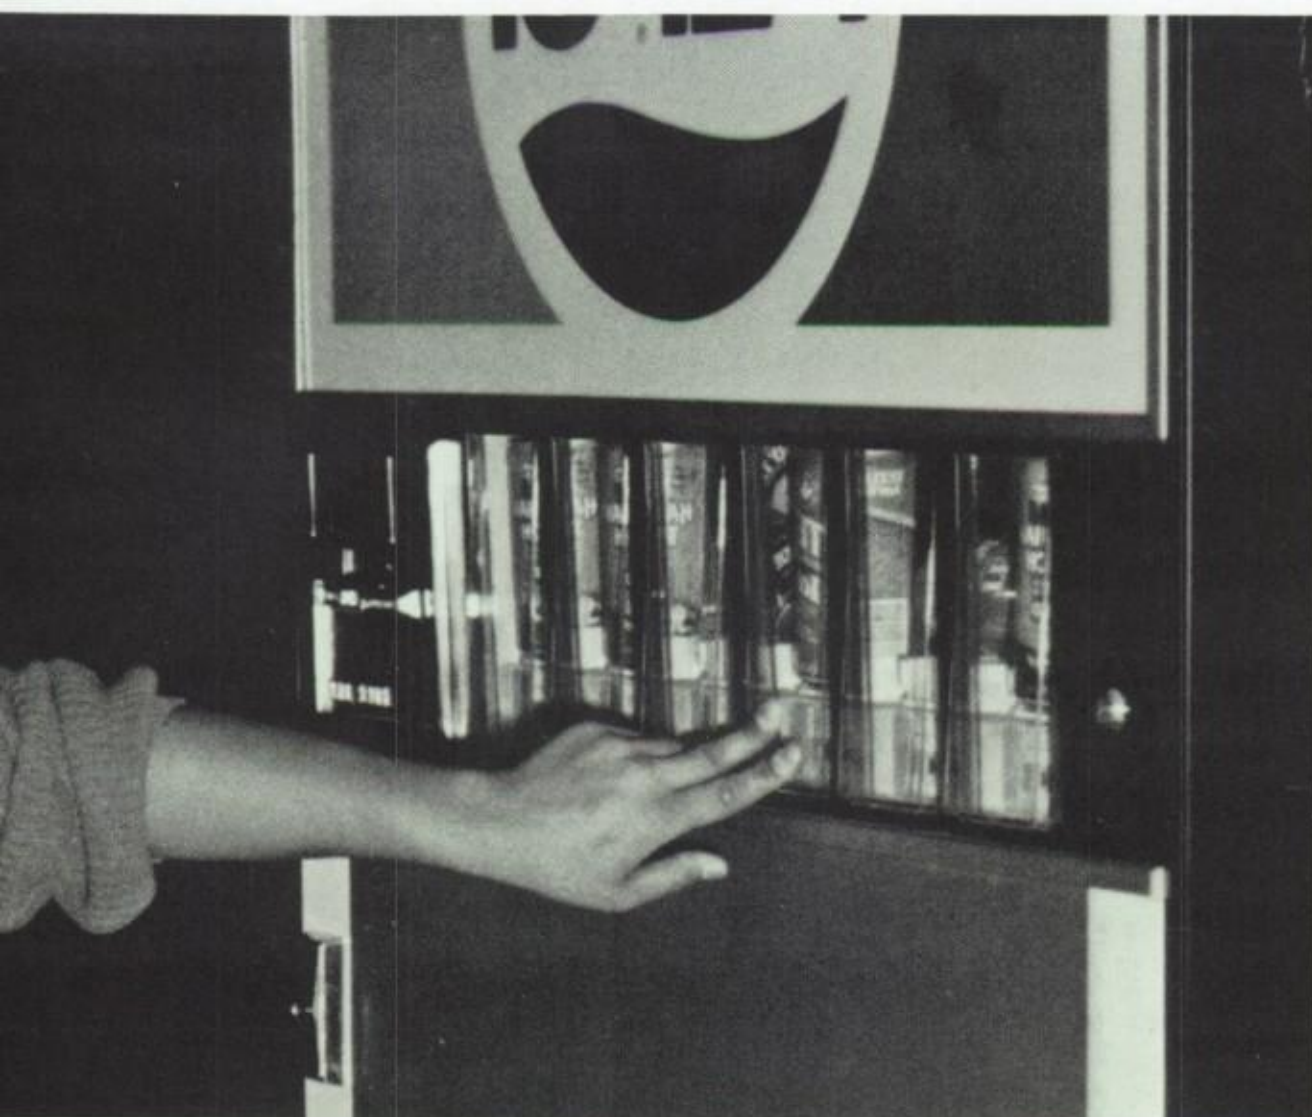

SAA

The S.A.A. (Student Athletic Association) is an organization for all athletes in the Maple Shade High School who are interested. An initiation fee of one dollar or the choice of selling four patrons for a quarter a piece is a requirement. All sports are included such as: field hockey, cross country, soccer, football, fall cheerleading, winter cheerleading, wrestling, bowling, basketball, lacrosse, softball, baseball, golf, and track. The advisors for the 1985-86 year are Mrs. Linda Gibson and Ms. Cathy Pazdan who are two well known gym teachers in the school. This year's officers were chosen by the S.A.A.; all three were seniors. The President of S.A.A. is Margie Wesolowski, the Vice-President is Steve Charnowski, and the Secretary-Treasurer is Matt Parks.

Within the school year, several meetings are held to discuss scholarships for graduating seniors and to make plans for the spring sport's banquet which is held at the home house on Maple Avenue in Maple Shade. The scholarships are given out to those seniors who wish to continue their education after high school.

The spring banquet is held each year for all the athletes in the high school. The Sports Club provides the varsity dinner so that athletes can be recognized and honored not only by S.A.A., but by the faculty, coaches, the A.D., the Administration, as well as the parents and friends of these athletes. Each student is provided with one free ticket for that festive night while extra tickets are available for a small fee. After the delicious meal provided, a guest speaker is invited to chat with everyone. Then the awards are given out. Such awards are the three letter certificate which is given to those individuals who received three varsity letters throughout the course of the year, and a six letter plaque is given out to individuals who have six varsity letters throughout their high school years. Then there are the awards known as the Spark-Plug and the M.V.P. trophy awards which are given out to those excellent athletes. The Spark-Plug award stands for sacrifice, pride, aggressiveness, respect, and courage while the M.V.P. award represents the most valuable player in that particular sport activity.

The Cooperative Office Education program, COE, is designed for the ambitious student who wants to combine school and work each day. A typical school day for these "co-op" students is that they attend English, gym, and all the other required courses. However, the COE student's school day ends at 12:10, during the COE class, at which time they go to their part-time office job.

In the COE class, Mrs. Poinsett instructs the students in various areas such as how to write a resume, what to say in an interview and other on-the-job skills. Members of the COE program can be found in offices, accounting firms, and other businesses. For those who want it, the program offers a headstart in the work world.

Busy at work, Donna Brown practices some of the skills she was taught in C.O.E. Donna, like most C.O.E. students plans to use her office skills for her future success.

COE Front: Jennifer Schofield, Linda Bussemer, Barbara Smith, Barb Emberger, Mrs. Poinsett Back: Donna Brown, Tracey Stone, Doreen Fischer, Kelly Campbell, Jamie Mitch

Experience is the key word as Jennifer Woodhead displays. C.O.E. taught many business skills which students like Jenny could use to begin expanding their careers.

CIE

The Cooperative Industrial Education program, CIE, allows some students to split their day between school and work. In the morning, these "co-op" students attend school which ends, 5th period, with Mr. Heisler's CIE class. In this class, they learn about job safety, human relations, and interviewing techniques. The CIE students hold part-time jobs as auto mechanics, computer typesetters, and electricians. They are also eligible for the statewide CIE scholarship programs if they want further education and training.

Front: Barb Metzgar, Rich Scardino Back: Todd Resnick, Ed Carr, Bill Guinta, Dave Bock, Fred Muchler

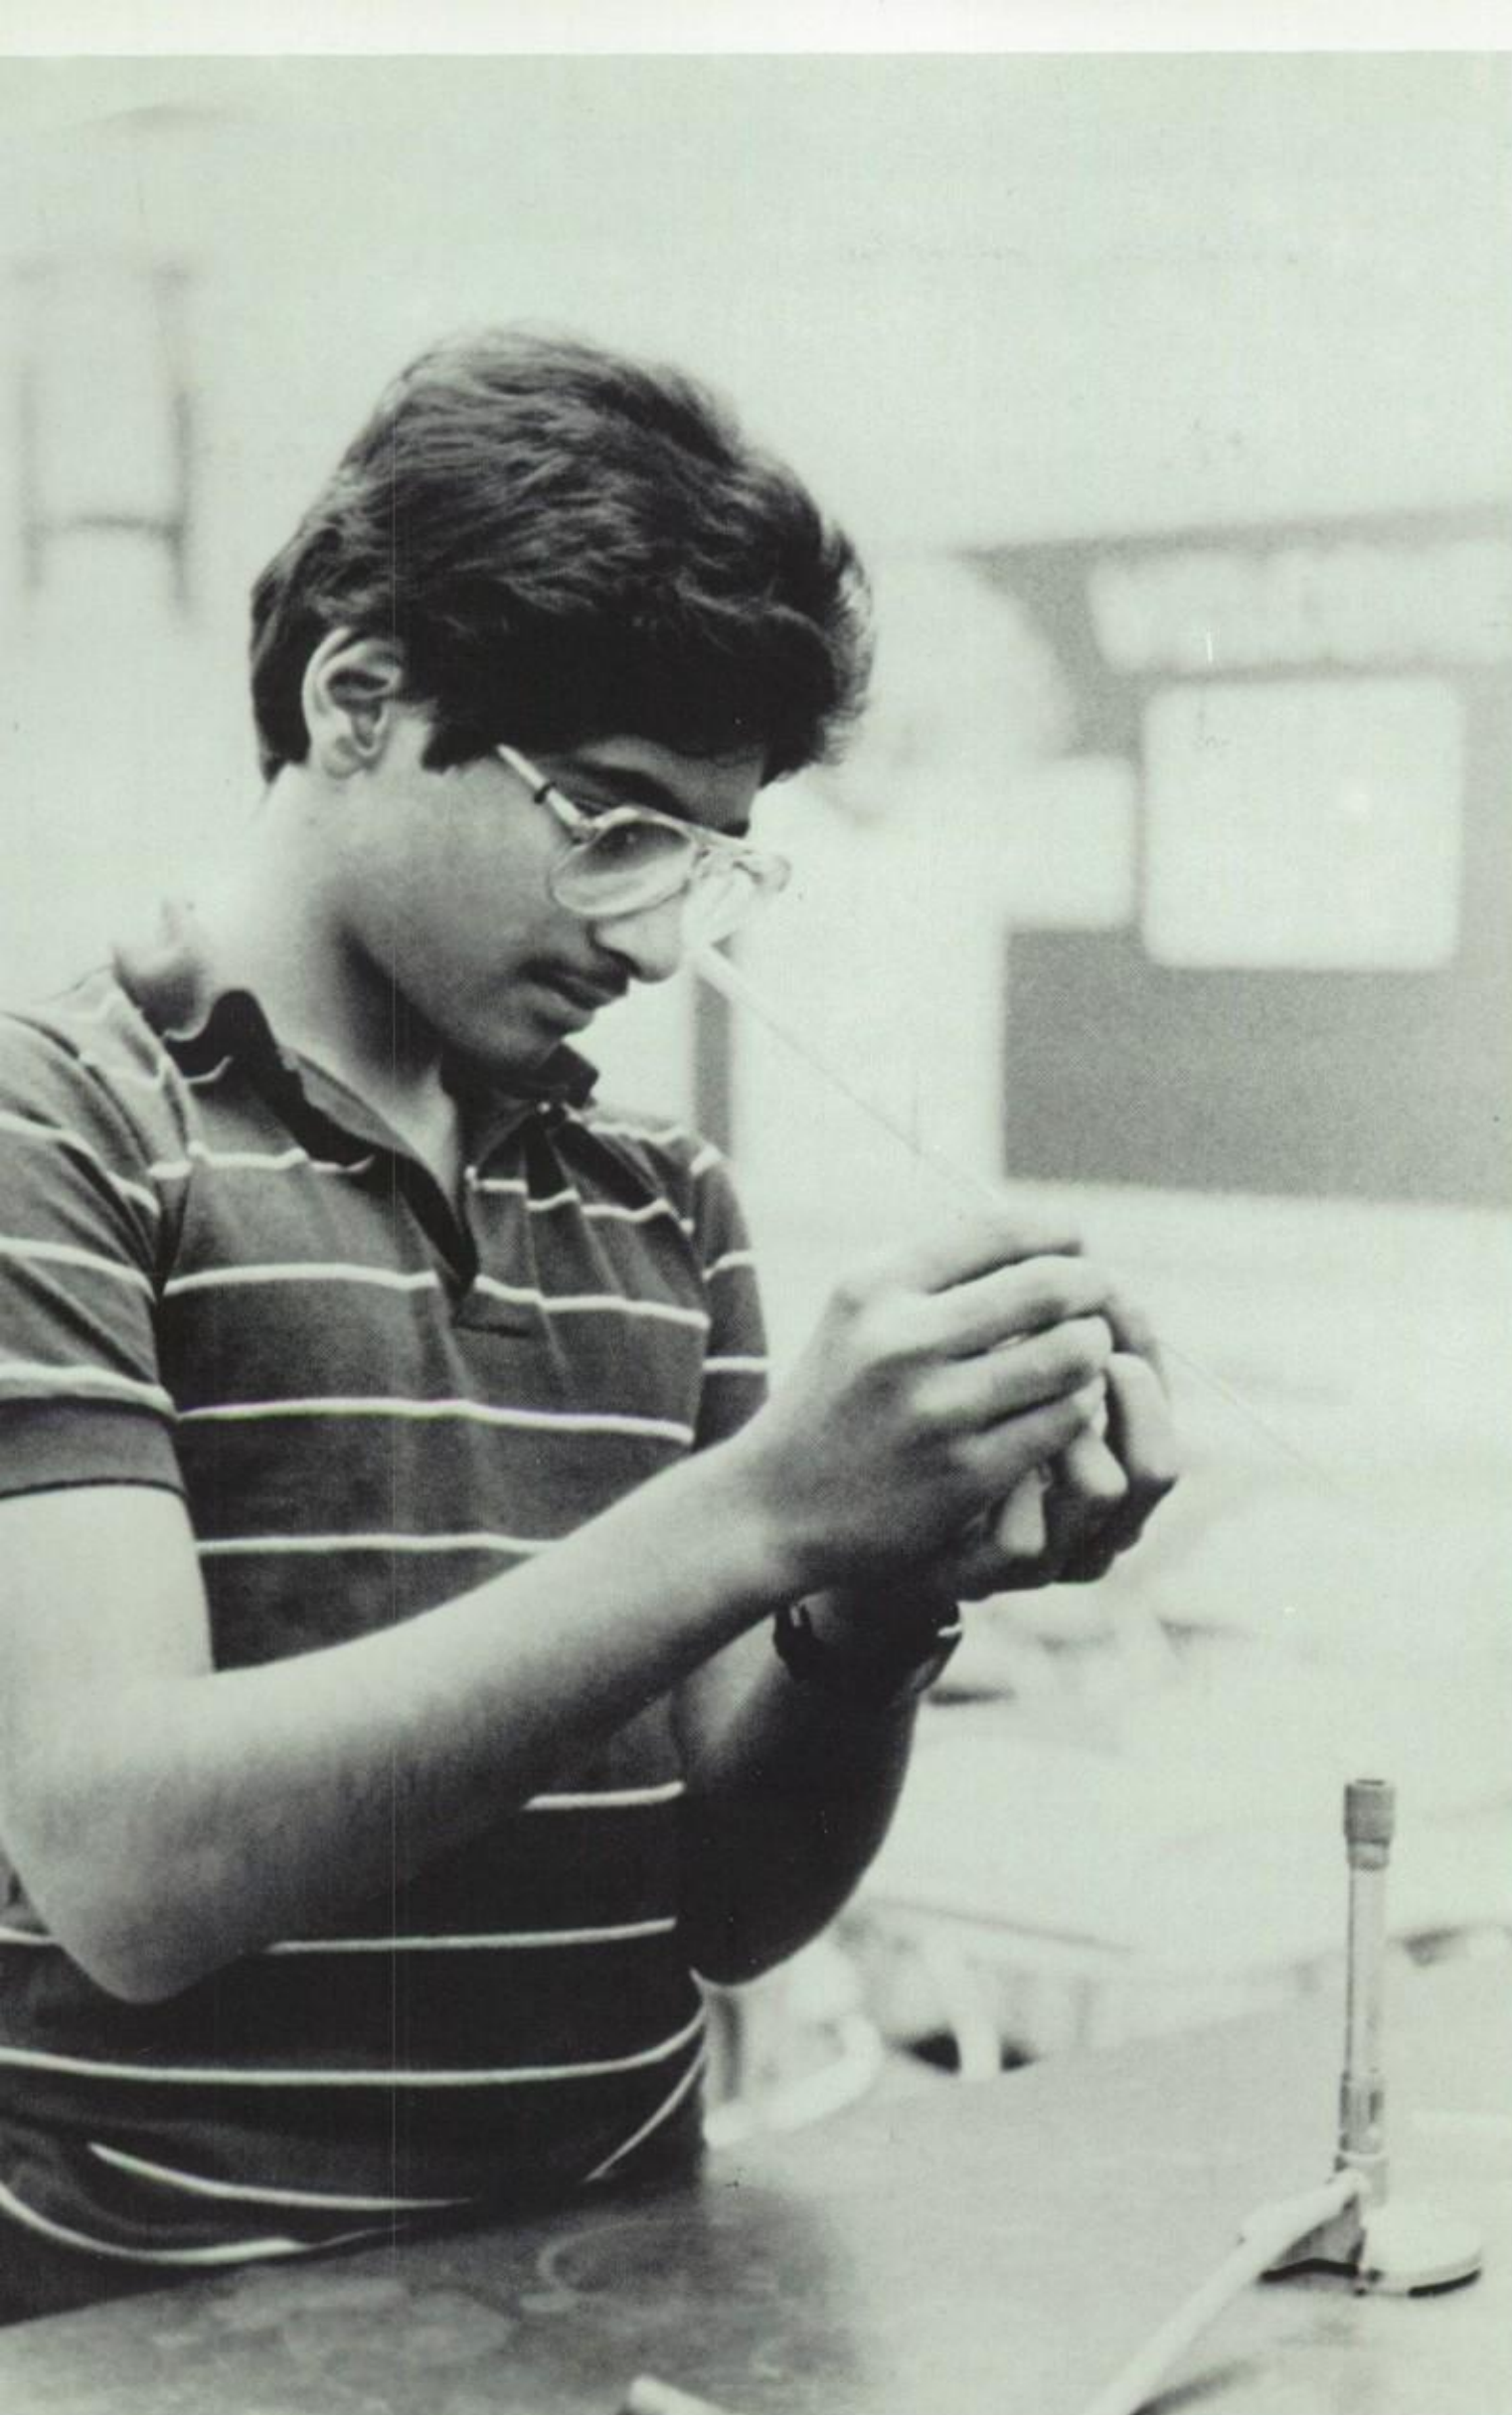

Showing their stuff are the productive students of C.I.E. Most students of C.I.E. used the skills they learned in order to obtain jobs.

Academics Divider

The academic program at Maple Shade High School is designed to meet students' needs within the structure of the community. In addition to the basic academic subjects, English, math, history, and science, Maple Shade offers programs to meet the technical, mechanical, and business needs of the students.

For those students going on to college, a college preparatory course of study is offered including honors programs. For the students contemplating a business career, all aspects of business subjects are available. In addition, students considering an industrial arts career can select auto shop, print shop, mechanical drawing, wood shop, or metal shop. The special education program is designed to meet the individual needs of those students. In Maple Shade High School the student's needs, aptitudes and strengths are a priority. There are many courses to choose from — all of which add up to benefitting each, one, individual student.

... ONE

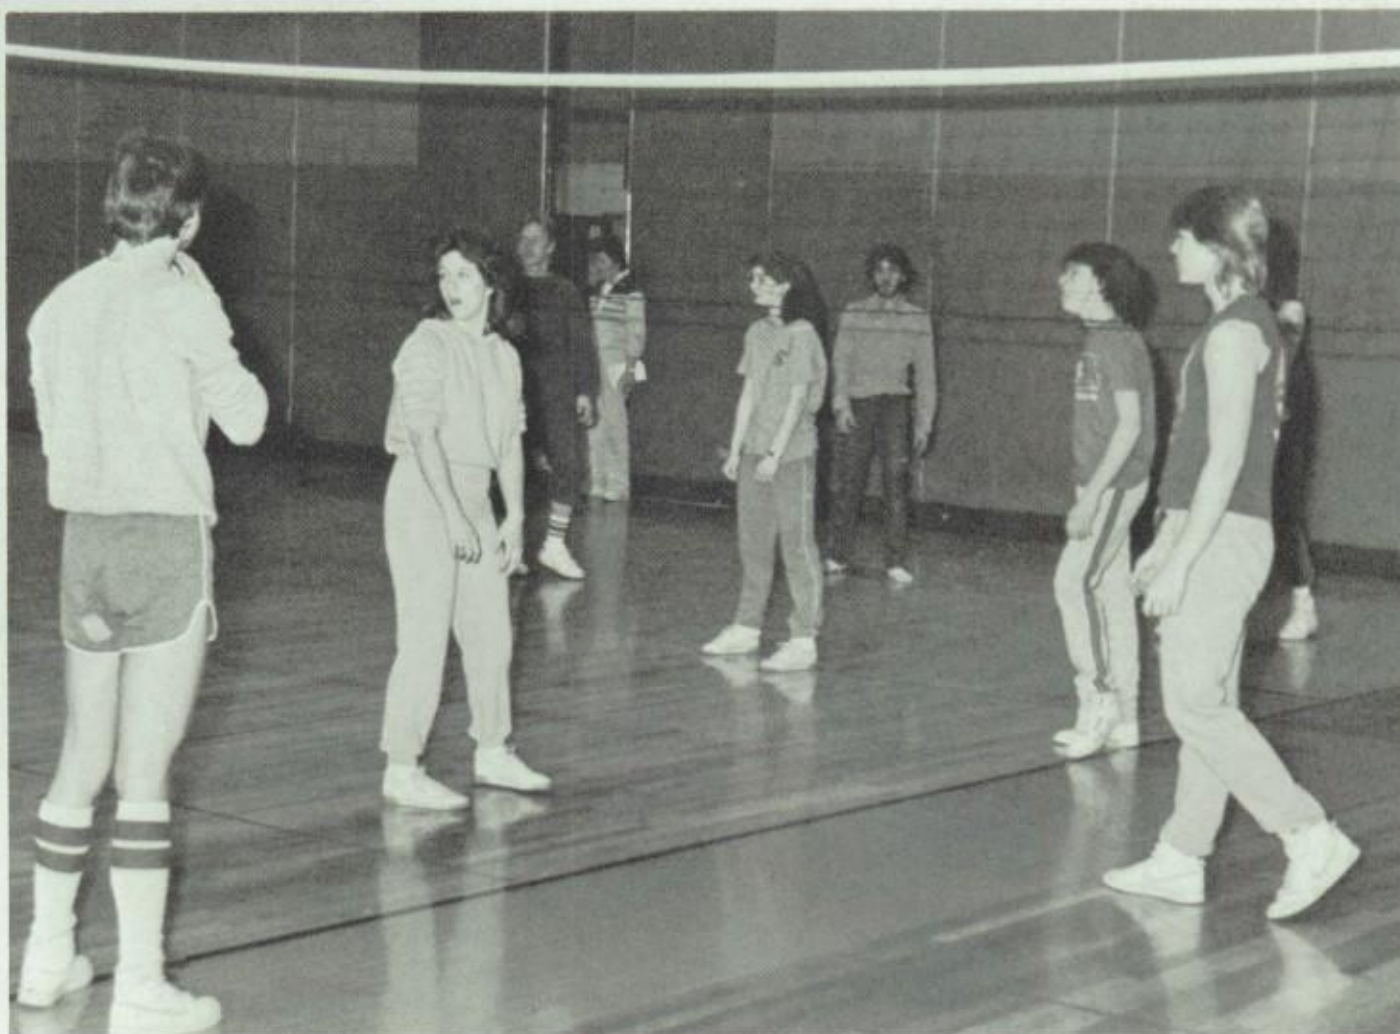

Physical Education

Even though gym is a required course, many people like it despite some short comings. "I love gym right now because I have volleyball. It's great!! But one thing I do hate is the long lines for choosing the activities," said Karen King, senior.

Robin Hickman, senior, stated, "I like gym because all of my friends are in it. One thing that stinks is that we have a big gym and only three teachers. That's bad because we hardly get any choice for what activity we want."

Perhaps Nicole Arrington, sophomore, put it the best by saying, "Gym is a time to spend with your friends, relax, and take a break from schoolwork. It's decent!!!!"

Mechanical Drawing

Mechanical Drawing has introduced many Maple Shade students to possible careers in drafting, architecture, and engineering through the teaching of Mr. Larry Courtney and Mr. Chuck Heisler. Students learn about dimensioning, oblique, and isometric drawings, threads, architectural design, and much more during a four year level course.

Throughout the year, various guest speakers from the Delaware Valley Area, including those from the American Institute of Drafting and Lincoln Technical Institute, discuss various career choices offered by their schools. In May, the students in the Mechanical Drawing classes participate in the South Jersey Craft Show in which they submit independent work projects to be judged. Recently, some of the drafting students joined together to draw location maps for the Middle States Committee. Last year's Mechanical Drawing IV students collaborated to draw the plans for the maintenance building which is already in use near the main parking lot. Special programs such as one for the advanced students who watch the "This Old House" series on video encouraged projects like the maintenance building. Mr. Larry Courtney states, "Because of advanced methods in technology, industrial arts and vocational careers are becoming so specialized the students who take these courses are trained to use both the hands and the mind." Mr. Courtney also feels that even with basic instruments, our program has more production than schools with advanced equipment.

Mr. Courtney's favorite quote, The Dreyfuss Theory, sums up his feelings: "Do more with less."

Careers with Children

In the class "Careers with Children", students have learned about the development and behavior of a child from conception to adolescence.

Every Friday the class plans out the following week's activities. A sample day would be as follows.

Large Group — all children

Small Group — class splits in half each group doing an arts and craft, and a learning activity

Snack Time — A nutritious snack

Each of these activities is preplanned two weeks in advance. Not only is it fun dealing with these children, but each student gets to observe an individual child and prepare a report for a large part of the fourth quarter grade. This proves to be helpful in understanding the children and encourages other students to participate in Careers with Children in the future.

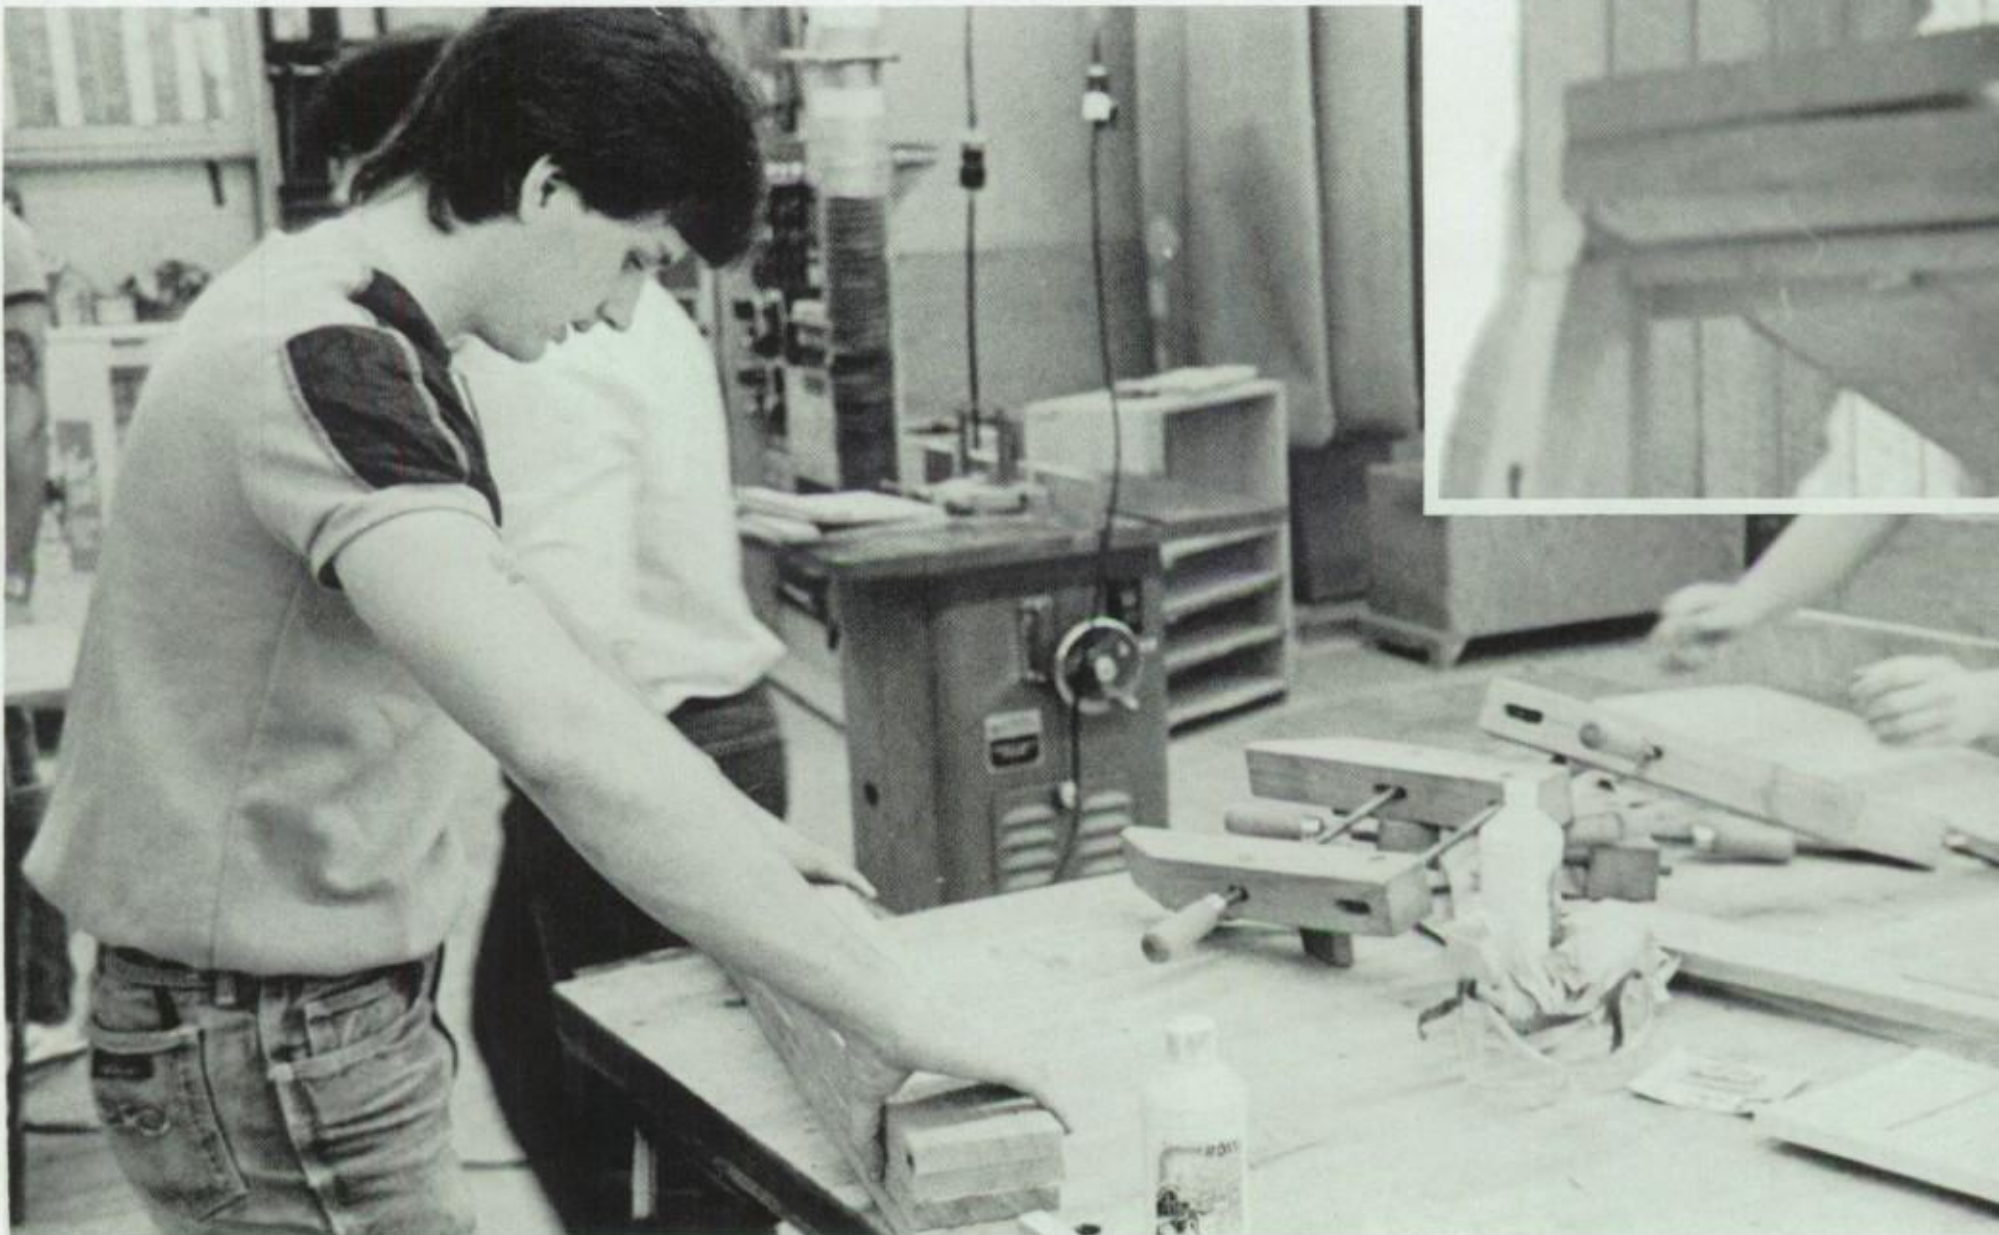

LET ME HELP YOU

Industrial Arts

The new things in metal shop this year are the torch tips, the new torch and the new safety curtains for arc welding. Mr. Jim Hendri made new welding helmets, racks, and the support for the curtain. Mr. Hendri is the welding instructor for all the new freshmen this year. Mr. Henri also fixes tables and made a new guard for the clock in the gym room. Mr. Avizuis hasn't changed except for his mustache!

Carpentry 1 & 2 are building the storage shed in the far end of the student parking lot. The storage shed is being built because of the sale of the Haig School. The maintenance men's equipment will be stored there along with the school buses. The students have been working on the shed everyday since early in the first marking period. The students are benefitting from the hands-on experience in building the shed.

Print Shop

The new school year brought a welcome addition to the print shop. After many years of complaints from students and the shop teachers, we have finally received a much needed ventilation system in the dark rooms. No longer will printing students be forced to suffer while shooting pictures in a dark sweat-box. On a hot spring or fall day, one gets the feeling of having survived a nuclear war. Often temperatures reach 100 or more. The ventilation system will help the print shop be more effective.

Cards, programs, posters, special items, etc., are all a function of the print shop. It is an extremely productive class.

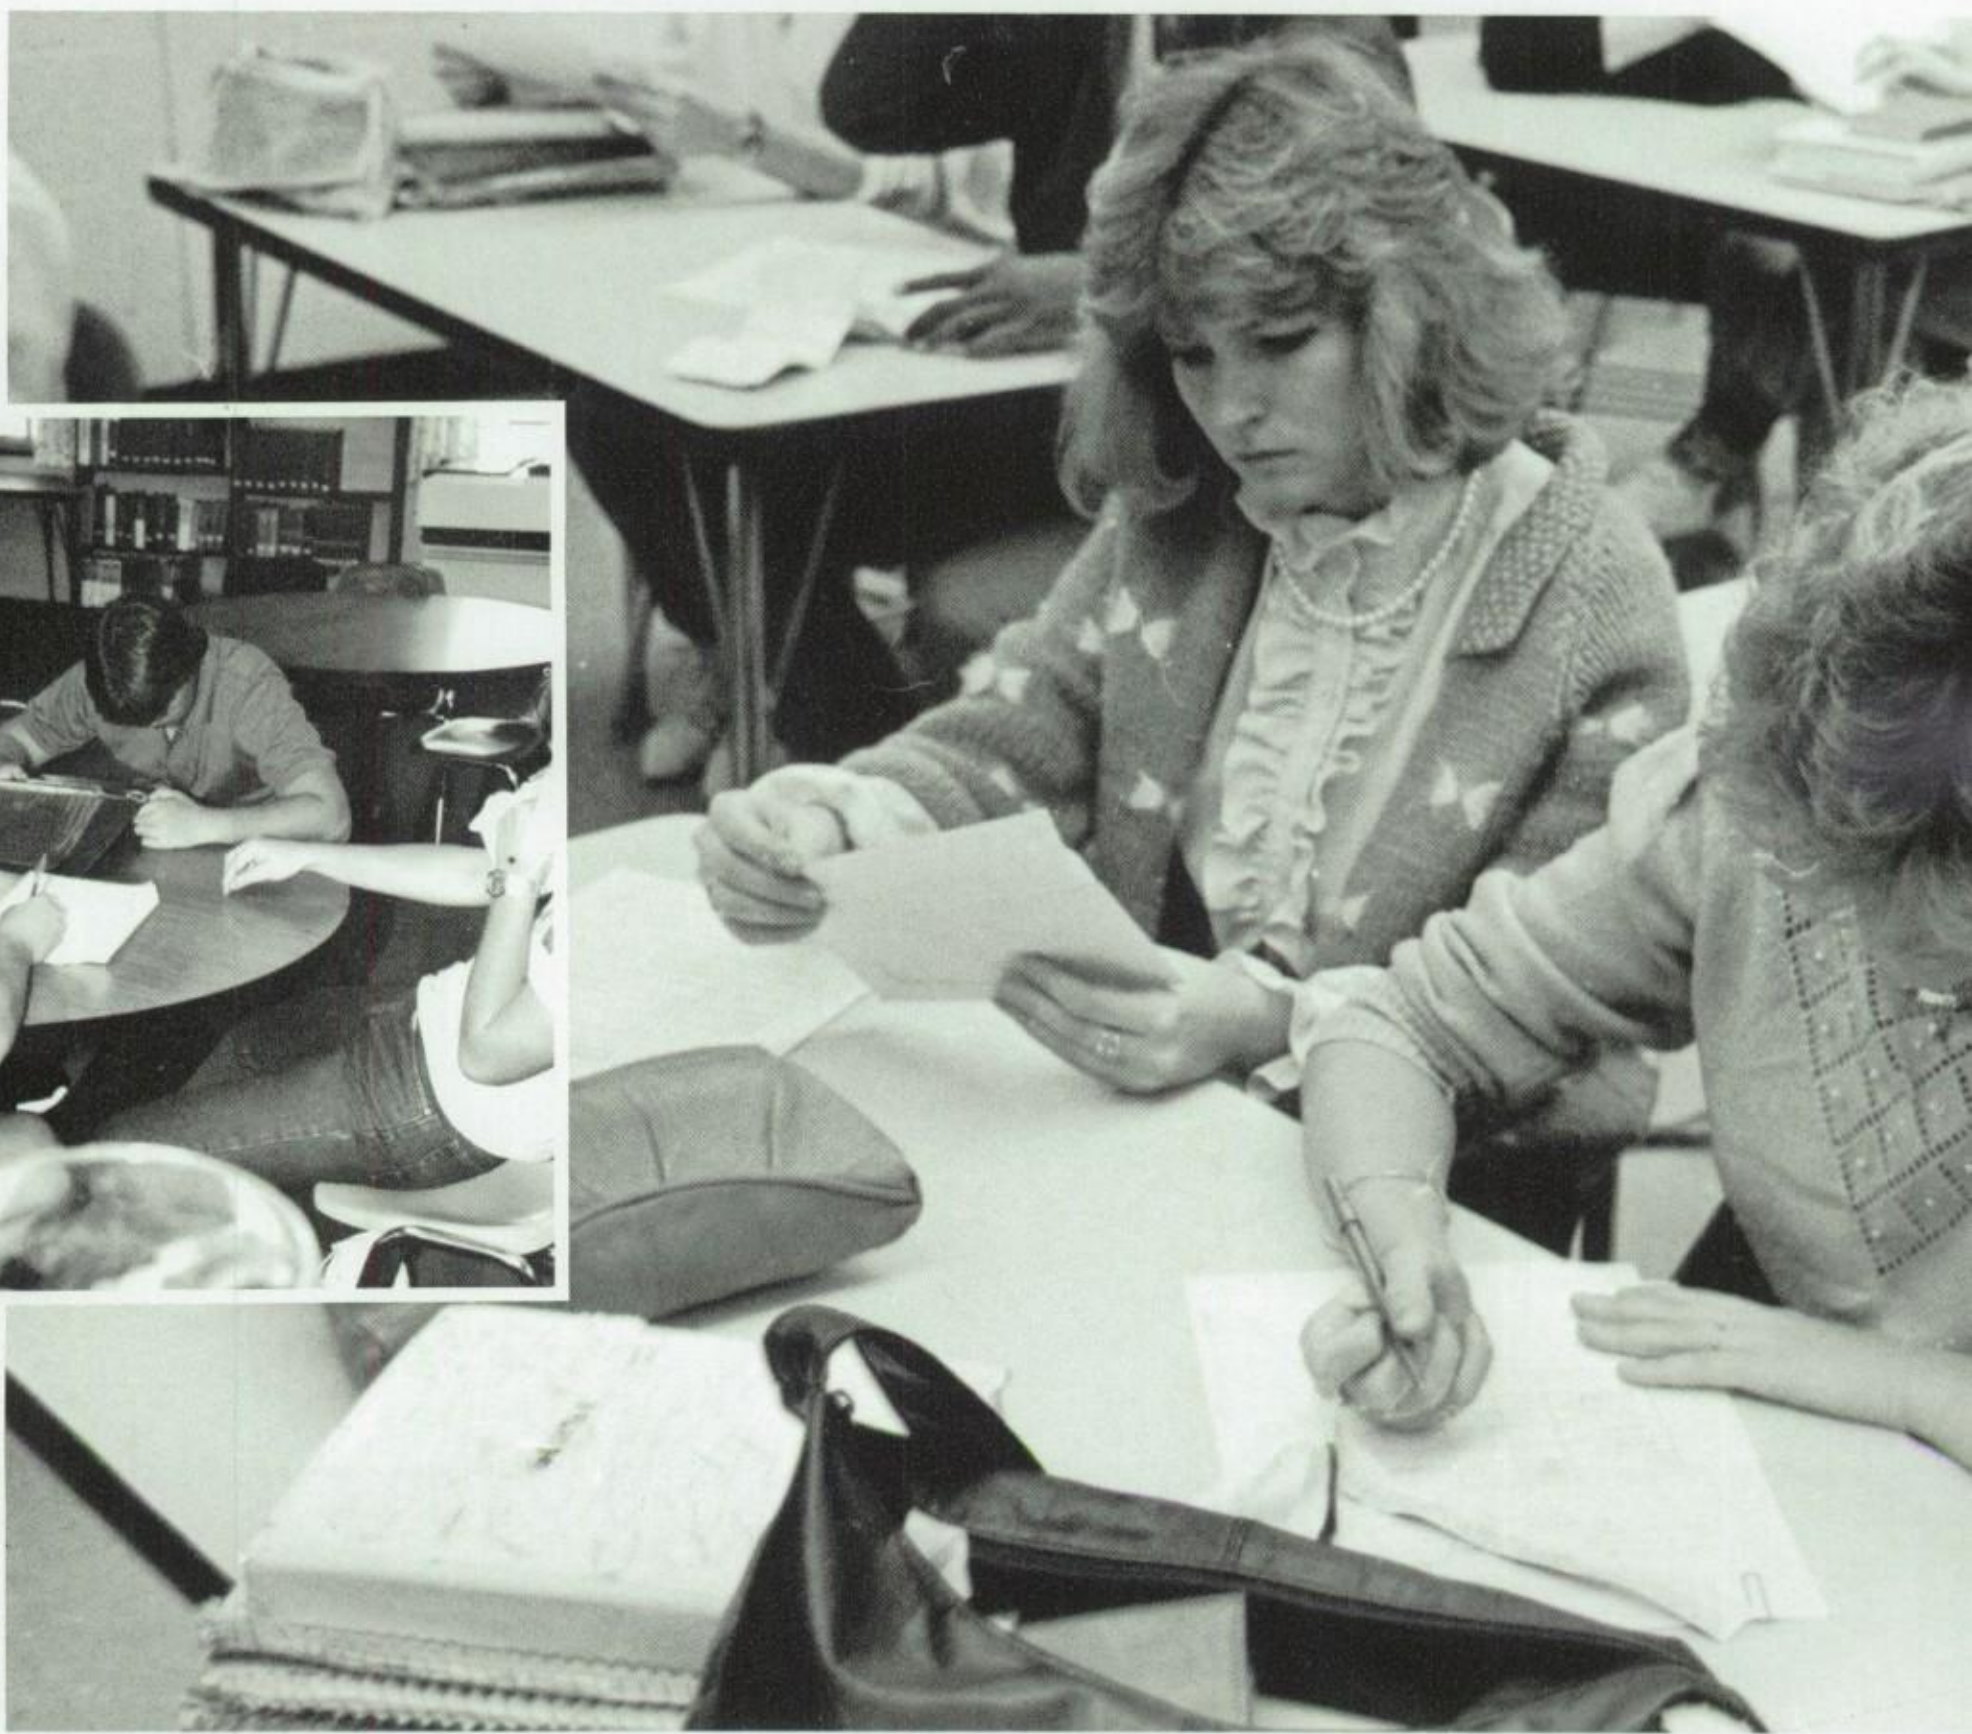

Auto Shop

Auto Shop becomes more popular each year. This year a brand new '86 blazer was donated by GM for research by students. Other new machines are a computer tire balancer and a front end alignment machine. The shop is extremely busy. Every year more and more cars are fixed in auto shop as very few cars are towed away, and if they are, it is only because of a lack of equipment not a lack of knowledge.

Mr. Lizzio instructs the students and gives helpful pointers to whomever needs them. The auto industry is getting more complicated every year with new engines. Fuel injection, turbo charging, and overhead cam are a few of the new complications in cars. The tasks of the students become more complex each year.

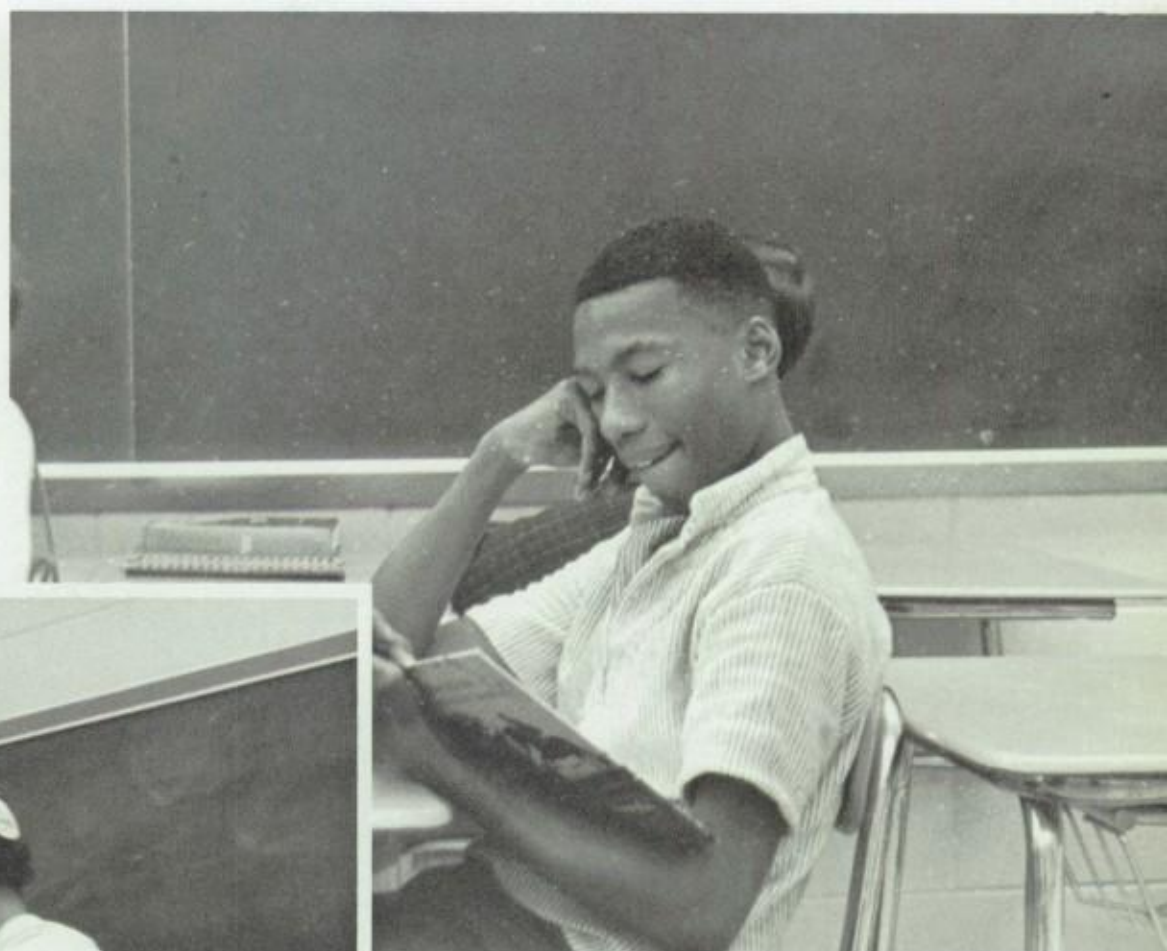

Remember the Good Times

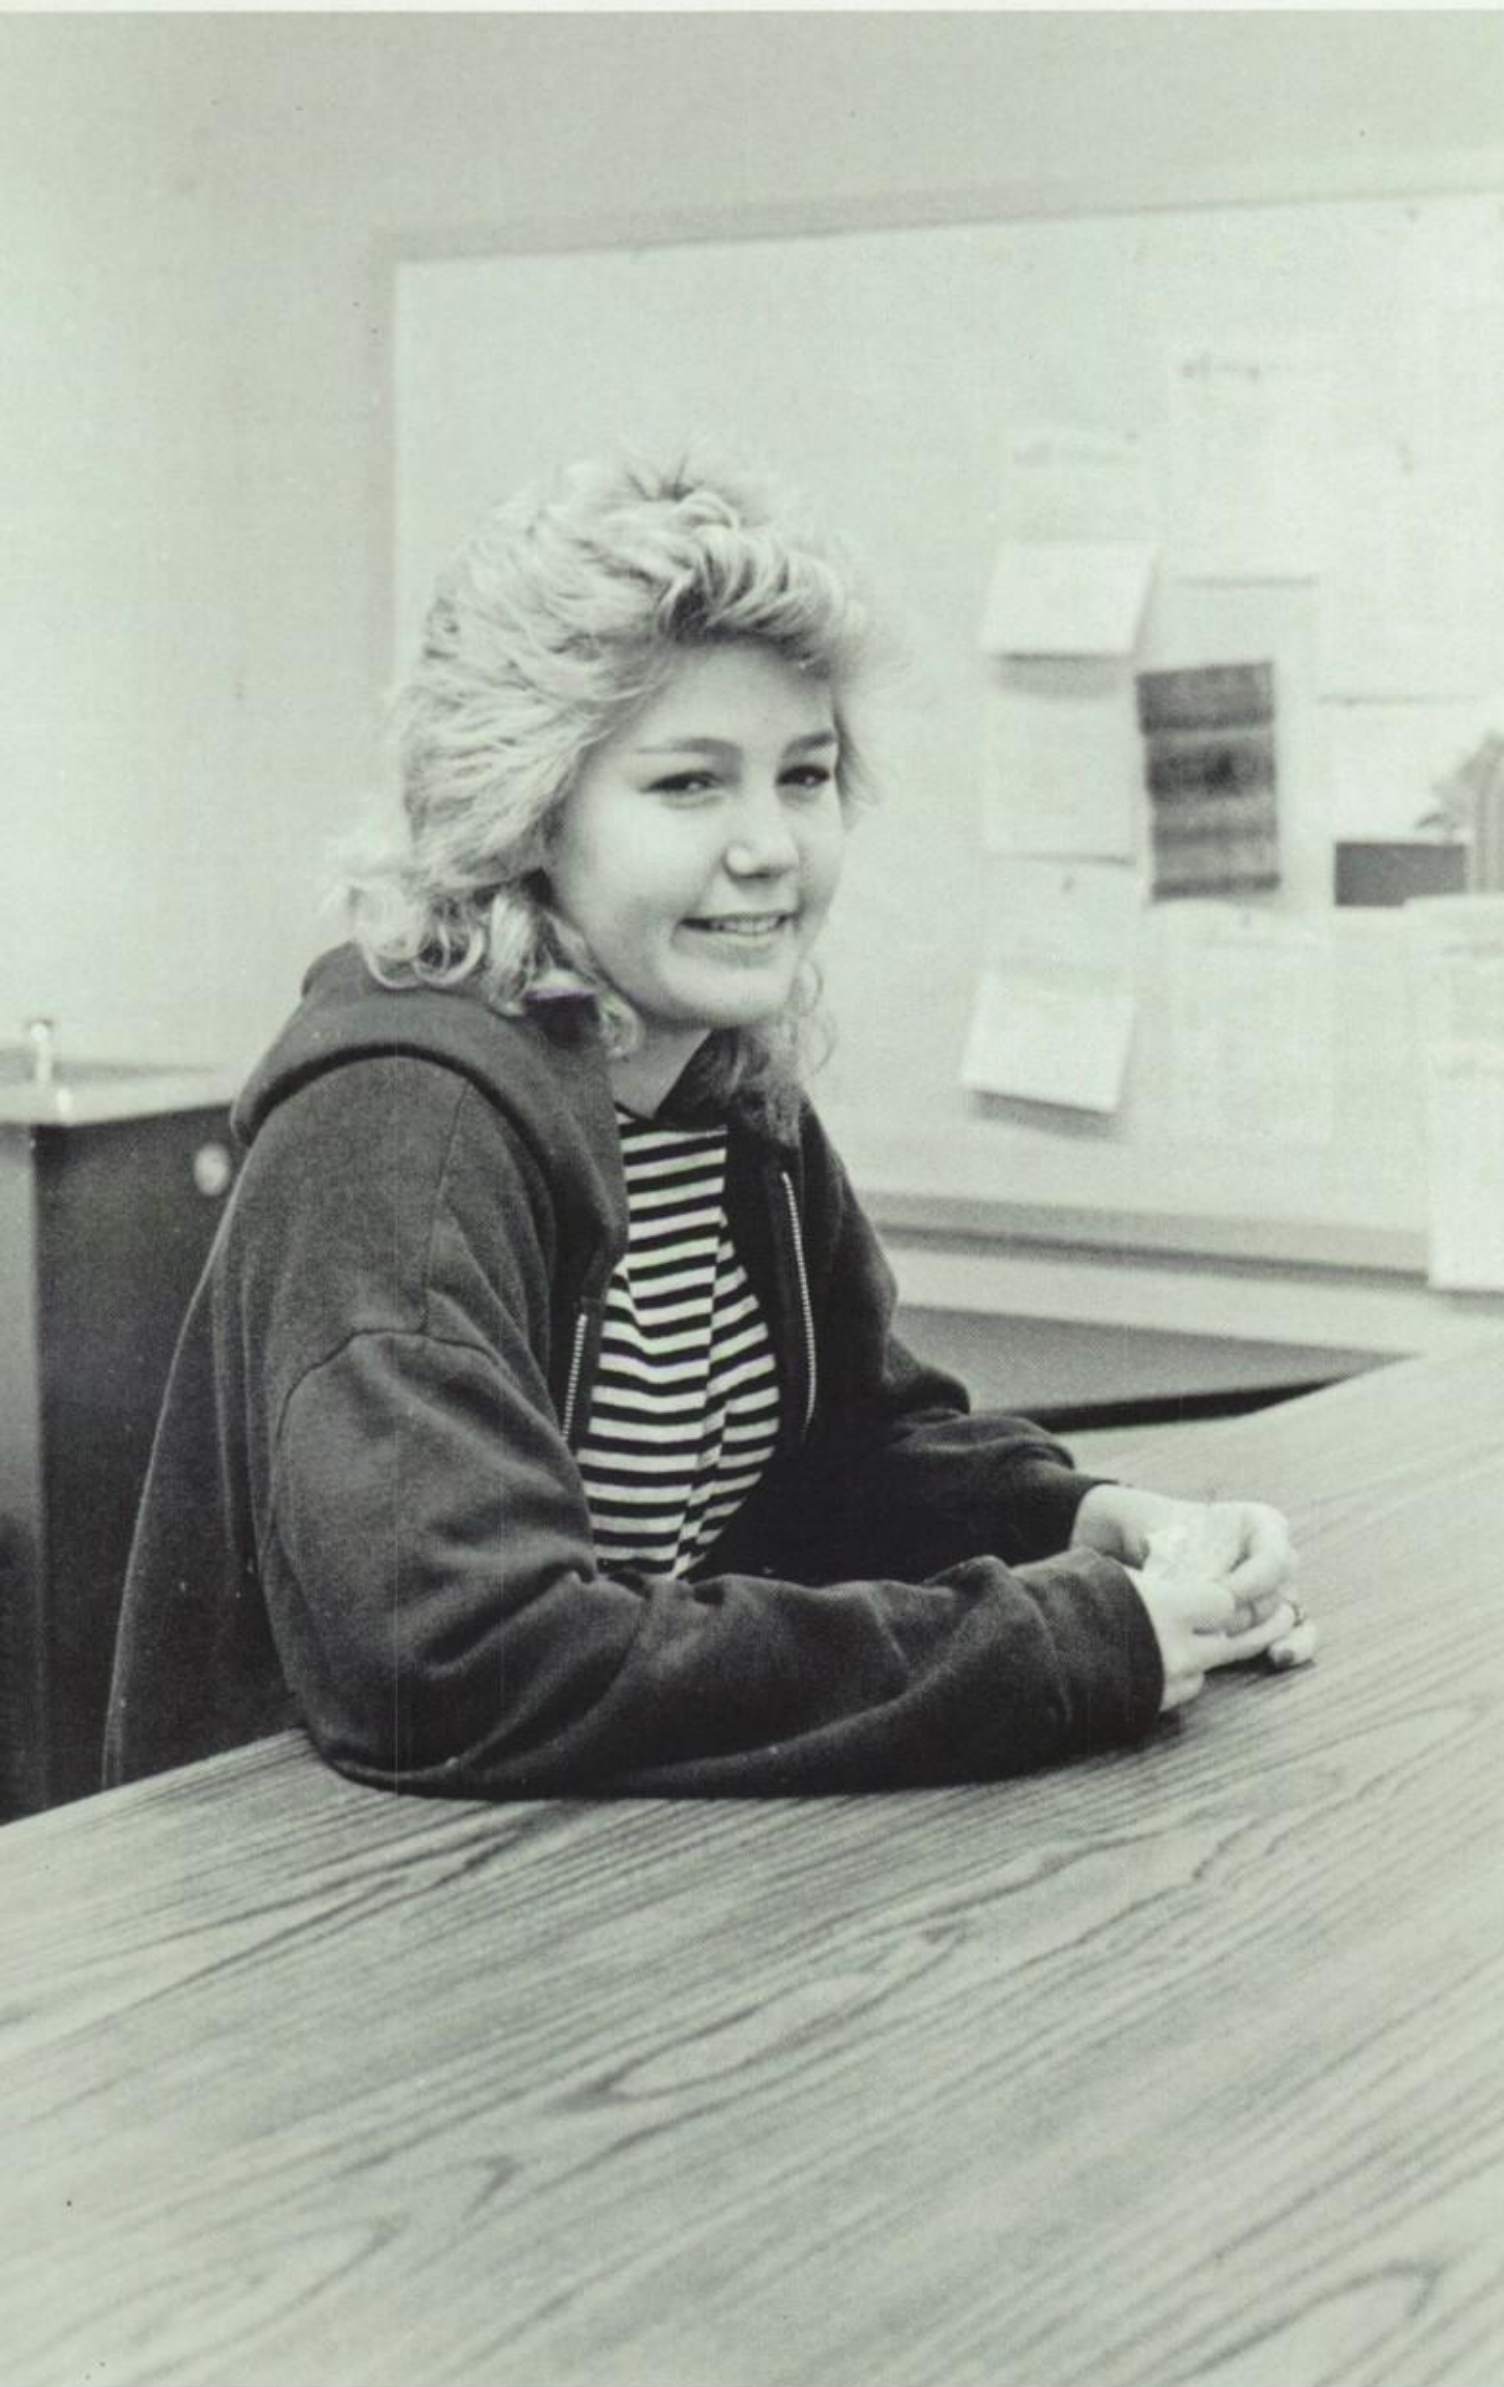

Pictures on these pages show Shade at its best. It shows that school does have the boring times when you must just sit and listen, but there are times when you're allowed to get away from the books and have fun in a class or even sit down and talk to that special someone that makes the world a little easier to bear.

As you reflect on the last year, don't just remember the bad times and the boring teachers, remember the fun times, the trips, and your friends who you may never see again after graduation. Good luck seniors in all that you do, and always remember your years at Shade.

People Divider

Maple Shade High School is divided into classes — freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior. The different grades have different courses. Separated courses have differentiated levels. The students dress differently, have different color hair, eyes, and skin. Their goals differ as well as their expectations. There are groups, loners, trios and pairs. All of these many differences add up to one commonality — out of many students — there is only one Maple Shade High School.

SENIORS

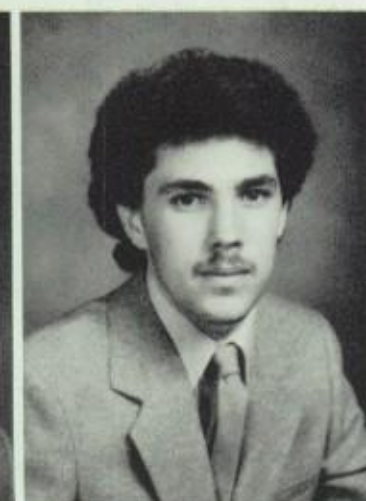

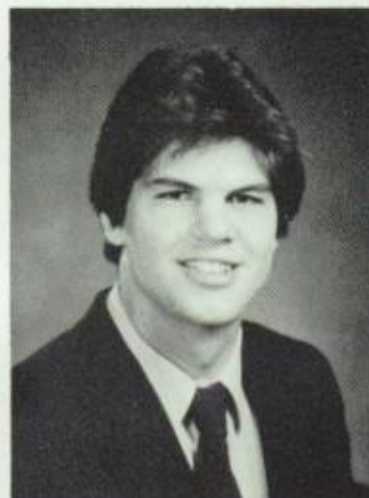

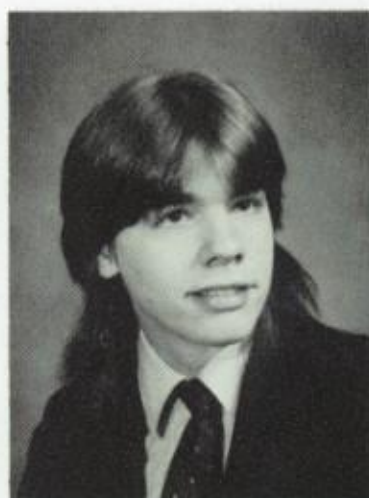

Dreams of the Future

At one time or another, when we are small, we dream . . . When I grow up I'm going to be . . . a television character, a super hero or even like Mom or Dad. As the years pass, our minds change and our experiences make us think more clearly and maturely as to what career we'll choose.

In the final year of high school, we know it'll only be a short time until we will be facing different experiences; experiences that will alter our lines and force us into adulthood, not just chronologically but emotionally. Now the question "What am I going to be?" takes on a more serious and permanent implication. Should I continue my education in college, business school, trade school or should I enter the job market?

Each of the seniors has already answered this question or will have to very shortly. Whatever the answer, life is a continual passage of growth and change. The important thing is to pursue the path which best enhances your abilities and goals. Good luck, seniors.

Hanging out, Mike Gangioff and Ed McKenna catch some sun. Ed is a senior while Mike is a Junior.

Class of '86 Changes in Junior Year

It was late in May of our Junior year when much talk of our senior year began. Most of this discussion was not of the trip to Disney World, the Prom, or Graduation, but of who was going to be our new class advisor. Our past advisor who helped us through some rough and rugged times during our first three years had resigned just before both the most fun and most work was about to begin. A new advisor was definitely in demand.

Many meetings were held, many teachers were begged and pleaded with, and many students were worried. Senior year just could not happen without an advisor! Finally, after the class officers were elected and things seemed just about hopeless, all of our prayers had been answered. Instead of having one advisor, the spirited Class of '86 was now going to have two, Ms. Pazden and Ms. Gibson, gym teachers no less! With all of the energy centered around our class, a couple of athletes were needed to keep up with us, and keep up with us they did! Besides leading us to many victories during Homecoming, Ms. Pazden and Ms. Gibson planned the most exciting Senior Trip ever. Although they weren't with our class very long, the moments we shared with them will make memories of our years at high school wonderful.

Working in the psycho ward, Rob Bennett and Bob Gwynne help Matt Parks into the Halloween Dance. Rob, Bob, and Matt, all Seniors and on the Varsity Football team, won for the most original costume and received 5 points for the senior class during spirit week.

Liking What You Do

Although your senior year is fun, seventh period study halls, the prom, and the senior trip, it is also a time to make big decisions. Should you go to a college or technical school? Or should you immediately plunge into the job market? Maple Shade seniors, despite the pressures of planning their lives, seem to know what they are going to do with themselves in the future.

Many Maple Shade seniors are planning to further their education.

"I've been sending out my applications.
 Now I'm just waiting for the answers," said
 Michele Pasciullo.

John Leahy commented, "I can't wait to study abroad in college. That way I'll be able to communicate with more people and get a job in the field of international business."

One way to get a head start on a career is to go directly in the job market.

Doreen Fischer said, "Right now I'm in co-op; I like what I'm doing, and the money is pretty good."

Diane Leary summed it up the best by saying, "If you like what you do and you're good at it, that's all that counts."

A Lot of Hard Work

Behind every success there is a lot of hard work. This was definitely proven by the Class of '86 and its list of outstanding officers. It is because of these people that this year's senior class will graduate with many accomplishments under its belt.

Each officer has a duty to his class. He must gather together with his fellow officers and plan all of the activities which are to take place that year. He must also deal with the class treasury and set an example of spirit and strength to his fellow classmates. Each year as we derived from freshmen to seniors, this task grew harder but luckily for us our officers grew stronger.

So whenever you remember that winning hallway, that great senior trip, or that successful graduation, don't forget to think about all the work your officers did to accomplish these things.

Cheering their class, Seniors show their spirit during spirit week. The Senior class went wild when they were awarded the best decorated hallway.

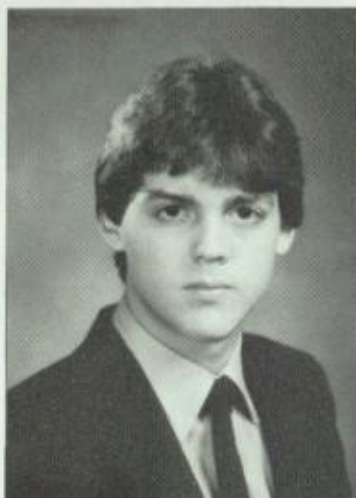

Hanging out after school, Lisa Manderville grabs a drink of water. Lisa enjoyed her senior year very much.

Paying attention, Steve Mikalic and Chris English listen to their teacher. Steve and Chris were great attributes to the Senior class, as well as Maple Shade High School in general.

WHO IS THIS?

Senioritis

Every year a disease seems to hit the senior class. This disease has become known as "senioritis".

In most cases this disease is not fatal. However, it brings about a drastic change to the once hardworking senior class.

One must ask, "How does it occur?" Of a sudden the seniors have been accepted at a college or they have made a commitment of what they want to do after high school.

"What are the symptoms?" you may ask. They are laziness and a lack of attention.

"What are the results?? — grades gradually begin to decline.

This disease has been a consistent problem through the past classes and is in the present. And it will probably continue to spread unless a miracle cure can be found.

Nothing Gold Can Stay
 Nature's first green is gold,
 Her hardest hue to hold.
 Her early leaf's a flower;
 But only so an hour.
 Then leaf subsides to leaf.
 So Eden sank to grief,
 So dawn goes down to day.
 Nothing gold can stay.

Looking To The Senior Year

Senior year is just about here! Now is time for mixed emotions to surface. Some may look upon their senior year with anxiety because they know they are now adults and will be facing the adult world. No more mommy and daddy to support them. It's time to find a good job and to start supporting themselves. But we can do it. As the saying goes, "When the going gets tough, the tough get going."

On the other hand, some may see the senior year as the point in their lives where they are allowed to enjoy the privileges of adulthood. They can find a job and finally leave home and live as they wish. The senior year, for some, is time to explore a new world full of opportunities for careers. They can't wait to get out and know what it feels like to be an adult.

As you can see, the senior year of high school causes different feelings, but one thing is for sure, the future won't be boring.

Believe It Or Not

The junior class earned the majority of their class treasury by selling tiny little creatures called "Gummy Bears."

Believe it or not . . .

In 1985 Joe Walters began what was considered the most extravagant campaign forcing many of the other candidates to pay for publicity. This made the election one of the most exciting in the history of Ma Shade High School.

Believe it or not . . .

The class of '87 feels that winning the student body election is one of their major accomplishments. They intend to win it again senior year.

Believe it or not . . .

The long and hard fought campaign of Alaney and Prate ended with a loss, but they plan to run again for election. One of their promises is to make their senior year a year to remember for all.

Believe it or not . . .

In the middle of June, when the class of 1987 will finally be SENIORS!!!

Believe it or not . . .

In the line-up are Frank Luzi and Jason McGonigle who like to play baseball in gym class.

Typing up on her typing, Francee Hass practices during class. Typing I and Personal Typing are helpful to students going into business with computers.

Changes

Junior year brings out a lot of changes in people. It seems that during their Junior year, most students gain maturity. Much of this growing up is due to the acquiring of a driver's license.

When a student turns seventeen, a great deal of responsibility is placed upon him. Not only does he have all of the paperwork and problems that go along with driving, but he usually has to get a job in order to pay for the expenses that go along with driving. Many students find it difficult to work and go to school at the same time, but most of them manage. This puts a lot of pressure on students and forces them to become more adult. It seems that the junior year and the obtaining of a license mark a milestone in many students' lives. Therefore, this makes the junior year all the more special.

Getting ready to walk again, Kim Kriza, Sharon Gill, Heather Kline and friend enjoy a joke. They are all juniors.

Gummy Bears

This year the junior class decided to be different. Instead of selling M&M's like the other classes do, they sold Gummy Bears and were ever a success!

It seems that these colorful little candies were quite popular with both faculty and students. "I like them because they were different," stated Sue Fattella, as she threw away an empty package of Gummy Bears. It seemed that the junior class tried something new and succeeded. M&M's were great sellers, but Gummy Bears were even better. Perhaps, the class of '87' has started a new tradition. Let it be known in the history of Maple Shade High School that the class of 1987 were the first to even solicit Gummy Bears.

Sitting down and eating, Cindy Orr, Kelly Oliver and friends enjoyed relaxing for a minute. They and many more students enjoyed the American Studies I field trip to Independence Hall.

Talking during study hall, Eileen Gianinni and boyfriend, Shanon Donovan, and Maria Martino gather together. Study hall is a good time to catch up on news.

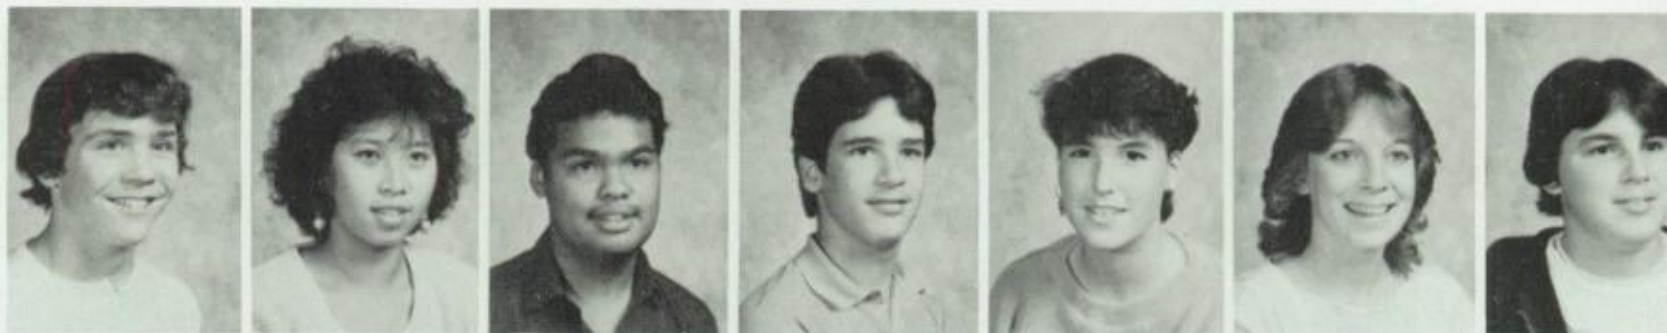

Getting to the assembly first, Mike Cocoules and his friend get to prime seats. Students love to get out of class.

Staying after class, Kim Barthoff and Maria Martino take time to talk to Mrs. Pazdan. They were both in Driver's Ed.

SOPHOMORES

Into Maturity

Into the swing of things, many sophomores are used to the everyday routine. They seem to be more involved in their schoolwork and extra-curricular activities as well. Everyone suddenly realized that there are only a few years left, and then it's into the "real world." During the previous years the Seniors seemed to be strangers. Nowadays each class that graduates leaves with the feeling that best friends have been lost. Growing up has many advantages and disadvantages. For now we'll take each day as it comes, and make each day as a step in life.

Growing Together

Suddenly it's Sophomore year, and you're no longer a Freshman. Because of this, something wonderful happens. You realize that as a group you are the Sophomore class. You work together on raising money, sponsoring dances, and perfecting projects for spirit week. Of course, the things were all done during the Freshman year, but something was missing. The spirit for your class as a whole was something that takes all of the Freshman year to find.

This sudden bonding of the Sophomore class can be seen in full swing during the Homecoming and all of the spirit week. It is then that their pride is at its peak, and they begin to work extra hard to beat the other classes at the Homecoming activities. It seems that suddenly this class is a major source of competition and they meant it to be that way.

Although this year the Sophomore class did not win any of the homecoming activities, they did put up a good fight. There was definitely a sign of class morale which proves that the class of '88 is finally growing together.

Working hard at the Potato Pub in the Cherry Hill Mall, sophomores Karen Gumper and Kim Garrison earn their money.

Working on yet another experiment, Lisa Newman finds time to smile through it all.

First Days

Being a Freshman can be either exciting or devastating, glamorous or drab, annoying or enjoyable. Most Freshmen use the first days of their high school career as a basis for their definition of what freshman year is like.

If on the first day of school a 9th grader has trouble opening his locker, then for the rest of his high school career, lockers will be in his eyes unreasonable. On the other hand, if a freshman gets a locker close to an admirable junior, then acting very dramatic, Racheal Thiebault and Chrissy Clem act out their winning skit for the homecoming crowd. Both Racheal and Chrissy are freshmen members of the drama club.

for the rest of the year his locker will be considered sacred and many unnecessary trips will be made. This, in turn, will seem like the greatest thing since apple pie.

It seems that for most freshmen the more involved they are in activities the better they find high school, and it seems that as in most cases the first few days hold the most crucial moments which decide the outcome of the next four years.

Doing their best to support the Class of '89, the freshmen officers smile for our photographers. They lead the freshmen through an exciting first year in high school. Freshmen Officers: Sue McGeoch, Greg Piotti, Billy Lindsay, Ann McGovern.

Being The Baby

As in being the youngest member of family, being the baby in high school has its good points and bad points. Although many freshmen fear being the littlest members of high school, it really isn't so bad.

When school begins for most 9th graders it appears as if everyone is so much older. The seniors seem to be practically adults. They feel as if they are going to be the baby of the school forever. You can't blame them for feeling this way when there are upperclassmen saying, "You don't understand what homecoming is about because you're just a freshman," or "You won't make the basketball team because you're too short." Eventually, though, things change and freshmen become "just another Shadow." They get involved with many activities and eventually learn the ropes. After all being a freshman is just the beginning, and it's only once in a lifetime experience. Being the baby isn't so bad, after all!

Freshmen At Dances

When you go to the dances on a Friday night you seldom see 10th or 11th graders, and it's almost taboo if you see a senior. The majority of students found at the dances are FRESHMEN!!

Most Freshmen enjoy dances. They love the music and all of the activity that goes on. It seems that the reason most 9th graders go to the dances is that they haven't yet gotten into the swing of things. They can't drive around town like most Seniors and Juniors do, and most of them haven't yet got the urge to walk around town. For them, listening to good music, dancing, and talking to fellow classmates is most enjoyable.

Therefore, if you ever sponsor a dance, make sure you gear it toward the Freshmen! After all, they are the majority when it comes to the dances.

Being a Freshman

You've just graduated from 8th grade, and suddenly you're a Freshman. You are forced to join all of the other clubs and activities in high school. You are so scared that you panic, but when you see all of those gorgeous girls (or guys) you change your mind. "WOW" you say, high school isn't that bad! After all, you get to have lots of freedom. Eventually, freshman year ends, and you look forward to your upcoming year as a SOPHOMORE, but you can't help but remember Susie, that awesome looking girl in your World Cultures class. Something New

Most students seem to think that their teachers spend all of their time in school. If they are not in school students feel that they are either grading papers or planning an impossible test. This year, the Retrospect staff decided to give you the chance to learn more about these people on a more personal level. Under each teacher's picture is a list of some of the activities and/or interests he/she is involved in outside of school. This will give you a chance to get to know better the person who has entered your life on a daily basis. It will also be a lot of fun.

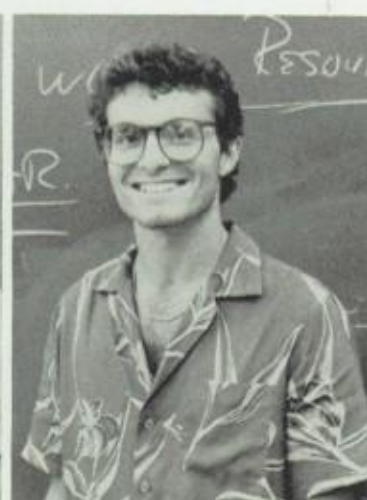

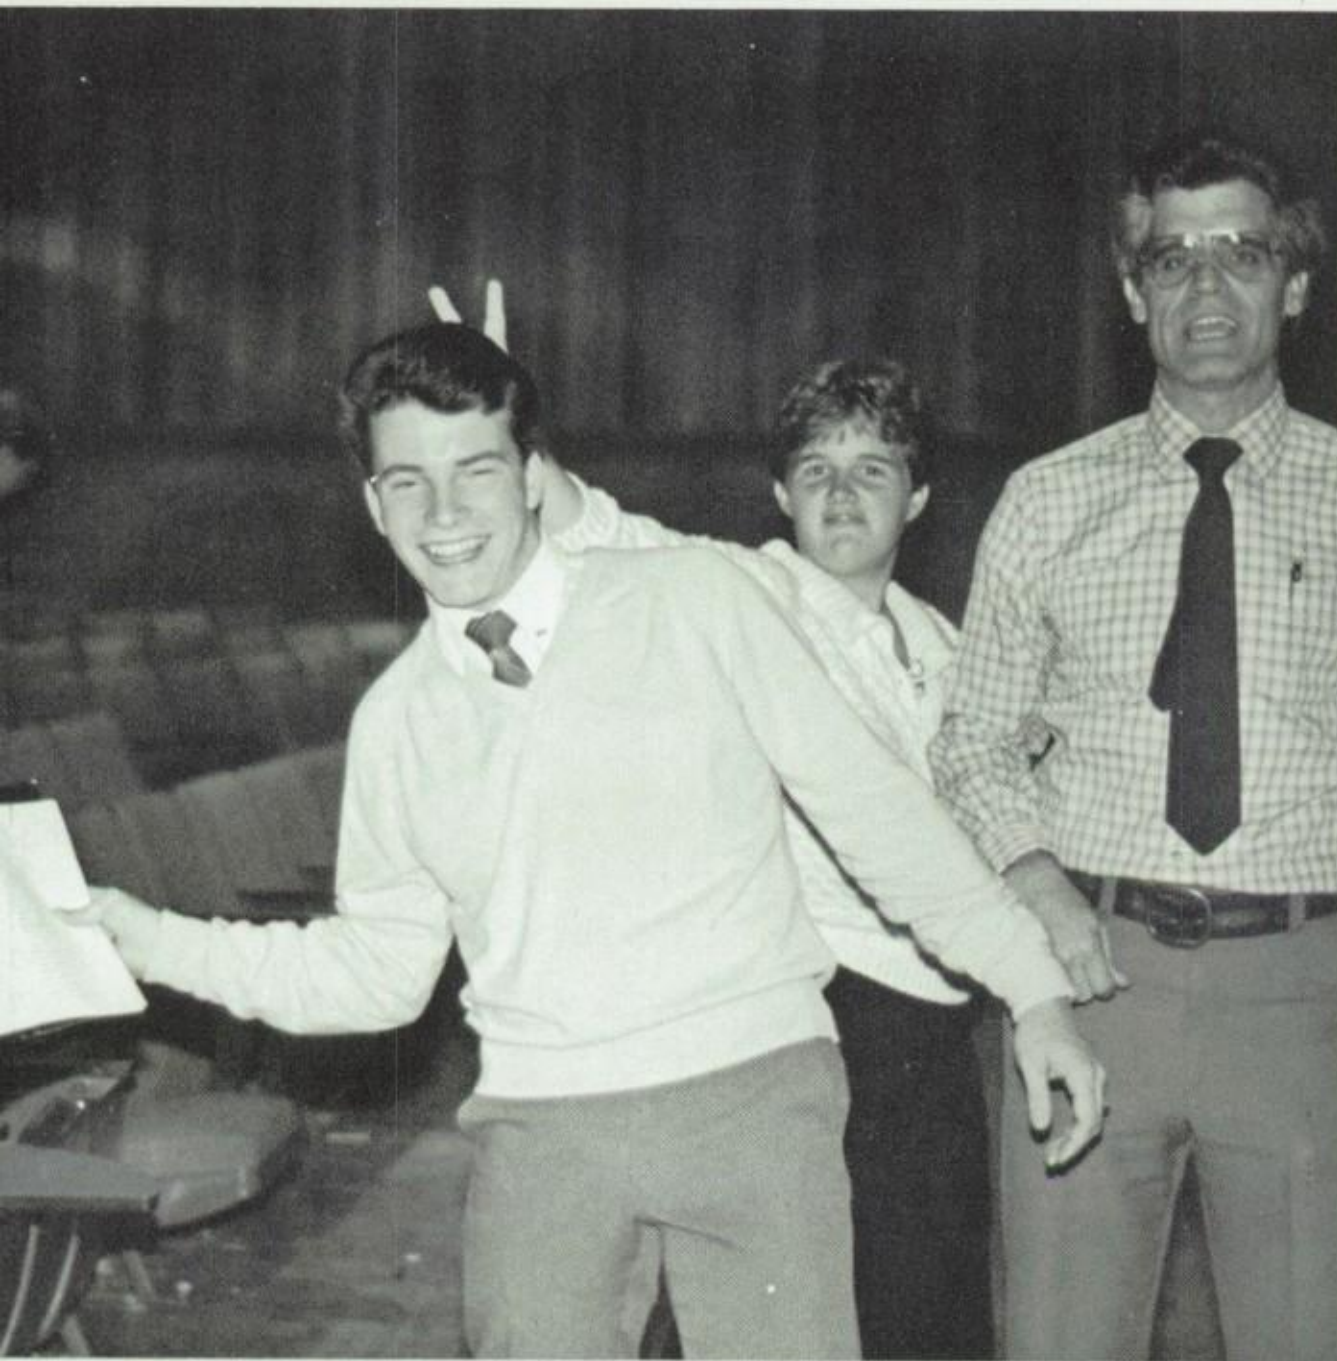

For instance, without this little addition you would never know that Mr. Bussard, the science teacher, was interested in backpacking, fishing, and windsurfing. You would never have guessed that Mr. Greb, with his tormenting calculus tests would help coach little first and second graders on the soccer field. There are many more interesting teachers with interesting hobbies listed in this section. Read on and discover a side of these people you never thought existed.

Caught in the act are Mr. Rutan and friends. Mr. Rutan is an advisor for the Retrospect Business Staff.

Behold, an "A" paper, thinks Mr. Bianco as he reads a homework assignment from his honors class. Bianco is also Varsity basketball coach.

Posing with a smile are Miss Angeline and Mrs. Giblin. Both teachers are very active in Maple Shade athletics.

Coming Home

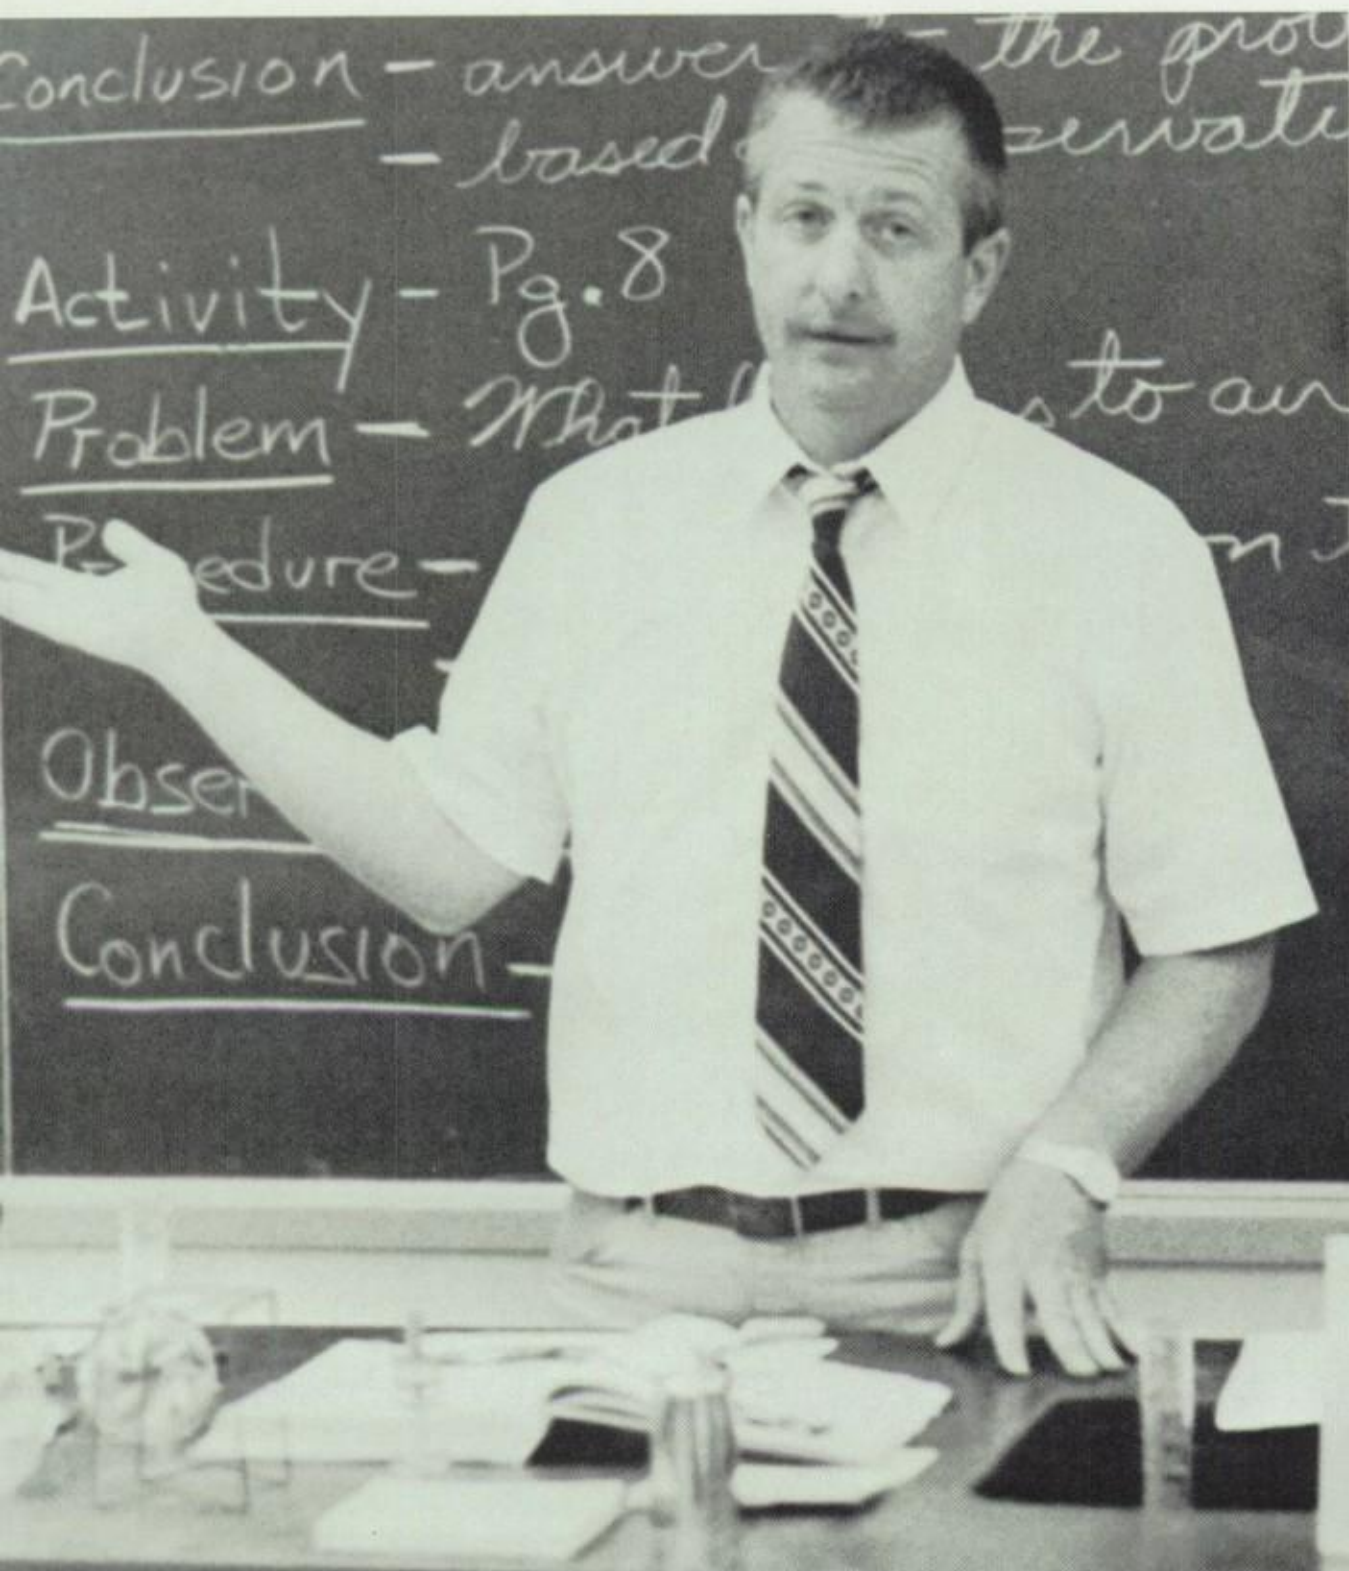

Each year students graduate Maple Shade High School swearing that they will never come back. Of course, when five or ten year reunions arrive, most of these graduates do return; for most people find it very difficult to bury the memory of their high school in the past. For Miss Hart and Miss Cavallo, returning to M.S.H.S. was something they had always longed to do. They came back to this school, not for a reunion, but for a career in a field they have always thought to be most rewarding.

Both Miss Hart and Miss Cavallo had to adjust to M.S.H.S. in a new way for not longer were they students. This time they were the teachers. The ones who give the homework, the lectures, and most of all the grades. It seemed strange to them that some of their former teachers were now their co-workers. Both "Shaders" agree that although the building has faded and chipped in some areas, it still looks much the same. As for the students, what they are going through hasn't changed much over the years. Both Ms. Hart and Ms. Cavallo find coming back to their "alma mater" a wonderful experience.

Posing for the camera, Mr. Coceana flashes a distinguished smile.

"So what if the experiment doesn't work!" exclaimed Betterly. Mr. Betterly was coach of the Varsity Football team.

Showing his concern, Mr. Johnson discusses a problem with a student. Before becoming a faculty member, Johnson was a substitute teacher.

Joseph Lizzio . . . Auto Mechanics
Bill Lupini . . . D.E. 1, D.E. 2, DECA Advisor, enjoys videos, movies, music, and softball

Taking time out to discuss the day's events are Mr. Harmon, Mrs. Botting, and Mrs. O'Brien. The Main Office is a place where many faculty members found it easy to strike up a conversation.

New Shaders

Each year there are new members added to the Maple Shade High School Faculty. Because of these new teachers, many questions arise. Basically students and other faculty members would like to know what these new comers think of Maple Shade High School.

According to Miss Korch, the students are very open and friendly, fellow teachers are very helpful, and the athletic events here are very exciting. On the other hand, both Miss Hart and Ms. Cavallo get more out of M.S.H.S. then new experiences with students and the staff. For them this school carries the memories of their high school careers. To them M.S.H.S. is their "alma mater" and teaching here is a dream come true.

It seems that overall these new teachers feel that both the students and faculty of Maple Shade are wonderful people; therefore, they are proud to make M.S.H.S. their new home.

Advising Chris English on her future, is Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Smith is a very active guidance counselor who takes great care in her work.

To help out his calss, Mr. Mazza hung up some hallway decorations. Mr. Mazza did much work for the class of 1987.

Judy White . . . Typing

The cafeteria staff provides a varied wholesome lunch everyday of the school year. Without these women the students and staff would be without sustenance.

Responsible for keeping the school orderly and clean, Mrs. Kane does a wonderful job.

Zeroxing and colating all the paper work, Mrs. Reader can be found inundated with reams of paper to be processed for teachers and administrators.

Keeping the library running smoothly and efficiently, Mrs. Alfano with the help of Mrs. Rigers does an excellent job.

Helping out immensely, Mrs. Trumpy, Mrs. Zak and Mrs. Sokowski act as aids for various departments.

What would we do without the help and support of our community? For one thing, we wouldn't have a yearbook! Many businesses contributed toward the creation of this yearbook just as we need them to support us, they need us to support them.

With the efforts of many, our community can flourish — Maple Shade.

First Fidelity helps you reach your goal— whatever your game.

To come out on top you have to have the right people behind you. Whether it's your coach, your trainer or your teammates. The right teamwork can mean the difference between winning and losing. The same is true of your bank.

That's why more people choose FIRST FIDELITY® than any other bank in New Jersey. Although we are New Jersey's largest bank, we aren't too big to take a special interest in your personal needs.

At First Fidelity Bank our first concern is you.

COLLOPHON

The 1986 Retrospect, Out of Many . . . One, was published through G. Earl Nichols Associates in Pennsauken, New Jersey.

The cover is yellow silkscreen with Letraset lettering in blue. Cover art was drawn by Chris Figeroa.

A total of 200 pages were printed on #1-80lb. coated stock. Sixteen pages were on special paper. All type is Helvetica. Chart-pack and Letraset decorative typeface was used throughout the book.

The photography was mainly covered by G. Earl Nichols Associates. Our staff camera is a Pentax K-1000. All black and white pictures were taken on both Kodak Tri-X ASA 400 and Kodak Plus-X ASA 125 and were printed on Kodak paper. All black and white pictures were processed by G. Earl Nichols Associates. Color pictures were also taken on Kodak film and some were donated by students. G. Earl Nichols Associates photographed all underclass, senior, faculty, and club portraits.

Students and faculty ordered copies of 27.50 each. Unfortunately, the 1985 Retrospect was not submitted to Columbia for judging.

Two students observe a yearbook advertisement. Without the patronage of the students, faculty community, there would be no yearbook.

As the deadline approaches, Kelly Urban works gently at stickering underclassmen pictures. It's a tough job, but somebody has to do it!

Sample copy sheets lay waiting to be proofread. Yearbook typists must type all stories and captions on these copy sheets.

Triplicating a people section layout, Michele ciullo tries to keep up. At times, the yearbook seemed as if it would never end.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I'd like to thank Mrs. Andy Fingerman whose constant help and dedication pulled us through a very short-staffed year. She made us understand the meaning of "deadlines" and other minor details! Thanks, Shnucks!! Secondly, for his efficiency and undying energy Bob Lamb deserved a big round of applause. Although he was technically a section editor, he took on more than his share of work and acted more as a co-editor. Thank you, Bob, and Good Luck as next year's Editor-in-chief!

The next few people are really lifesavers—the staff. Small in number but rich in talent and energy, they were responsible for completing all the "dirty work" like checking and backing pictures, typing, drawing triplicates, and searching for lost films. Thanks to John Capers and Bob Buckley, who got conned into joining the staff by Bob Lamb. Now you know never to talk home with him again! Kelly Urban and Jennifer Krug did a lot of the clerical work, such as writing out bags, putting pictures in order, and writing captions. They caught on quickly and never gave up on us. Our artists, Karen King and Barbara Hannigan, are responsible for about 75% of the copy in the entire book. An especially big thank you to Karen and Kelly for doing the index! Even though our core staff was small—the above mentioned names—I couldn't have asked for a better bunch of people. Thanks guys!

A major portion of the stories in the yearbook can be attributed to Mrs. Fingerman's 12 Honors English Class. I'm sure they'll be happy they volunteered once they see their work in print. I'd especially like to thank Steve Chranowski who did more than his share of stories, and Christine English, who wrote great captions for the newspaper section. Again, thank-you everyone.

Credit for the cover is attributed to Chris Figueroa who was unfortunate enough to sit behind me in Psychology class. He also did the art for the Student Life section and the senior ad. You're an excellent artist, Chris!

Next, a big hug and kiss to Tom Bright who had to put up with me in Study Hall. He never complained when I piled up the captions in front of him. Also, Liz Samson helped with some last minute details.

The person responsible for us making our third deadline is Sue from Nichols. She came in the nick of time when Chris F. and I messed up about 15 rolls of film, and she re-took all of our shots. Also, she developed them super quick. Thanks very much, you're a lifesaver Sue!

Other contributors to the yearbook were: Laurie Paulus, who helped out with the People Section; Judy Zak, who worked on Student Life; Mike Barrett who wrote some captions; and Ray Kassekert and Pat Dealany who took some pictures. Every little bit helps.

For the newspaper section, pictures were taken from Time, Mademoiselle, and Teen magazines. I think it added a nice touch to our book.

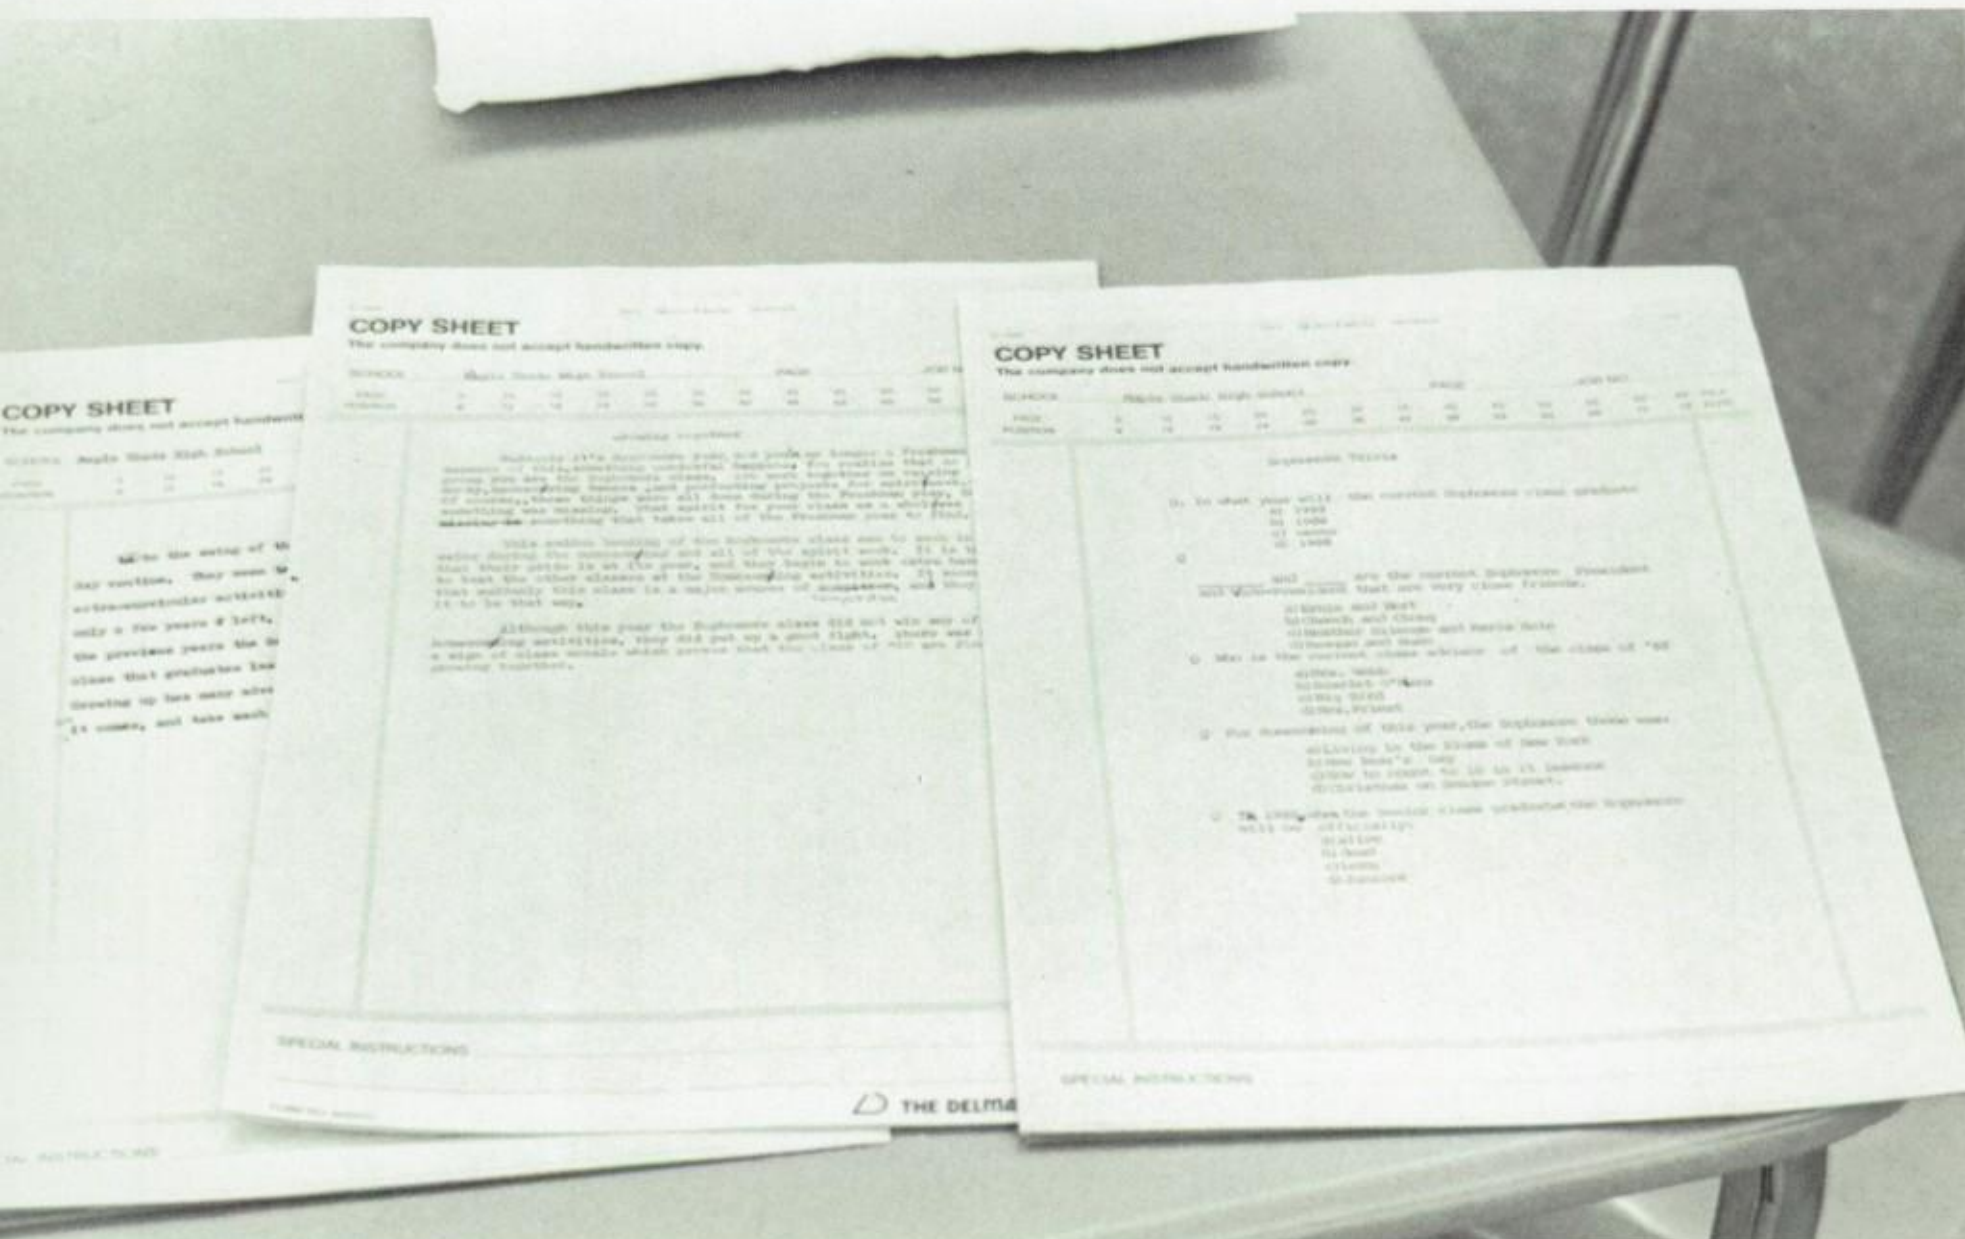

Finally, I'd like to thank Mr. Duffy, the faculty, and the coaches who made our job a little easier with their cooperation. You helped us make the 1986 yearbook the success it is.

Again Thank You!

Sincerely,

Michèle Pascuillo

P.S. Mrs. Fingerman, we couldn't have done it without you. Thank you for always pushing. Finally, we made a deadline! Pizza time!

GRADUATION

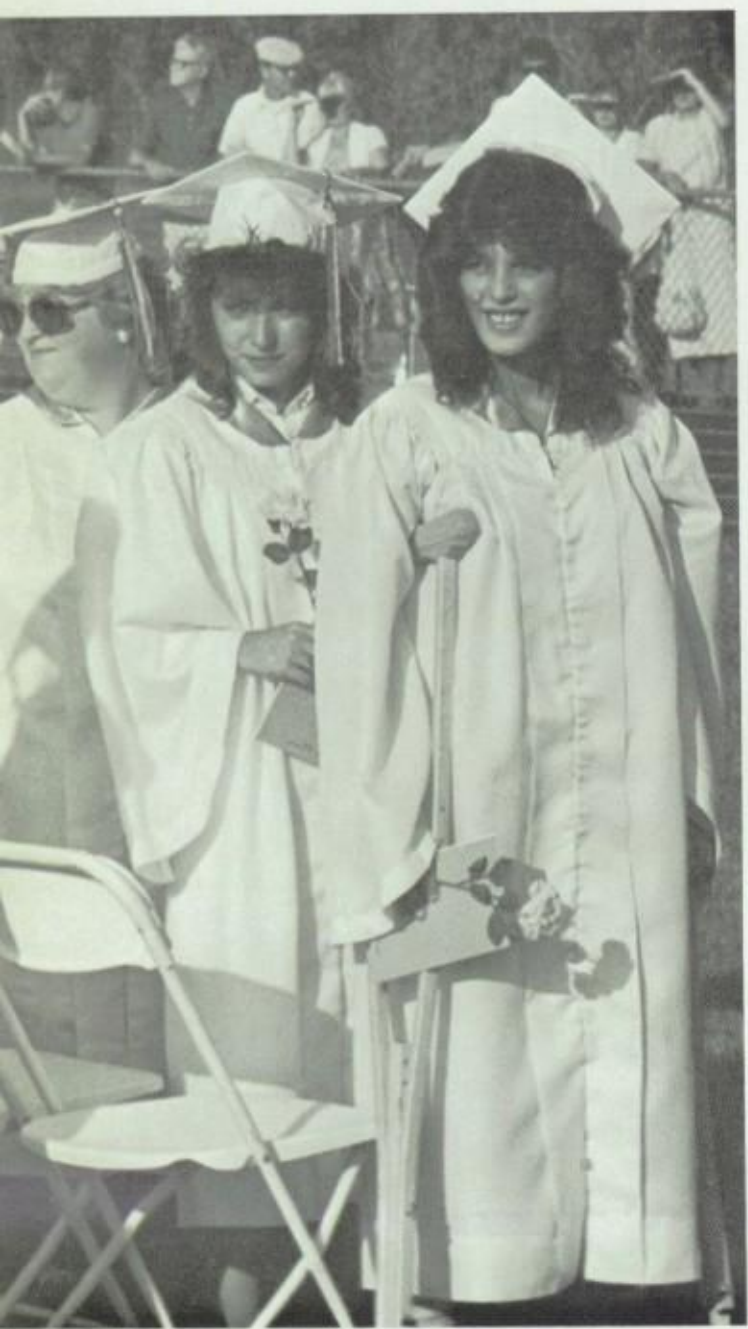

Another year comes to a close with graduation taking place on Friday, June 20th, 1986. The spring sports have all come to an end with much time and effort put out to try to achieve winning records. The spring season ended with these records:

SPORT	COACH	RECORD
Golf	Mr. Gilch	2-14
Track	Mr. Mitchell	5- 5
Softball	Ms. Havens	8- 8
Lacrosse	Mr. Bianco	5-11
Baseball	Mr. Varsaci	12- 6

"Oliver" was a big success. The actors' and actresses' hard work really paid off. The Florida trip was also a great success, and the senior class was congratulated for their good conduct.

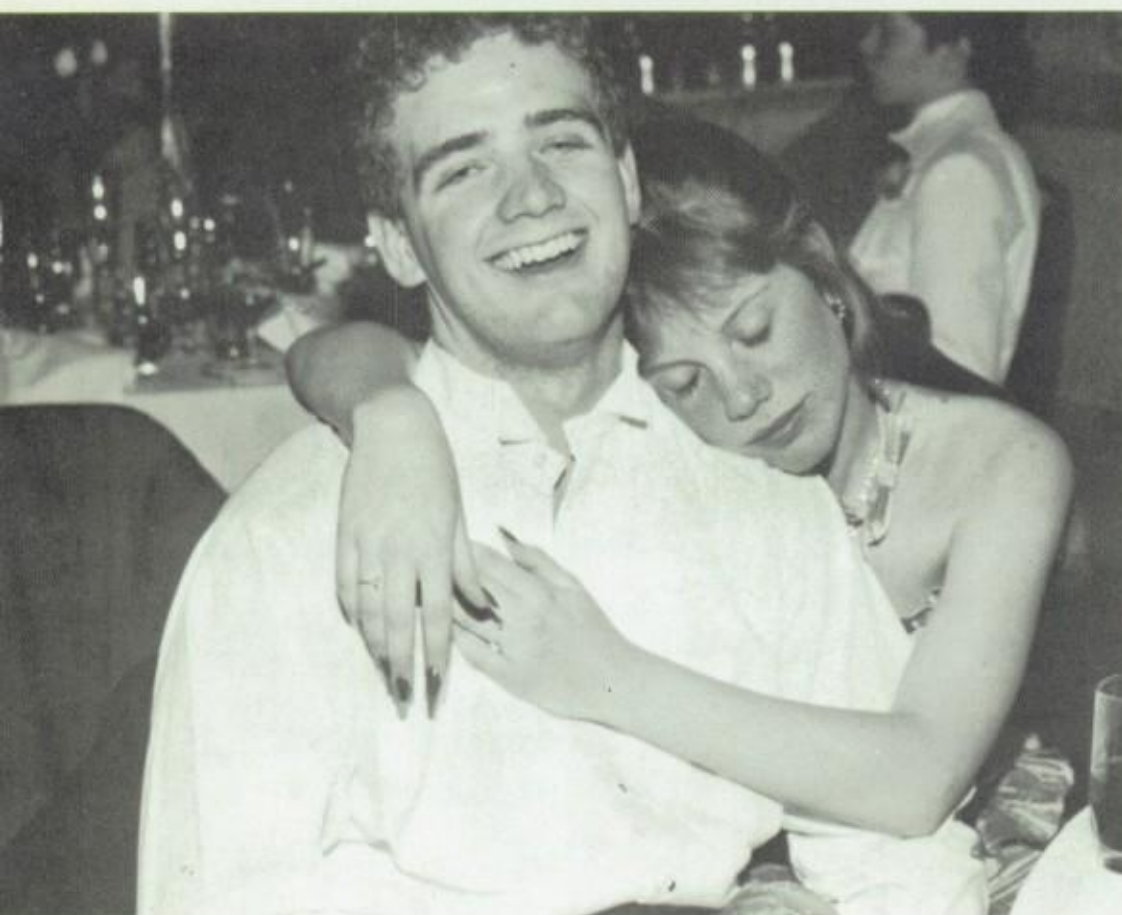

As pomp and circumstances echoes through the air, the hot sun beats down on heavy gowns of blue and white, and much anticipation is felt throughout the field where the senior members of the football team once played. The ceremony is over, the once crowded bleachers are now barren, and the only sound heard is a gentle breeze rustling through papers left by the past occupants of the football field. Graduation is over, four years of many lives are now fading memories, tears have been shed, and another milestone has passed. THE FUTURE IS ALL THAT IS LEFT.
